

All but over for another year

The Canada Employment Centre for Students would like to thank the community for its continued support. Although our area has had some rough times, the student centre was able to assist many people in finding that needed student helper. We and the students appreciated any type of job that came in, from window washers to lawncutters.

Starting Sept. 1, students will be available for part time and odd jobs through the Canada Employment Centre, 525 Dominion Avenue. The employment centre's services are free, fast and efficient.

Feel free to contact the centre at 526-2224. As always, we at the Canada Employment Centre for Students appreciate the kindness and support from everyone in our area.

For ladies only

Silver mug for best Homecoming '82 baby

An interdenominational ladies Christian fellowship group has been in operation in Midland since 1978.

It meets twice a month. Its next meeting on Tuesday, August 31st at 1:30 p.m. will be held at the home of Mrs. T. Grant, 390 Cornell Drive, Midland.

This particular meeting will include a time of prayer, a teaching on the holiness of God's name but most of the time will be spent to plan and set up a good program for the next 12 months. Anyone is invited.

You don't have to have any church affiliation to belong.

Call Tony von Wegner at 526-8557 for further information.

Slow moving vehicles, whether motor-driven farm machinery or horse-drawn carriages, can be deceptive to motorists, says the Ontario Safety League.

Photo packages, a silver mug and lots of affectionate admiration -- these await those junior Midlanders who participate in the Villa Community Care Homecoming '82 baby contest.

"Our residents love children," says volunteer coordinator Lucy Markham. "For two years now, youngsters from Miss Sauve's Parkview Grade 3 and 4 class have visited on a regular basis, and the folk here can hardly wait till they start coming again. Meanwhile, they are looking forward to the Homecoming baby parade and taking a very active interest in its organization."

That interest includes providing funding for the prizes. The Villa residents' council has provided money earned through their craft and bake sales, and winners in various categories will be awarded Photo packs which include two 8 x 10 photographs plus three 5 x 7 snaps, ten wallet sized prints and three miniatures. The overall winner will be given a portrait-sized photo as well. Alex Jarlette of the Villa has donated a silver mug inscribed with "Best Baby, Oct. 2, 1982" which the overall winner will take home in his chubby fist.

A member of the Homecoming '82 committee will be on hand to give the winner a small Middy bear. The babies will be judged in three age groups--newborn to six months, six months to one year and one year to two years.

Just like the Miss World competitions, a baby will be judged on more than simply a pretty face. Points and prizes will be given for the cutest babies (boy and girl) but there is also a pair of prizes for the best dressed lad and lassie. Finally, the talent aspect of the competition will be recognized when judges choose the infant with the longest and loudest cry.

Points in all these categories will be totalled to arrive at an overall prize winner.

"There's no fee for entering the contest" explains Mrs. Markham. "It's a fun thing, and our residents are looking forward to taking an active part in the proceedings as well as enjoying the promenade of competing babies...We plan for prize winning ribbons to be awarded by residents.

Judges for the contest are supremely well qualified. Doug Lewis and Allan MacLean are alleged to be old hands at kissing and holding babies. Dr. Merrilyn McTavish and Dr. R. B. Lal both know healthy cries when they hear them, and Isabel Jones RN is a former organizer of baby contests at the Fall Fairs of yesteryear.

Mary Gibson of the Homecoming '82 committee will provide commentary for the baby parade, an event which organizers suspect may be howlacious.

Babies who wish to register for the competition should ask their parents to call Lucy Markham at the Villa Community Care centre (526-4238).
