Sports seminar

The Midland Recreation Department will host a seminar on Effective Sport Marketing to be held Saturday, November 5, 1988 at the Midland Civic Centre.

The Sport Marketing Institute is a new and unique program which covers the components of sport marketing, effective management, fundraising, public relations and sponsorships. The management of sport organizations, from the local club and school to National Federations is changing dramatically. New strategies to meet new needs are required. The Sport Marketing Institute provides the answer to the needs of raising funds and marketing amateur sport. I highly recommend that every sport organization, administrator, manager and coach avail themselves to the Sport Marketing Institute material and use it to develop sport," as stated by James Worrall, O.C., Q.C., International Olympic Committee.

The Sport Marketing program was developed and completed by Mr. David Wilkinson, President and founder of the Sport Marketing Institute Company. Mr. Wilkinson has spent more than 16 years working in the field of amateur sport. His knowledge and concepts of sport management and marketing have proven to be invaluable. He has aided many agencies and organizations in fundraising and organizational development.
