

Car show packs 'em in

by Bob Murray
Midland Centennial Arena was transformed into an automotive wonderland over the Labour Day Weekend with the staging of the first annual "Take It To The Streets" car Show.

Producers of the show, Larry and Wendy Quinn of Midland Bay Woods along with their sponsors and all of the competitors were congratulated for a fine display of automotive hardware.

Forty-eight vehicles of all shapes, styles, sizes and colours were put on display on the arena floor for viewing by the public.

The three-day extravaganza was a welcome addition to the many other attractions to see in Huronia while car buffs of all ages hope that the event will become a regular annual affair on the summer calendar.

Cars in all categories from antique, stock, rods, competition, custom and radical as well as trucks and high powered go-carts were entered in the competition.

Pains-taking care and showmanship are involved in an effort of this type and both were evident everywhere you looked.

Many hours of meticulous cleaning and polishing by the vehicle owners were in evidence as judges carefully scrutinized each and every vehicle for show points.

Numerous trophies were taken home Monday after the judging was completed. The Molsons Award for the best vehicle in the show went to Rick Parker of Orillia for his dazzling '55 FORD F100 pickup.

The Peoples' Choice awards went to Carl Lye of Coldwater for his 78 FIREBIRD TRANS AM 4X4, and Clint Truax of Midland for his gleaming '34 LINCOLN.

Other award winners were John Leonard of Wyebridge for best engine appearance on his '23 Ford T pickup, Peter Prystasz of Acton for best 50's original for his '55 Chev Belair, Carl Lye of Coldwater for best display for his 78 Trans Am 4X4, best paint design went to Bill Dickey of Orillia for his 75 Dodge van. Best competition vehicle hardware went to Gary Asselin of Midland for his '71 Vega panel wagon.

Many other awards too numerous to mention here were presented in other categories.

The top 10 vehicles in random order were Bill Dickey of Orillia '75 Dodge van, Rick Parker of Orillia '55 Ford pickup, Steve Petroff of Victoria Harbour '75 Chev pickup, Gord Stewart of Wyebridge '24 Ford "T", John Dundas of Midland '65 Cutlass convertible, Clint Truax of Midland '34 Lincoln, Ralph Godkin of Midland '67 Chev Camaro, Carl Lye of Coldwater '78 Trans Am 4X4, Gary Asselin of Midland '71 Vega wagon and Barry Allan of Acton '69 Camaro.

If THE bomb hits 'We're all going together'

by Carol Dimock

Although David Peterson, leader of the Opposition for Ontario, considers Nuclear disarmament the most fundamental issue of our age, Tiny Township's Reeve Morris Darby wonders "if it concerns us."

"I don't know how important we should consider this", Darby stated at Wednesday's council meeting. "Does it apply to us locally?"

These remarks were made in response to Peterson's letter encouraging Tiny to join the over 35 Ontario municipalities that have decided to include a question on nuclear disarmament on the municipal election ballot this fall.

The letter clarified the confusion surrounding the legality of the proposed referendum. The Attorney General has stated that including the question on the municipal ballot would probably not lead to legal complications.

68 members of the Ontario Legislature, representing all three political parties, recently endorsed a resolution supporting a UN-sponsored world referendum on nuclear disarmament.

"If there's going to be a nuclear war, we're all going to go together anyway," said Darby. In answer to the question of what council should do about the letter, Deputy-reeve John Lackie suggested, "Let's file it."
