

BACK TO SCHOOL

Teen girls prefer natural look

Teens today are on the go. They want to look their best but with a minimum of fuss. For young women, a make-up routine must be fast and simple.

Cosmetician, Bernice Martin, suggests teens use the Marcelle brand of cleansers and cosmetics. This brand is hypo-allergenic and won't irritate most skin types.

Martin advises young women to establish a routine of proper cleansing. At this age cleansing should be done with a special cleanser and then a toner applied for closing pores. Moisturizer should be used only if needed. If needed, teens should select a very light lotion that is not heavy on the skin.

Martin advises a facial with scrub once a week for normal skin and a special scrub wash for oily skin.

For school, Martin says most teens opt for a natural look. This includes mascara, eye liner and blush — make up that takes only scant five minutes to apply. If a foundation is used, a water based product is advised. Most young women finish their look with a touch of gloss for shine to their lips.

For teenagers with problem skin, careful cleansing and toning is needed. There are over the counter products for acne which dry blemishes and help to stop the spread of bacteria. Special washes are available as well as creams for healing purposes. Cover up sticks can be used to hide blemishes and, if using foundation, they should be purchased in a shade lighter.

For severe skin problems see your doctor or dermatologist.

At the end of the day it is important for teens to remove all make up and this can be accomplished by special remover pads or lotion.

The Penny loafer fad

This collection of shoes available at local shoe stores show the ever popular penny loafer and flat shoes with pointed toes that many teen girls will choose for school this fall.

Penny loafer a big hit

Flat shoes are still in fashion this year with teen girls, and many will be wearing them when they return to school this Fall.

The best dressed feet for school will be sporting shoes with pointed toes and a plain surface or with accents of patent. The darker colors, such as navy or forest green, are big this year and, as always, winter white and pearl gray are just as popular.

Many coordinating handbags to match the shoes can be found in the new dark shades. Imitation crocodile and snake skin looks are really big this year. The knapsack style handbag is back again and many students will be seen carrying them. They are available in a variety of colors.

The Penny Loafer is back in style, and is now available in many fashion shades to coordinate with students' wardrobes. Students can buy them with the traditional block heel or with the new solid wedge heel. The Penny Loafer is sporting rubber soles which are more flexible than the older model. The Penny Loafer is an added bonus to any teenager's wardrobe, as they can achieve a variety of looks. Worn with thick socks or stockings, the Penny Loafer can be dressed up or worn with casual attire. And best of all, the price suits every teen's budget, and mothers' budgets too.
