Goodbye to Rick and Sharon Gordon

A pair of Club members are leaving us. Rick and Sharon Gordon are down der east you know, eh! Nova Scotia will be their new home. Rick, has been transferred to the Maritimes from the Midland Free Press through the newspapers chain, Thompson Community Newspapers Ltd.

The Gordon's made history this year when they used our Curling Club lounge for their wedding and reception. Yes, that's right Rick Gordon and Sharon Brooks were

We wish the happy curlers, I mean couple, the best of luck down east.

High one game winners

Dave Yeoman, skipper of the trio of his wife Audrey, and neighbors Lynn and Doug Jackson fell to an errant rock in their last game against Tim Lindsay. However, by virtue of high scoring in both games, they got to the prize table in the Celeden Studios Mixed event held recently.

More than curling at the club

You've probably noticed by now the board games situated next to the bar. They are for your enjoyment. Play a game of Scruples, or Dr. Ruth's Sex Game, or some cards.

Please take care of these games. They cost a lot of money and we want to keep them in good shape as long as we can.

Next, the Social Committee under Robert Laurin will be setting up a dart board next to our office. Please, yes please be careful! If those teams who happen to lose start throwing darts instead of laurels at their opposition we may have to regulate the issuing of sharp items. Have fun!

A B C Curling

The Alphabets, a Japanese women's curling team listen intently as Russ Howard passes along a few tips. The Japanese paid over a thousand dollars each to take part in the curling clinic put on by Russ and Curl Canada in Karuizawa.
