Team of the week

Although there are other teams in Midland Minor Hockey House League who have experienced much more success in terms of points, but there has not been a team that has given a more consistent spirited performance on a game to game basis than Royal LePage. Bob Davy and his assistant coaches deserve tremendous credit for keeping up the boys' enthusiasm as they were in first place at the Christmas break, but have lost the majority of their games since then, but always by the narrowest of margins. Hopefully, their hard work and team approach will pay off in the playoffs.

Player of the week

Jason Smith has been selected Player of the Week as he epitomizes what House League is striving for. He is co-operative responsible team oriented and very well liked by his teammates. Congratulations, Jason.

Kaspers expand arts school

Three things will be happening to Kasper Martial Arts Studio in the very near future. Kasper is moving. Kasper is expanding. Kasper is changing their name.

Kasper Martial Arts Studio will be relocating on Midland's main street as soon as the legalities are ironed out.

They will be opening a new branch in Barrie as well. The grand opening is slated for Saturday, April 4 at 104 Dunlop Street.

As far as the name change is concerned, Kasper has joined the Don Warrener group of martial arts academies. Don Warrener is an international karate expert and was the 1969 Canadian champion. Among the 10 academies currently under the Warrener name are branches in Mississauga, Burlington, Erin Mills, St. Catharines and Hamilton.

The association with Warrener gives students the opportunity to make use of their membership in each of the 10 centers.

According to Marlene Kasper, the aim is to become national in a couple of years.

On Wednesday, April 1, Kasper will be celebrating their first anniversary at the present location. Special events are planned, details to follow.
