

St. Theresa's Crusaders win triple title

The St. Theresa's Crusaders won the Midland Volleyball Club Invitational Boys' volleyball tournament crown in all three divisions Saturday at Midland Secondary School.

It marked the second consecutive year the Crusaders have won the triple title.

The senior Crusaders, ranked fourth in the province, dominated their division of the six-school event.

After winning their round-robin preliminary, the seniors overcame a threat from Midland, in the semi-finals winning 15-5, 9-15, 15-10. In the final, they handled St. Roberts from Thornhill easily, taking it in two straight, 15-7, 15-10.

The junior Crusaders were a little more inconsistent throughout their round-robin, finishing second in their three-team pool.

They rallied in the semi-finals, however, to get by North 15-9, 9-15, 15-0.

The third game seemed to bolster the Crusaders' confidence for the final against MSS, and St. Theresa's had their second title of the day after a pair of 15-8 victories.

The St. Theresa's midget squad finished atop their round-robin pool and dumped Parry Sound 15-3 in a one-game semi-final. Midland were the opponents again in the final, and the midget Crusaders had to rally for a 12-15, 15-10, 15-10 championship effort. The triple victory was particularly special for the high-spirited

Crusaders: senior coach Rick Presse, a driving force in the school's volleyball program, became the proud father of Nicole Michelle -- his first child -- the day of the tournament. Presse's senior squad were fresh off an undefeated day in a matchup at MSS last Thursday between local schools.

St. Theresa's won all six of their games in the senior round-robin, MSS and Elmvale District High School won three apiece, and Ecole Secondaire Penetanguishene Secondary School couldn't get anything going and ended up without a win.

In the junior division the same day, Elmvale, Midland and St. Theresa's each scored three wins and ESPSS was shut out again.

The midget Crusaders had to settle for a back seat in their round-robin, winning three games against four apiece for Elmvale and MSS. ESPSS won once in that competition.
