

Creemore outlasts Cleaners, 7-5

It was a hard fought hockey game for Midland French Dry Cleaners Minor Pee-wees last Friday night in Creemore.

Midland lost 7-5. Last year's OMHA divisional champs realized they were up against some stiff opposition as they began the game with the big and rough team from Creemore.

Only the speed and quality of the Midland crew kept them in the game as the home team continuously attacked the Midland defense.

The first two periods saw two goals by Creemore halfway through the first and one in the closing seconds of the second frame.

A pep-talk by Midland coach Jim Lunnie resulted in a Midland goal by Craig Dempsey, assisted by Chris Kinnear and Chris Diesveles at the opening of the third period, but this only angered the Creemore team, who responded with four unanswered goals.

Midland pocketed four goals by Mike Boyd, Jeff Duval, Chris Kinnear and Craig Dempsey, with only six minutes left in the game to come within one goal. Creemore ended the game with only three minutes remaining by slipping in two more goals.

On Saturday, the Midland squad hosted Wasaga Pee-wees, walking away with a victory.

Wasaga opened the scoring, but Midland soon came back on a good shot by Doug Lunnie. The first period ended tied 1-1.

Jeff Duval had an unassisted goal and goals by Scott Cooper and Craig Dempsey left Midland ahead 4-1 at the end of the second.

Midland got two more in the third by Scott Cooper and Doug Lunnie to give them the easy win.

Next game is this Saturday against Stayner at the Centennial Arena.

Game time is set for 4:30 p.m.

Bantams squeeze out 4-3 win over Wasaga

Midland Indusmin Minor Bantams hosted Wasaga Beach Bantams at the Centennial Arena, coming out 4-3 winners on Friday.

Wasaga Beach took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Ray Edwards.

At 4:59 of the second period Midland narrowed the gap on a slapper by Bill Mitchell from Chris Walser. Brent Macey blasted one in to tie the game at 8:21 and with seconds left in the period, Ted French gave Midland a 3-2 lead going into the third.

Both sides had many chances in the third, but Midland outlasted Wasaga. Midland went ahead to stay on a shot by Bill Mitchell seconds after Wasaga's Bill Gowley tied it up.

This was Midland's first regular season game after a 1-1-1 record in three exhibition matches.

Nov. 5: "D" day. That's right, deer season opens throughout Huronia District and southern Ontario come Monday.

Northern Ontario also opens its bush to deer hunters on this day with an added incentive of more antlerless permits.

In the Parry Sound district antlerless permits have been bounced by 300 percent. In '84, 1,750 hunters will be able to shoot antlerless deer as compared to 449 in the previous year.

Henry Kujala, wildlife management officer in the Parry Sound District stated, "We are below, but near the carrying capacity of the land which is the desired level to maintain the population. This level ensures maximum production of fawns and the number of antlerless permits has been increased to stabilize the herd."

He also cautions, "Hunters faced with a choice between taking a doe and a fawn should take the fawn. With the doe killed, the fawn's chances of surviving the winter are not as good."

To many this may sound cruel but to the hunter and those concerned with keeping a stable deer herd it makes a lot of sense.

By leaving the doe the hunter knows he has left an animal that will reproduce the following year. If hit by a hard winter the fawn would become just another mortality statistic.

Just as up north, hunters in southern Ontario should enjoy a good hunt this year. Whitetails were in excellent condition going into last winter and although winter snows were quite severe a February thaw brought the herds through with flying colours. The rut has been on for a couple of weeks which makes those cautious old bucks throw, at least, a little caution to the wind.

In the controlled deer hunts in southern Ontario only those who have applied for and received a validation tag are allowed to hunt. It is illegal for anyone while hunting to carry shotgun shells with a load larger than a number two during deer season unless he or she is properly licenced. Bow hunters must also give up the bush to gun hunters during the four day season. This is for their own protection as well as the law.

Ministry of Natural Resources asks, successful hunters bring in their deer to check stations.

By doing this MNR know what condition deer are in before the up and coming winter. By knowing this and watching winter weather Natural Resources can project possible winter mortality rates which will affect next years hunt.

Help them out and have a safe and successful hunt.
