

Bell-McCarron Wedding

The McCarron - Bell wedding was solemnized Sept. 20 in the Church of Transfiguration, Weston, with Father Doran and Rev. Francis Cook officiating clergy. Nancy is the daughter of John and Rena Bell and Paul the son of Jack and Vera McCarron, Weston.

With her chiffon and iridescent beaded lace gown the bride proudly wore her Grandmother Bells's gold necklace which had been a gift to her on her wedding day 99 years ago. Nancy was accompanied down the aisle by both her parents. Her attendants were Karen Dupuis, cousin of the bride, as maid of honour, Rosemary Ramey of Peterborough and Karen Cowan of Vankleek Hill as bridesmaids, who were classmates of Nancy in Algonquin College. They wore cocktail length fuschia gowns with matching shoes and head-dresses of Baby's Breath.

Mid-terms just around the corner

by Laura Grabinsky
Students from Penetanguishene Secondary School enjoyed a well deserved holiday last Monday for Thanksgiving, cutting it down to an easy four day week. Unfortunately Mid-term exams are creeping up on us leaving students only three weeks to study.

Last Thursday the grade 12 Law students journeyed to Toronto to experience "court room drama" in the Provincial and Supreme Courts. This was a chance for prospective lawyers to see some action.

Another school trip occurred today as grade 10 Geography students headed south to Toronto to discover the different ethnic groups in the metropolitan area. Studies on China town, mixed cultural businesses and specific points of interest kept John Bayfields' students busy all day.

Aggies meet

The regional annual members and county annual meeting of the Simcoe County Federation of Agriculture is coming up on the calendar.

Provincial directors and county directors are to be elected. Roger George, OFA executive member, will talk about farmers in transition, and debt review.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. on Oct. 27 in Midhurst Community Hall.

Tomorrow the grade 12 and 13's have the opportunity to see a university of their choice in Toronto, Hamilton or Guelph. The Guidance Departments of PSS, MSS and Elmvale District High School annually provide this excursion that will help students decide on which post secondary institution best suits them. Good luck in your choices.

As a follow up to the visits at these schools MSS will host a college day on Nov. 2 for students in the surrounding area and on Nov. 11 our school will sponsor a university day. To end this week off, students will go back in time with a 50's dress-up day followed by a dance on Friday. Have a good week!

Town of Midland releases fund

On Oct. 1 Midland council approved the use of money in the Midland Library building reserve and $50,000 from next year's municipal budget, to pay for the renovation of the library.

Ontario Renovations Limited will be working inside the building mid-October through mid- or late January.

The Library board received only one tender, of $242,000, which was $50,000 higher than the architect's estimate. The board asked the town for an additional $50,000 this year, to be marked as from the library's 1987 capital budget.

Penetang Library Log

Man alive: theme for week

by Peggy Stewart
"Man Alive" has been a popular television show for several years. But long before the advent of television a few public libraries in Ontario began wrestling with the same concerns. What do men and women need to be really "alive"? It's the contemporary version of the simple but profound observation "that man lives not by bread alone".

For many years most public libraries have concentrated on providing their users with "bread": "bread" in the form of books and periodicals and newspapers, films, records, and what have you: "bread" in the guise of hard information located in some obscure reference book or, more recently, extracted from some mysterious database by some equally mysterious computer. But it all adds up to "bread"!

Recently another aspect of "bread", a different slice, has been put on the library menu. More and more public libraries are venturing into programs and activities that nourish the emotional, spiritual, cultural and imaginative aspects of human nature. Through music, art, and drama; through craft groups, seminars, and social activities, the local public library is endeavouring to address the needs of the "whole man".

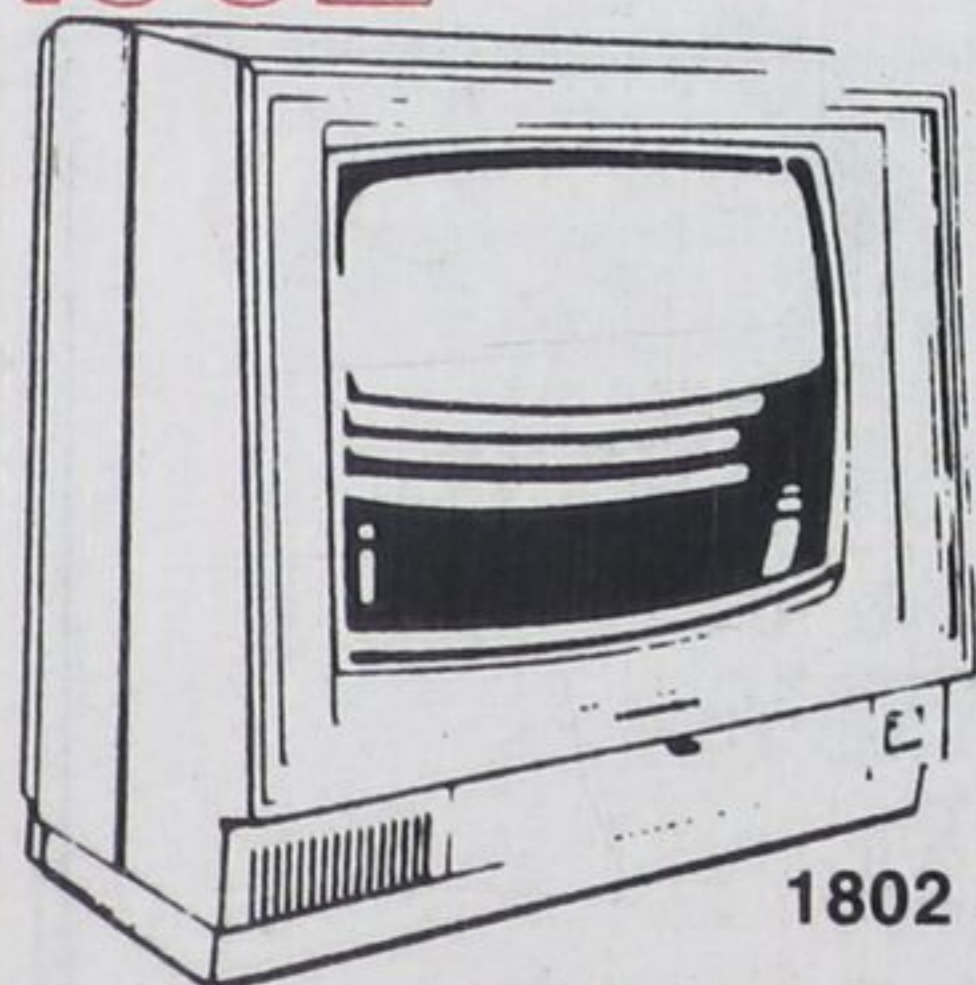

"Man Alive" is a great theme; a theme worth celebrating in this province-wide celebration of Public Library Week, October 20-26. The Penetanguishene Public Library has not been backward in putting this theme into action. In the past year we sponsored 5 programs, attracting a total attendance of 225. One of the most successful programs for adults was Angus Baxter-geneologist.

We are currently planning "Mousetales" a puppet-show for 3-8 year olds performed by Waterwood Productions from Toronto during Public Library Week on October 21 at 2 p.m. in the Penetanguishene Arena.
