

Council show over 'til Fall

People who want more information about Midland council meetings than is reported in local newspapers will have to attend council meetings for a while.

Maclean-Hunter Cable TV won't be taping another council meeting until Sept. 14. June 8 was the last meeting to be taped.

Viewers of council meetings on cable television will miss only three regular meetings. The council meets once instead of twice a month in July and August.

"I guess we have a poor rating. They want to drop our show," Mayor Al Roach joked.

Program manager Frank Myers explained in a letter that, as of June 15, regular programming is being suspended for the summer to accommodate staff vacations and equipment maintenance. In addition, this year Maclean-Hunter is covering the world youth wrestling championships in early July in Collingwood.

A little bit of rain

A bit of rain won't stop a true champion.

Even a lot of rain, like the kind that's been pouring on Midland for the last month or so.

Foster

Three weeks ago, the Contact Information Centre was due to hold its Big Wheelie Bike-a-thon on Sunday at 10 a.m.

But the rain was pouring down - it rained so much, organizers rescheduled the bike-a-thon.

However, the water didn't deter local cross-country skiing champ, Angela Schmidt-Foster, according to a source close to the action.

Apparently she decided to do the course anyway.

After it was over, she decided to do a little extra.

What's a little rain, anyway?

Capping ceremony

Huron District Hospital long term care unit co-ordinator Marie Ratcliffe fastens in place the cap of junior volunteer Jill Berriault. Berriault was one of six junior volunteers who gave at least 75 hours as volunteers at HDH through the past winter.

Six teenagers receive caps from HDH

Caps each representing Kruger, Rita Bishop, Christy Lavin, Erin Moss, and Jill Berriault, each received her cap. They joined two other senior volunteers, or candy-stripers, who donated their time through the winter helping staff and patients at HDH:

Patricia Weise and Jenny Ruston. Weise and Ruston each already had her cap. The number of volunteers who give of their time in the hospital grows through the summer. That larger group ends its volunteer period in October.
