

Hurrahs for Hawks!

Ontario Hydro Hawks, winless in the regular season of Pen-Mid Touch Football, electrified everyone by snatching the "C" division championship last Sunday. They took the Midnight Express to success, winning 32-8 in the snow.

Posties help Santa

This Christmas, Santa Claus will be assisted in answering children's letters by more than 4,000 volunteers in Ontario—Canada Post Corporation employees and pensioners, and members of senior citizen's groups and service clubs.

They're all part of the Santa Claus Letter Program, a big drive by the post office to help all the children across Canada receive a response to their letters. It's estimated some 12,000 volunteers will take part nationally.

The program was announced recently by R. Michael Warren, president of Canada Post Corporation. He said a short while ago, a radio commentator broadcast an "open letter" to him urging Canada Post to do something special that would enhance the spirit of Christmas.

Mr. Warren said: "This generated thousands of letters from people right across the country. Also included was one from a certain gentleman at the North Pole, which we at Canada Post feel meets the request and at the same time gives Santa the needed helping hand that he asked for.

"So, I'm happy to announce that a growing number of Canada Post employees and pensioners, along with members of senior citizens groups and service clubs across Canada have volunteered to act as Santa's helpers in his efforts to answer the letters mailed to his workshop at the North Pole."

Children should write to Santa at his North Pole address:

Santa Claus
North Pole
Canada
HOH OHO

All youngsters are reminded to be sure to mail their letters early and write their return address on the outside of the envelope, including their own postal code. It is important to use the North Pole postal code, "HOH OHO" on Santa's address.

"This is the time of year when all youngsters begin to be touched by the magic of Christmas" said Warren. "The response of our employees and senior citizens and service club members to the Santa Claus Letter Program has been tremendous...we are all pleased to be Santa's helpers. Hopefully this will help make Christmas a little bit brighter for everyone this year."

Raiders-Oldtimers face-off

Sunday at the Centennial Arena, Midland Oldtimers tangled with the Athenian Raiders fastball team in what had to be one of the better hockey games seen in recent years. (Who's he trying to fool!) They couldn't decide who was best so it ended tied 8-8. Oldtimers then hosted a Grey Cup tea at Harvey Benoit's plantation.

Many areas of research look promising for the future - work in restoring radiation sensitivity to cancer cells, identifying populations at high risk for cancer, and studying viruses as possible causes of disease. Such programs need steady financial refuelling if answers are to be found.
