Sites begin fall schedule

Huron's famous living-history sites, Sainte-Marie among the Hurons, and the Historic Naval and Military Establishments in Penetanguishene, complete their summer activities on Labour Day weekend after a summer that broke attendance records in several areas.

Sainte-Marie recorded a 7.25 per cent increase in attendance this summer. Special programs like Candlelight Tours (sponsored by the Friends of Sainte-Marie) and Les Jours d'ete were fully booked. The reconstructed Jesuit mission remains open until Oct. 13. Hours have been revised to better suit autumn travellers. Sainte-Marie will open at 10 a.m. and will close at 4:30 p.m. with the last admission at 3:30 p.m. On weekdays from Sept. 2 till Sept. 19, there will be no costumed interpreters within the palisades but visitors will be offered special tours hourly, starting at 10:30 a.m.

There will be costumed interpreters on site each autumn weekend, and weekdays from Sept. 22 to Thanksgiving Day closing. Fall visitors are invited to experience Sainte-Marie through self-guided tours, aided with a detailed map and assisted by site interpreters.

In Penetanguishene, the Historical Naval and Military Establishments closes to the public on Labour Day. Hundreds of school children from Simcoe County will participate in educational programs which begin on Sept. 15.

Area visitors responded enthusiastically to summer programs at the Establishments. The Sailor's Sunset Sail-Training Adventure, sponsored by the Establishments Heritage Association and Labatt's, makers of Schooner Beer, was fully booked. It introduced more than 350 landmen to the lure of a 19th-century sailing vessel.

Time Spinners, designed for youngsters, welcomed 105 more children in 1986 than in the previous summer.

Two special events remain on the Huronia Historical Parks calendar. At Sainte-Marie on Oct. 11 and 12, an arts and crafts show and sale will write finis to an exciting season.

Christmas at the Establishments is an annual tradition in Penetanguishene. It will once again be part of the community's seasonal calendar.

Police continue Port investigation

Police are still investigating a number of break-ins in the Port McNicoll area which occurred within a three block radius of each other two weeks ago.

A youthful offender was charged with Break and Enter after a search warrant, conducted by the Midland Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, at a house in the Port produced property taken in a break and enter last week.

The property belonged to Mrs. Whale, one of the victims of the series of close proximity break-ins the week before. Police are uncertain if the offender is responsible for the other break-ins in the area, however, they have seized stolen property from the offenders house that is believed to have been taken from at least three different B and E's.

St. Paul's

At St. Paul's United Church, Midland, for September and October, the Reverend Ralph Gillingham will hold service at 11 a.m.

The youth has been charged on one account of Break and Enter, and charges on possession of stolen property are pending. Police continue their investigation.
