

Good News Courier ready to hit the road

by Ron Johnson
The Good News
Courier is on the road

again, to steal a phrase from Willie Nelson.
Stretching 60 feet in length, not counting the four-wheel-drive vehicle used to pull the trailer.

The Courier is a "rolling bookstore" containing religious reading
material, records,
tapes, bibles, and
souvenirs.

There is a children's section, a French language section, a record and music section, and a fair-sized library of general religious books.

Manning the Good News Courier is Barry Kentner, a Midlander whose wife runs Martin's Christian Supply store in Edwards Village Square in downtown Midland.

Kentner is planning on touring the northern regions of Ontario

during the summer months. Previously, the Courier travelled Ontario's highways and byways only from July to September, focusing mainly on the various bible camps.

This year, Kentner hopes to visit many of the municipalities in Northern Ontario by contacting the local churches ahead of time and then bringing the bookmobile to the towns. He hopes to be out among the people from April to October, depending on how the weather co-operates.

Kentner hopes to at least cover his expenses while touring the land bringing God's word to the population. The real reward comes not from the financial end of the business, but from the knowledge that he is spreading the word of God, and in some cases bringing bringing God into peoples' lives for the first time.

With his new appointment, Alan is pleased to now offer his customers the wide range of quality-built General Motors cars and trucks available at Stoneleigh Motors Hwy 93 location. You can reach Alan at 526-3724 when you need advice or assistance in selecting a new or good clean, low mileage used car.

Elmvale's plans for 83

by Reeve Ken Knox Taxes for the operation of the Village of Elmvale will not be increased for the year 1983. This does not mean that your taxes will remain the same, unfortunately, since your Municipal Council has no control over the County and Education

costs.
For the last seven years, the municipal mill rate has not been increased. It remains at: Commercial and business—17.23 mills, Residential—14.65
mills.

In 1977, the municipal mill rate was 42.38 per cent of the total tax bill, but in 1982, it had fallen to 32.39 per cent of the total.

Total cost to operate the Village for the year 1983 will be $386,657, with $251,203 being grants in lieu of taxes, provincial grants, sewer charges. With a 1982 surplus of $35,625, it leaves $126,117 to be raised by taxation.

Some of the projects scheduled for this year are:

1. Improved drainage on George Street and Simcoe Street and possibly some drainage on John Street.
2. Approximately 3,000 or more feet of new sidewalk.
3. The purchase of a typewriter.
4. Construction of a pavilion at Bishop Park.
5. Commitment of $3,000 to the Arena Capital Reserve Fund.
6. The purchase of a welder.

Midland isn't RCA's only Canadian location

If and when RCA's
Midland plant is sold, RCA will still have in Canada a colour television assembly plant, in Prescott; a solid state component plant in Quebec; its sales, service, and distribution networks;
and its record division.

Denton Clark,
president of RCA Canada Ltd., also said last week he expects that if the Japanese company with which RCA is negotiating buys RCA's closed Midland plant, that the new owners would continue to build colour television picture tubes, and also to manufacture a greater number of display tubes, such as are used in data
displays and game
displays.

Because of automation that would be introduced by the potential new owner, only about 600 employees would be needed. Clark believes.
