

Skill technicians

It takes leadership and teamwork to make a crack rescue unit. Both were evident last Friday afternoon at the end of the two day seminar on auto extrication held here in Midland. A simulated rescue was staged by instructors Bernie Walsh and Dave Sherratt of the Fire Marshal's Office, complete with "victims" trapped in the wreckage. In the pictures shown above, a team is shown removing the roof from the vehicle.

Things to do this summer

This summer, the Midland Family YMCA in Little Lake Park is offering a Sport's Day

Camp for children ages 9-13. There are two sessions being offered, the first during the week of July 12-16 and the second during the week of Aug. 3-6.

The hours will be 9 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. daily, during which the children will have an introduction to various sports such as racquetball, sailing, archery, orienteering and golf. The children will be accompanied by two sports specialists and qualified instructors for each sport.

This program only accommodates 15 children per session so please register now. If you are interested and would like more information please contact the "Y" and ask for Rick LeClair or Lori Beveridge.

The Midland YMCA will be reaching out into the community again this year to help area youngsters with the finer points of swimming and water safety. The Y's Outreach program will use private neighbourhood pools for the two-week instruction sessions, which begin July 5 and wind up Aug. 27.

For further information contact Beveridge at 526-7828.

Work's done

Edna Racine of Midland became a celebrity recently with Techform Products Limited, Penetanguishene, by being the first person to retire from that company. She was one of a few employees who have been with the firm since its early beginnings. It was an emotion-filled occasion. Edna was well liked both by the company and fellow employees. She is shown with gifts received from Techform and from the Employees Social Club. Edna and her husband Larry have retreated to their cottage permanently.

IN THE NEWS

The universally popular game of basketball owes its existence to James Naismith of Almonte, Ontario. He actually sat down and invented it one day, making basketball the only world-famous sport to spring full-blown from one man's mind.
