

Contracting bus cheaper: town

After hearing the result of an investigation, the Midland public works committee has decided that contracting bus service is desirable.

Public works general manager Ken Cave was directed to investigate whether the town might run its transit service itself at less cost, using its employees.

Of the 19 municipalities with 25,000 or fewer people surveyed, only four run their own bus service, Cave reported. In each case, the cost is higher than Midland's cost of paying a company to provide the service.

The bus operation contract, which expires later this year, will be offered for bid.

Queen's Cove adds outboards

Queen's Cove Marina has begun to offer the Nissan line of outboard motors.

The Nissan line of 3.5 to 70 horsepower motors became available in Canada in January, 1986. Nissan sells 63 models in 14 different horsepower sizes.

A limited two-year warranty covers motors used both for pleasure and commerce. Most warranties for commercial use are six months to 12 months.

district sales manager, outboard motor department, Terry Slater said.

Among the associated items offered by Nissan is an approved 25 litre plastic gas tank. Other gas tanks are made of non-galvanized steel, Slater said.

An electric starter alternator is a standard feature of Nissan engines. Nissan also sells lifejackets, lubricants, oils, grease, and interior engine cleaner.

Nissan's man

Nissan's man for outboard motors in this area, Terry Slater, was present Friday through Sunday at Queen's Cove Marina, Victoria Harbour. Queen's Cove has begun to carry the line of Nissan outboard motors, which range in size from 3.5 to 70 horsepower. Boat owners have a choice of 63 models of Nissan outboard motor. Each motor comes with a two-year limited warranty, whether the motor is used for business or pleasure.

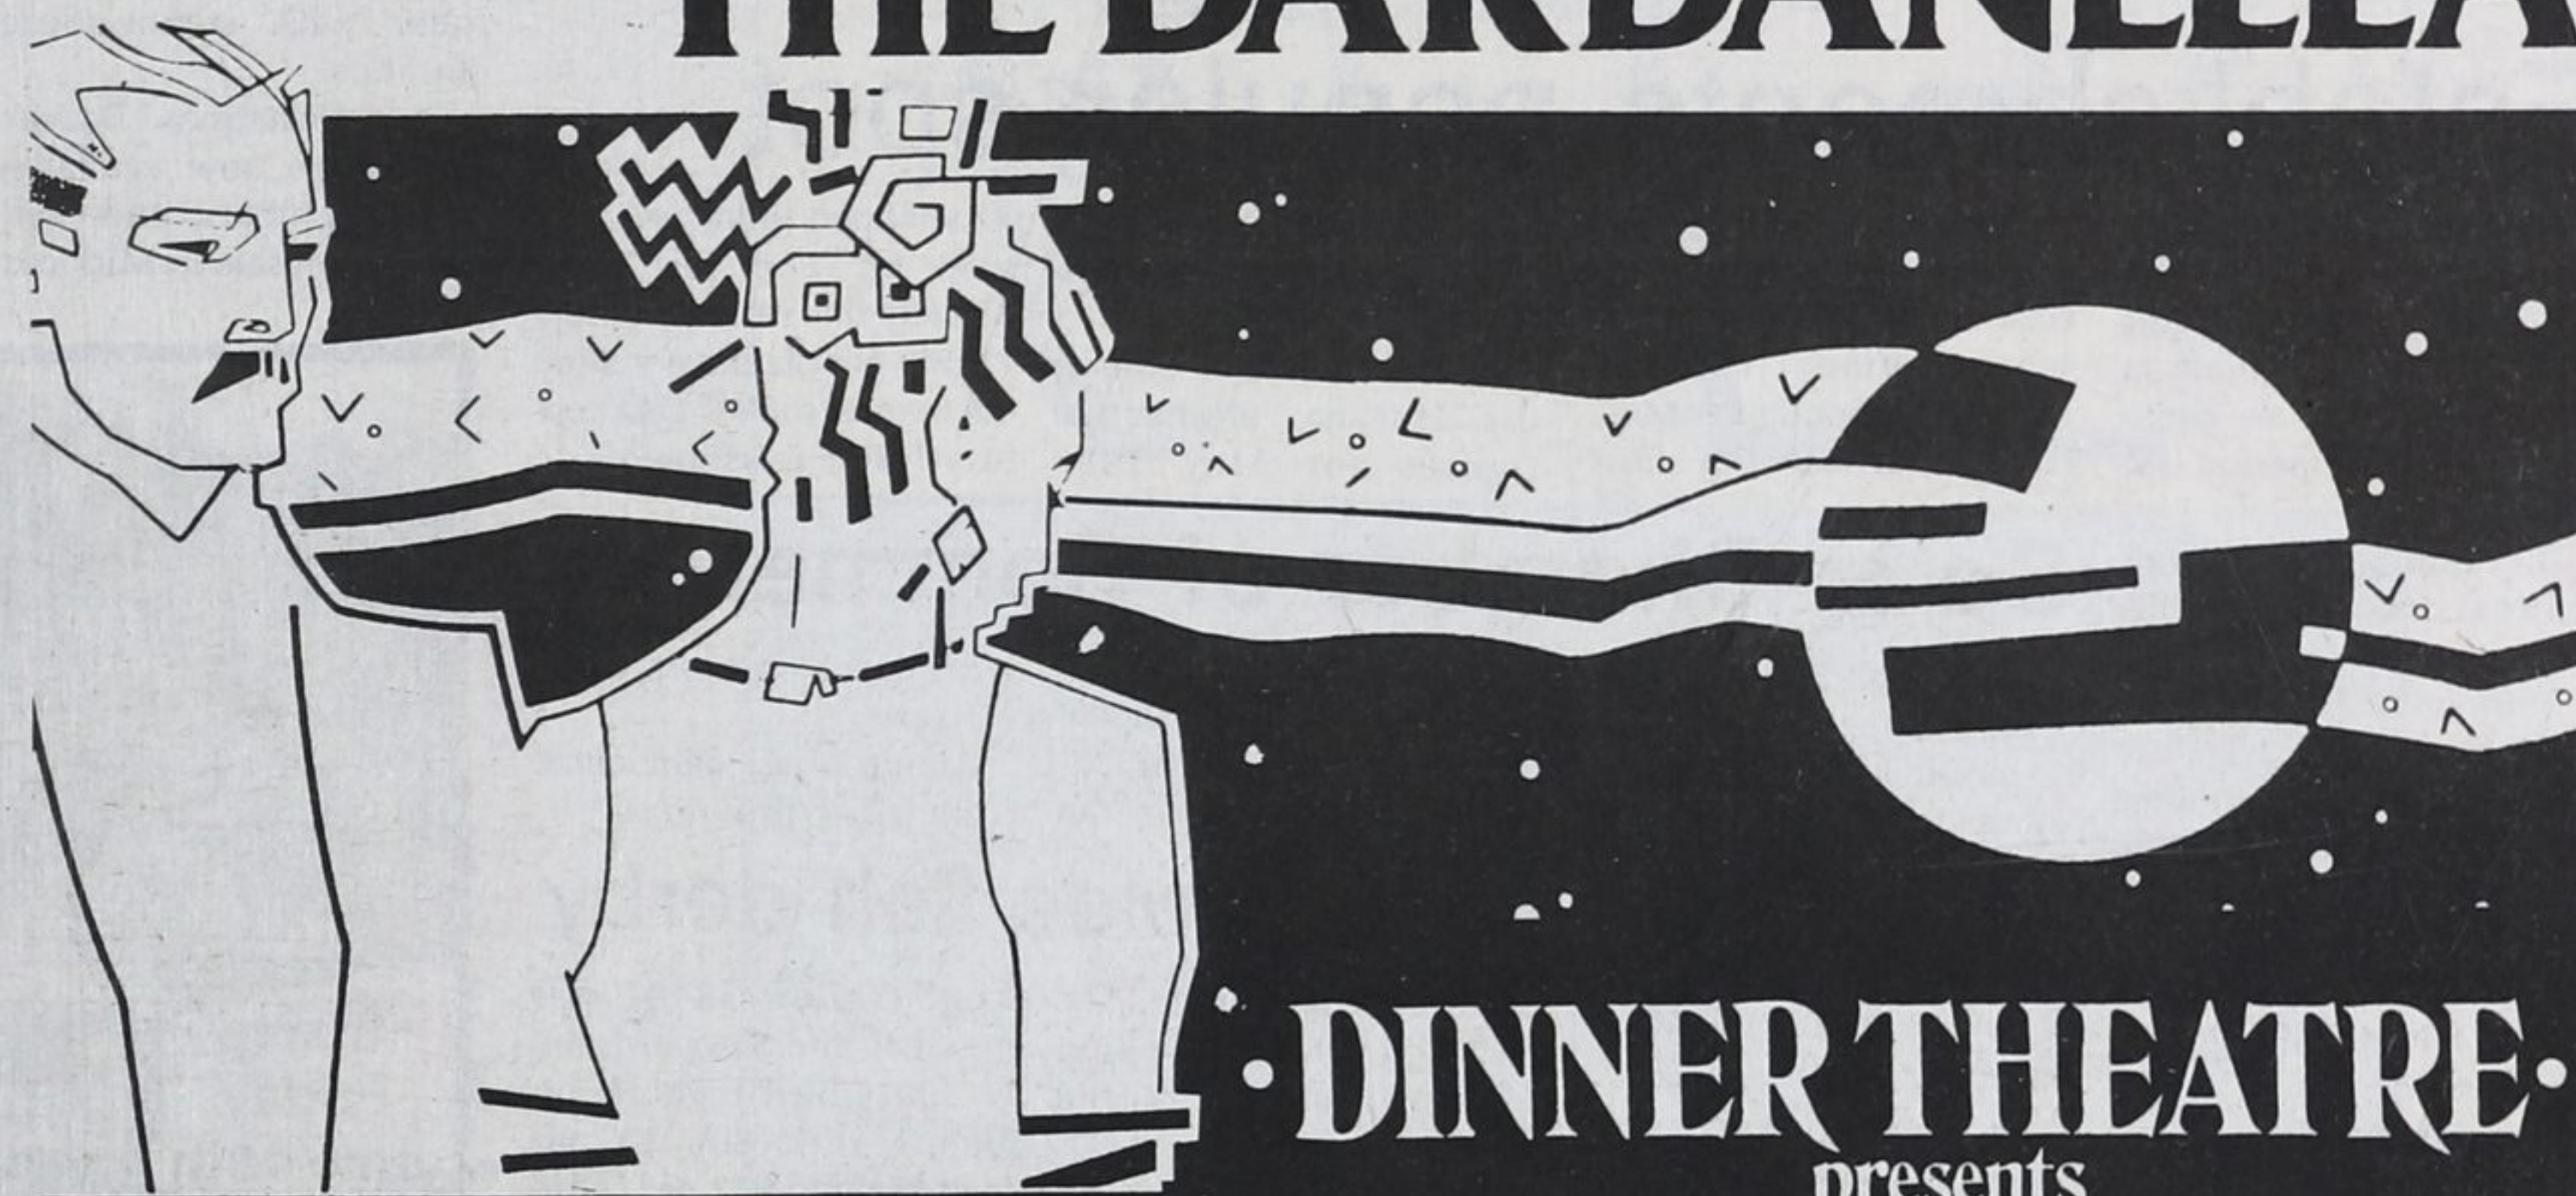

Healthy donation

When the Midland Lioness Club was ready to have its picture taken donating money to Huronia District Hospital, the members decided they'd like to have it taken in front of the newborn babies.

However, there was only one child, so small he may not have shown up in the photo. However, the Lioness Club's $10,000 cheque will help keep that child healthy, as it will buy the hospital a portable heart monitor. Seen here are Dorothy Lamers, Lioness president, handing the cheque to HDH board members Barbara Simpson, Pat Hammond, Vi Kennedy, Linda Hogg and Evelyn Walker.
