

Tree Riddles

Why was the wood pile always in trouble?
It was knotty pine.

Why do red pines make good doctors?
They have lots of needles.

Why was the maple tree lazy?
It was a sap.

What did the hedge say when it was tired?
"I'm bushed."

What kind of ice cream did the Christmas tree like?
Any flavour of pine cone.

Do trees have aunts and uncles?
Only if they're family trees.

How do trees greet each other in the spring?
"Hi buddy".

What did the birch tree say in the fall?
"Leaf me alone."

Victoria Harbour

by
CLARA POWER
Last Thursday night was council meeting in the Harbour. Robert Witham and Mike Hines of the Friends of the Wye Marsh were in attendance.

Council supports their motion of a stay of closure on April 1.

There was a unanimous vote in favour of this.

Council will be interviewing shortly for a new Building Inspector.

The following have been appointed to the Parks, Recreation and Community Centre Board: Brian Marshall, Marg Cadieux, Judy Kaus, Carol Collins and Susan Morreau.

To the L.A.C.A.C. Board, the following appointments were approved: Florence Belcher, Raymond Deschemes, Kay Middlebro, Carl Evans, Sarah Baumber, Noreen Scott, Catherine MacKenzie.

And to the Tay Victoria Harbour Union Public Library, those appointed were: Jean Tessier, Sarah Baumber, Catherine MacKenzie.

It's a boy!

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alex LaBelle of 34 Curr Dr., Penetanguishene on November 20, weighing 9 lb. 9 oz.

LITTLE JACK HORNER, surrounded by a group of canine and feline friends, about to dig into his Christmas pie — another name for the mince pie which has been a traditional accompaniment to the Christmas dinner since Medieval times. The drawing was executed by Thomas Nast, the renowned 19th century illustrator, for the journal, Harper's Weekly. Nast's Christmas illustrations were recently issued in a paperback volume by Dover Publications.
