

Aid available to residents

by Patti-Jo Stone
Simcoe County Legal Services will be holding its fourth annual meeting April 23 at 7 p.m. at the Skid Watson Y.M.C.A. meeting room, Peter Street N., Orillia.

Simcoe County Legal Services is a community based, non-profit organization operated by a Board of Directors. The clinic provides a number of services including legal advice, speakers and educational programs to residents of the County and to Social Service Agencies and groups. Lawyers provide representation for individual clients and groups in legal proceedings.

Simcoe Legal Services first opened in Orillia in November of 1981. The staff consisted of one lawyer, one community legal worker and one secretary who provided general legal services. Currently, the staff consists of three lawyers, one community legal worker and three support staff. The clinic provides services in Orillia, in Barrie two days a week, one day a week in a satellite office in Collingwood and one-half day per week in Midland/Penetang.

Cool and refreshing

With temperatures soaring near 22 celsius (70°F) on Saturday afternoon three brave people from the area decided to take a dip in Georgian Bay off the docks at Bay Moorings in Penetanguishene. Stan Bourden of Toronto joined his friends Pauline Gignac and Ron Miller in the early season swim.

May 6 set for dinner

The Lung Association, Georgian Bay Area will be holding its Annual Meeting at the Sundial Restaurant in Orillia on May 6.

The guest speaker will be Norm Sterling, MPP Carleton-Grenville, who is presenting the Non-Smokers Protection Act, Bill 711, to the Provincial Legislature.

This private members bill has already passed second reading and Mr. Sterling will have some interesting information on Smoking Legislation.

Tickets for this dinner meeting are $12.00 and can be obtained from the Lung Association office, 29 Albert Street North, Orillia, (705) 325-0454.
