St. T's qualify

Both St. Theresa's junior and senior boys' volleyball teams made it to the semi-finals of the GBSSA "AA" volleyball championship, held in Aurora, on Wednesday.

St. T's juniors lost their opening match of the day to Woodbridge, in two straight games. The scores were 15-3 and 15-10. St. T's started off slow and the Woodbridge team took full advantage of that fact.

Their second match was against Parry Sound. Crusaders played much better in this match and took the Sound club in two straight games, defeating them 15-5 and 15-10. This qualified them for the semi-finals, against Stouffville.

In the semi's, both teams were very evenly matched. Stouffville were a much bigger and more experienced team. Stouffville took the match two games to one, by scores of 10-15, 15-8 and 12-15. St. T's demonstrated some excellent defense, in particular, the digging of Pat Marchand. All of the six starters performed admirably, both in offense and defense and in overall play.

St. T's seniors first match was against St. Roberts. Crusaders' took the match two straight, despite trailing in the second game 14-4. The final scores were 15-6 and 16-14.

Crusaders' next opponents were the host Aurora school. St. T's did away with them in two straight games also, by scores of 15-4 and 15-5. That victory put the Crusaders' into the semi-finals against Parry Sound.

In the semis', Parry

Sound proved to be no match for the mighty St. T's squad. The double blue disposed of Parry Sound, 15-2 and 15-11.

The finals saw St. Theresa's up against Eastview, from Barrie. St. T's once again dominated their opponents, taking the match and the championship, in two straight games. The scores were 15-2 and 15-5. Setters John Bald and Owen Quilty were outstanding. They varied the attack and were able to read the opposition. Jim Newton did a superb job in the back court defense and Karl Fournier had an all-round great tournament.

St. Theresa's next stop is the OFSSA championships, on Nov. 18 and 19, being held at West Humber and North Albion Collegiate.

Consolation eludes Redskins

slowed the game down, making it difficult for the Redskins' to gain any momentum.

Penetang's accomplishments oversee the loss in the consolation final, to Alliston. PSS

Baseball blues

The Annual General Meeting of the MMBA is Sunday, Nov. 13, 7:15 p.m. in the boardroom of the Centennial Arena.

It is time to elect the 1984 Executive in order that preparations be made for next season.

This past year, the executive was extremely shorthanded and several divisions did not operate efficiently as a result.

1984 looks even bleaker as some executive members will not be returning and so far no one appears interested in assuming the responsibilities.

The more manpower recruited, will enable every division to be organized more smoothly as each person would have fewer responsibilities and therefore more time to accomplish any duties.

There are many problems with the MMBA as many of you reading this know. The difficulties will not solve themselves, but unless you are willing to "get involved" the problems will continue to grow and multiply.

Now is the time to act, not talk. Next year's season, if there is to be one, is in your hands.

If the numbers at the meeting are few, the Executive of 1983 may assume that the parents of this town do not wish for baseball to continue in the town of Midland.
