Achievers coast into Images

by Steve Wright

Junior Achievement (JA) is an organization that allows students the opportunity to develop an understanding of the free enterprise business system and work with it on a scaled-down model.

The Stainless Images company was organized at Midland Secondary School on October 1. The company consists of ten members making up the board of directors, work and sales forces.

Stainless Images have chosen coaster sets as their product. These sets consist of 8 highly-polished stainless steel coasters, with a cork bottom, stacked in a finished mahogany stand with a felt bottom. Coaster sets will retail for $6.54 per set.

The company has already sold 100 shares to the public at a cost of $2.00 each to gain capital to help pay for the rental of space and equipment, incorporation fees, wages and salaries and materials.

The company's sponsoring firm is Waltec Sinkware which provides us with the facilities, equipment and dies at a reduced cost.

Student members of our J.A. company are: Katharina Kubetz, Andy Flint, Steve Wright, Robert Thompson, Dan Broome, Mike Uffen, Dwayne Henne, Becky Cameron, Jeff Charlebois and Denise Robitaille.

The students are supported in their role by advisors who volunteer their time and expertise. Their advisors are: Greg Lyons, Charlene Davidson, Margaret Davidson, Ross Miller and Ron Sauve.

When the finished products are ready to be sold, the company hopes the public will purchase our merchandise.
