

Fun in the sun in her future

Winner of a trip for two to Walt Disney World, Joyce Goodman, centre, received her prize last Friday, from Mountainview Mall Manager Steve Rodrigues, behind the potted palm tree, and Marlin Travel Consultant Lynn Lyons, with her arm around the Beefeater. The trip was the prize of the Mall Fun in the Sun Sidewalk Sale Contest, sponsored by Marlin Travel and Treasure Tours.

Coast Guard ready for sailing season

The captains of the two bright red Canadian Coast Guard ships, moored alongside Midland Town Dock, are awaiting the results of a meeting currently convened in Cornwall with Transport Canada and St. Lawrence Seaway Authority officials, before announcing their sailing schedule for the upcoming season. The light icebreaker Griffon (67.2 metres, 224 ft. long, 4,000 h.p.)

and the ice-strengthened buoy tender Montmorency (46.2 metres, 154 ft., 1,600 h.p.) are likely to begin their active duties within the next few weeks.

Stats tell the story

February's Activity Report, issued by the Town of Midland Fire Department, shows a record remarkably similar to last year's February statistics.

Both months produced three false alarms, one medical assist alarm, with 13 alarms in total during 1986, and 14 alarms in 1985.

Teachers turn at EDHS

It was the teacher's turn to take to the stage for a recent assembly at the Elmvale District High School. The teachers were presented with certificates but what they had done to earn these certificates is still not clear in the minds of the students.

Firefighters' training never stops

The training of Midland's firefighters is an ongoing process, from the time they first join the department. In addition to the experience gained during actual alarms, firemen work through a regular schedule of training while on duty at the fire hall, and at special evening sessions.

Last month, Midland's permanent and volunteer firefighters devoted 287 1/4 man hours to training in rescue, extrication, and special services, first aid and CPR, firefighting theory, and training aids.
