

Mutual admiration expressed in exchange of letters

Members of Huronia Players in a letter to Mayor Moreland Lynn of Midland thanked the town for allowing the Huronia Players to store their properties in the former ARC building on William Street.

The following is Mayor Lynn's reply: "Thank you for your kind letter of June 12th. expressing appreciation of the Players to the Town for the use of the former ARC building on William Street.

"I am delighted that this arrangement has worked out well for the Huronia Players, and hopefully sometime in the not too distant future the Town of Midland can have a community theatre with all the facilities required under one roof.

"I think this past season was the first in several years when I was unable to attend all the performances of the Players, but did catch Arsenic and Old Lace. It was outstandingly done, and I continue to marvel at the quality of performances put on by the Huronia Players. "May I wish you every continued success."

Mark July 10 on your calendar

Midland law-maker have been invited by the board and membership of the Midland Town Centre Business Improvement Area to attend the official opening of the BIA's newly revitalized downtown core on Saturday morning, July

10. The official ceremonies are planned for 10:15 a.m. just prior to the commencement of the Shonecti portage down King Street to the town dock.

Premier William Davis is expected to attend the function(s) along with Minister of Housing Claude Bennett, Simcoe East MPP Al McLean and Simcoe North MP Doug Lewis. Miss Midland Town Centre, yet to be crowned, will also be present for this red-letter event.
