

Just another day of golf...

by Ed Pearson
Special

It was a day like any other day at the Brooklea Golf and Country Club on Monday, except that Ivy Kitchen scored a hole in one. The rare event happened like this. She was playing in the Monday Night Couples League. Her playing partners were, husband Frank, Fran Whale and Wade Dickerson. Although the day had started with heavy rain, threatening clouds put evening play in doubt, the foursome were enjoying a pleasant round of golf.

Hole In One

Ivy Kitchen, playing in the Monday Night couples League at Brooklea Golf and Country Club, achieved the golfers dream last Monday. Partnered by husband Frank, Fran Whale and Wade Dickerson, Kitchen did the near impossible on the last hole, a par three, 95 yard tester.

The fairways and greens on the executive West course are in pristine condition, the maintenance staff have worked miracles this year to combat tropical weather conditions. Ivy Kitchen's round, as she approached the final hole had been undistinguished. "Time to make amends," she thought. The 27th hole is a tricky little swine. A par three, 95 yards from an elevated tee to a postage stamp green. Surrounded on three sides by water, there is a little relief on the right side, a grassy bank. That is where us cowards shoot for. None of that sissy stuff for Ivy.

Selecting her faithful eight iron, she placed her trusty Top Flight on the white wooden tee (make unknown), she took a deep breath and shot for the flag. It looked good all the way. A high ball, it landed about five yards in front of the flag, took two bounces, shrugged it's shoulders and settled into the cup. We heard the noise from two holes back, I thought that Wade Dickerson had caught his beard in the ball washer. By the time we got to the clubhouse the commotion had settled down to an uproar. Ivy Kitchen, a trim figure, if she will forgive me, a senior lady golfer, was becomingly modest. She took up golf in 1972 when she was in her early fifties. This is her first hole in one. If never comes to most of us. Ross

Howard, the club pro, informed that it was the first hole in one by a lady this year. Her name will be engraved on the trophy in the pro-shop.

Russ asked me to mention that the Brooklea Men's Open competition tees off Saturday at 10 p.m.

Sponsored by "The Parlour" gentlemen clothiers, the top prize is a three piece suit. Other prizes to the value of $5,000. will be on the table. He said that there are a few openings still available, phone him at 526-7532 for details.

Indians Reunion

This is only a small part of the 168 former Midland Indians who were in town on the weekend to rekindle old friendships and old memories. The old boys got together and divided into four teams for two slow pitch games at Herb Beauchamp Field Saturday afternoon. The Indians then retired to the Georgian Bay Hunters and Anglers for dinner and dancing.

Eagles take two-game lead

In Olympia Fastball League finals action last week, Brooklea Eagles took a pair from Dial-a-Movie to lead the best of seven series two games to none.

Tuesday night, Brooklea struck for a pair early, scoring in the first frame and added four in the fourth before cashing a final counter in the sixth.

Dennis Cascagnette was the offensive star for the victors with a three for four night including a double. Larry Patenaude and David Cascagnette collected a pair of hits each in the 12 hit attack.

Patenaude picked up the win on the mound for the eagles, striking out four, walking one and issuing just six base hits.

In the first inning, Dennis Cascagnette singled with one out and advanced on a stolen base. With two out, Kevin Beausoleil walked. David Cascagnette plated both runners with a well placed single. John Freymuth and Gary Cascagnette walked to load the bases but Martin Cascagnette was thrown out 6-4 to end the threat.

The fourth inning also could have produced a lot of runs as Brooklea had the bases loaded with one out. Jim McDonald came to the plate and stroked a two bagger plating Larry Patenaude and John Dion. Beausoleil's single scored Dennis Cascagnette and Jim McDonald for a 5-0 lead. Two more outs ended the scoring.

A pair of dial-a-Movie errors in the sixth resulted in another counter for Brooklea.

Wednesday night, Brooklea put the first four batters on base but could only come up with a single run. In the third inning, an error, a walk and a single cashed two more counters to make it a 3-0 ball game.

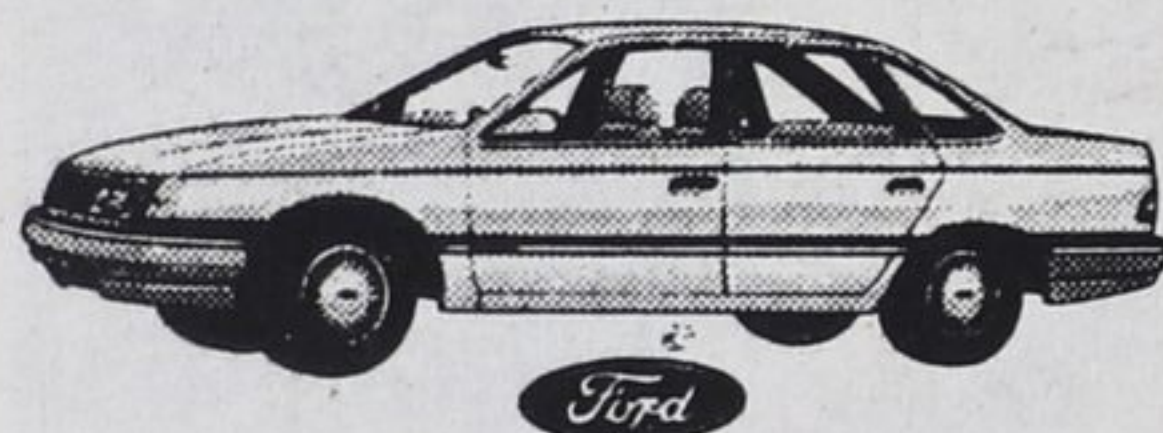

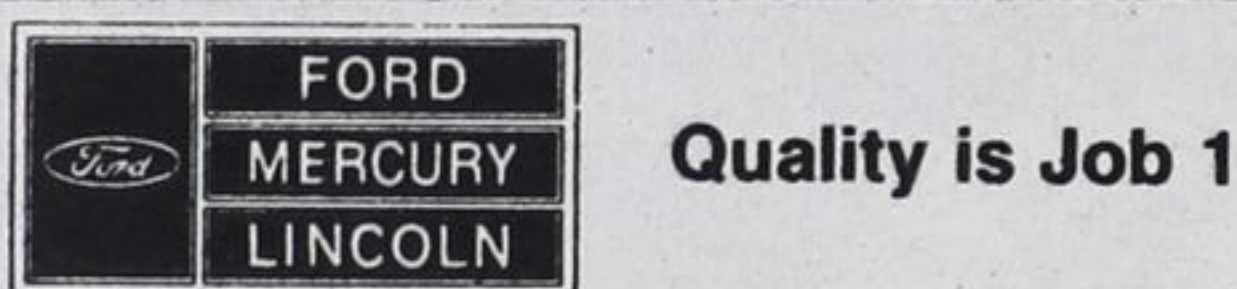

In the bottom of the frame, lead-off batter Tom Powell managed to cross the plate for the first Dial-a-Movie run in nine innings. Leon Robitaille scored in the third to up the count to 4-1 while Kevin Beausoleil single, stole a base and scored in the fifth. Garry Cascagnette's two out single in the sixth plated Len Desjardins for the final Brooklea run.

In the bottom of the seventh, John Cook cranked a two out, two run triple to make the final score 6-3.

The series resumes Tuesday, August 23 with game four scheduled for Wednesday night. Both contests start at 7 p.m. at Herb Beauchamp Memorial Athletic Field.

August time to think of ice skating

After a long hot summer the Midland Figure Skating Club is preparing for another busy winter session.

As in previous years, there will be programs available for all levels. The Canskate program is a series of seven levels designed for the beginner to low intermediate. It is ideal for youngsters wanting to play hockey, or just to be comfortable on their skates for school skating or with their friends. Figure skates are not required but skates with good ankle support are vital.

For skaters who would like to proceed with figure skating, there are two choices-Canfigureskate and the CFSA test program. They teach the same elements but with more or less emphasis on testing. Further information on the programs can be obtained from Carol Lavin at 526-3176.

The Canskate program will be offered on Monday and Wednesday at 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. The Canfigureskate and CFSA are held Tuesday and Thursday.

Registration will take place at the Midland Civic Centre on September 6 and 8 from 7-9 p.m. and on Saturday, Sept. 10 from 10-12 & 1-3. The fees for the current year will be: Canskate - $125 for 2 days, $75 for 1 day. Canfigureskate and CFSA 1-$165 for 2 days, $90 for 1 day. CFSA 2 $220 for full time, $125 for partial membership.

Marcia Bell will be returning as head coach.
