Current economic crisis concerns MP

Doug Lewis, MP for Simcoe North and deputy opposition house leader announced today, he will be holding a town hall meeting in Midland to deal with current economic concerns including the budget.

The meeting will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 20 in the Midland Town Council Chambers beginning at 3:30 p.m. "Our country's sorry economic situation is currently the number one concern of the public", stated Lewis, "and I feel that residents of Simcoe North need this opportunity to voice those concerns".

He added, "The comments that I receive will help me to press the Liberal Government into bringing forward positive economic policies which will benefit instead of harm my constituents in Simcoe North."

Collingwood conference

Town of Collingwood is to host the 29th annual Organization of Small Urban Municipalities annual conference from May 6-8. Midland council, Monday night, was informed conference arrangements are now being completed from both the municipal and private sectors who have asked to make presentations.
