Church to mark its 145th anniversary

ALL SYSTEMS are "go" for yet another significant celebration in Penetanguishene.

This time famed St. James on-the-Lines Anglican Church will mark its 146th anniversary on Sunday, July 25.

The occasion will be an impressive affair with soldiers from the historic Naval and Military Establishments attending as has been the custom for many years.

They'll also present a military drill demonstration afterwards in front of the church.

The anniversary service is scheduled for a 10 a.m. start.

Former rector of the church Rev. Sidney J. Maddock will be the guest preacher for this most memorable event.

It's one summer event you'll not want to miss for indeed it will be history in the making.

Dangerous situation

YET ANOTHER pilot has had to land his plane in the dark at Huronia Airport as a result of the tri-municipal facility developing runway lighting problems.

The pilot was returning to North Simcoe late at night following a round-trip to Sherbrooke, Que.

It's not the first time the airport runway lighting system hasn't been functional and it's not the first time a pilot has taken his life into his own hands and landed at the unlit facility.

However it points up again the continued problems that have been plaguing the airport in recent years.

Furthermore there doesn't seem to be an end to the confusion and petty politics that seem to highlight the airport which is funded by Midland, Penetanguishene and Tiny Township.

We repeat what we have often said here before, the three municipalities should get out of the airport business once and for all and sell the operation to a private concern.

The airport isn't paying for itself, it never has and it never will and that's the facts...

Staunch supporter wins our respect

NICK BOUDOURIS, owner of the World Famous Dock Lunch restaurant in Penetanguishene and a major sponsor of area athletic teams and civic functions earlier this month acquired the Penetanguishene Kings Junior "C" Hockey Club.

"Nick the Greek" is a highly regarded businessman in North Simcoe but he is more than that... he is a staunch supporter of Penetanguishene and has proven it over and over again by rolling up his sleeves (an loosening his wallet) and getting down to brass tacks.

Nick, it seems, can be counted on at any hour of the day or night to help a worthy cause.

If any person can be said to constitute a symbol of man's compassion for his fellow man and for his community and an impelling willingness to go to his help, that person is Nick Boudouris.

So it seems appropriate that he takes over ownership of our town's exciting Jr. "C" hockey club.

Both will be winners this season and for many years to come as will those who support the team this winter both here at home and on the road.

Penetanguishene is most fortunate that it has such a community-minded booster the likes of Nick Boudouris.

Good luck Nick. Good luck Kings.

Special supplement wins praise

Dear Editor:

I have just been forwarded a copy of The Salvation Army Anniversary supplement you put out on June 23, 1982.

What a fine piece of work this is and how very helpful this will be in promoting an understanding of The Army throughout the community you serve. On behalf of The Salvation Army administration, my deep appreciation to you, sir, for a project well done.

May God bless you and your staff.

Yours sincerely,

—Wilfred H. Hammond

Chamber says, 'Thanks'

Dear Editor:

Would you be kind enough to publish these letters in your paper as soon as possible.

Thank you.

Secretary,
Penetanguishene
Chamber of Commerce

Dear Diane:

Words cannot express how extremely grateful we are for your untiring devotion and commitment to Penetanguishene and its very successful Centennial.

Without your great skills of organization and management, Penetanguishene could not have undertaken such an enormous task. Because of your insight and planning, every age level was able to enjoy some aspect of the many celebrations that were held.

It was very heartwarming to see so many people thoroughly enjoy themselves in various activities. As Al Tucker wrote, "Penetanguishene, welcome back your sons and daughters" and we feel that because of all your efforts the countless number of people who did return home for the different activities were extremely glad they did.

Again, Diane, thank you so very much for everything that you did and for bringing us "closer together" so that we could all learn so much more about our beautiful town and enjoy its many charms.

Thanks and we love you!

Sincerely,

—John O'Hara
President

Penetanguishene Chamber of Commerce

Dear Mr. Tucker:

We would like to thank you so very much again for your beautiful Centennial Song, "Cent Ans Pour Penetanguishene". We feel that you truly captured the spirit of Penetanguishene and hopefully your words and music will live on until the next Centennial.

It is very heartwarming to have our beautiful town come to life in a song and we certainly agree with you that "it's with pride we remember today", the many good times and fond memories Penetanguishene has given us.

Again we thank you for giving us the opportunity to learn more about our beautiful little town and also for helping to make the Centennial such a successful undertaking.

Sincerely,

—John O'Hara

A 'haunting' proposal

Dear Editor:

Halloween this year falls on a Sunday. As much of what Halloween represents is contrary to worship on the Lord's Day The Salvation Army is attempting to encourage all area municipalities to pass resolutions declaring that Halloween celebrations be held on Saturday Oct. 30.

Another contributing factor would be the extra hour of daylight for the children due to the fact we do not turn our clocks back till later that night.

The purpose of this letter is to solicit your support and that of your readers (listeners) to this proposal.

Sincerely yours,
—R. Braddock,
Lieutenant,
Midland
Salvation Army
