Says an angry Dion

'We should have been consulted'

Members of money may restrict other funds from coming to them. Penetanguishene town council last week questioned the mayor's decision to accept government funding to offset costs of dumping garbage.

At a council meeting last Monday, Councillor Lionel Dion criticized Mayor Frances St. Amant for accepting the grant before discussing her intentions with council.

In a heated debate lasting five minutes, Dion and other councillors told the mayor they would have appreciated being consulted before the mayor acted on their behalf.

Mayor St. Amant met with Muskoka-Georgian Bay MPP Ken Black and Midland Mayor Al Roach three weeks ago to discuss a grant to offset the cost of hauling garbage.

Dion claims the $54,000 grant is "only a drop in the bucket."

"We grabbed the first thing from Mr. Black that was offered, which was wrong," he said.

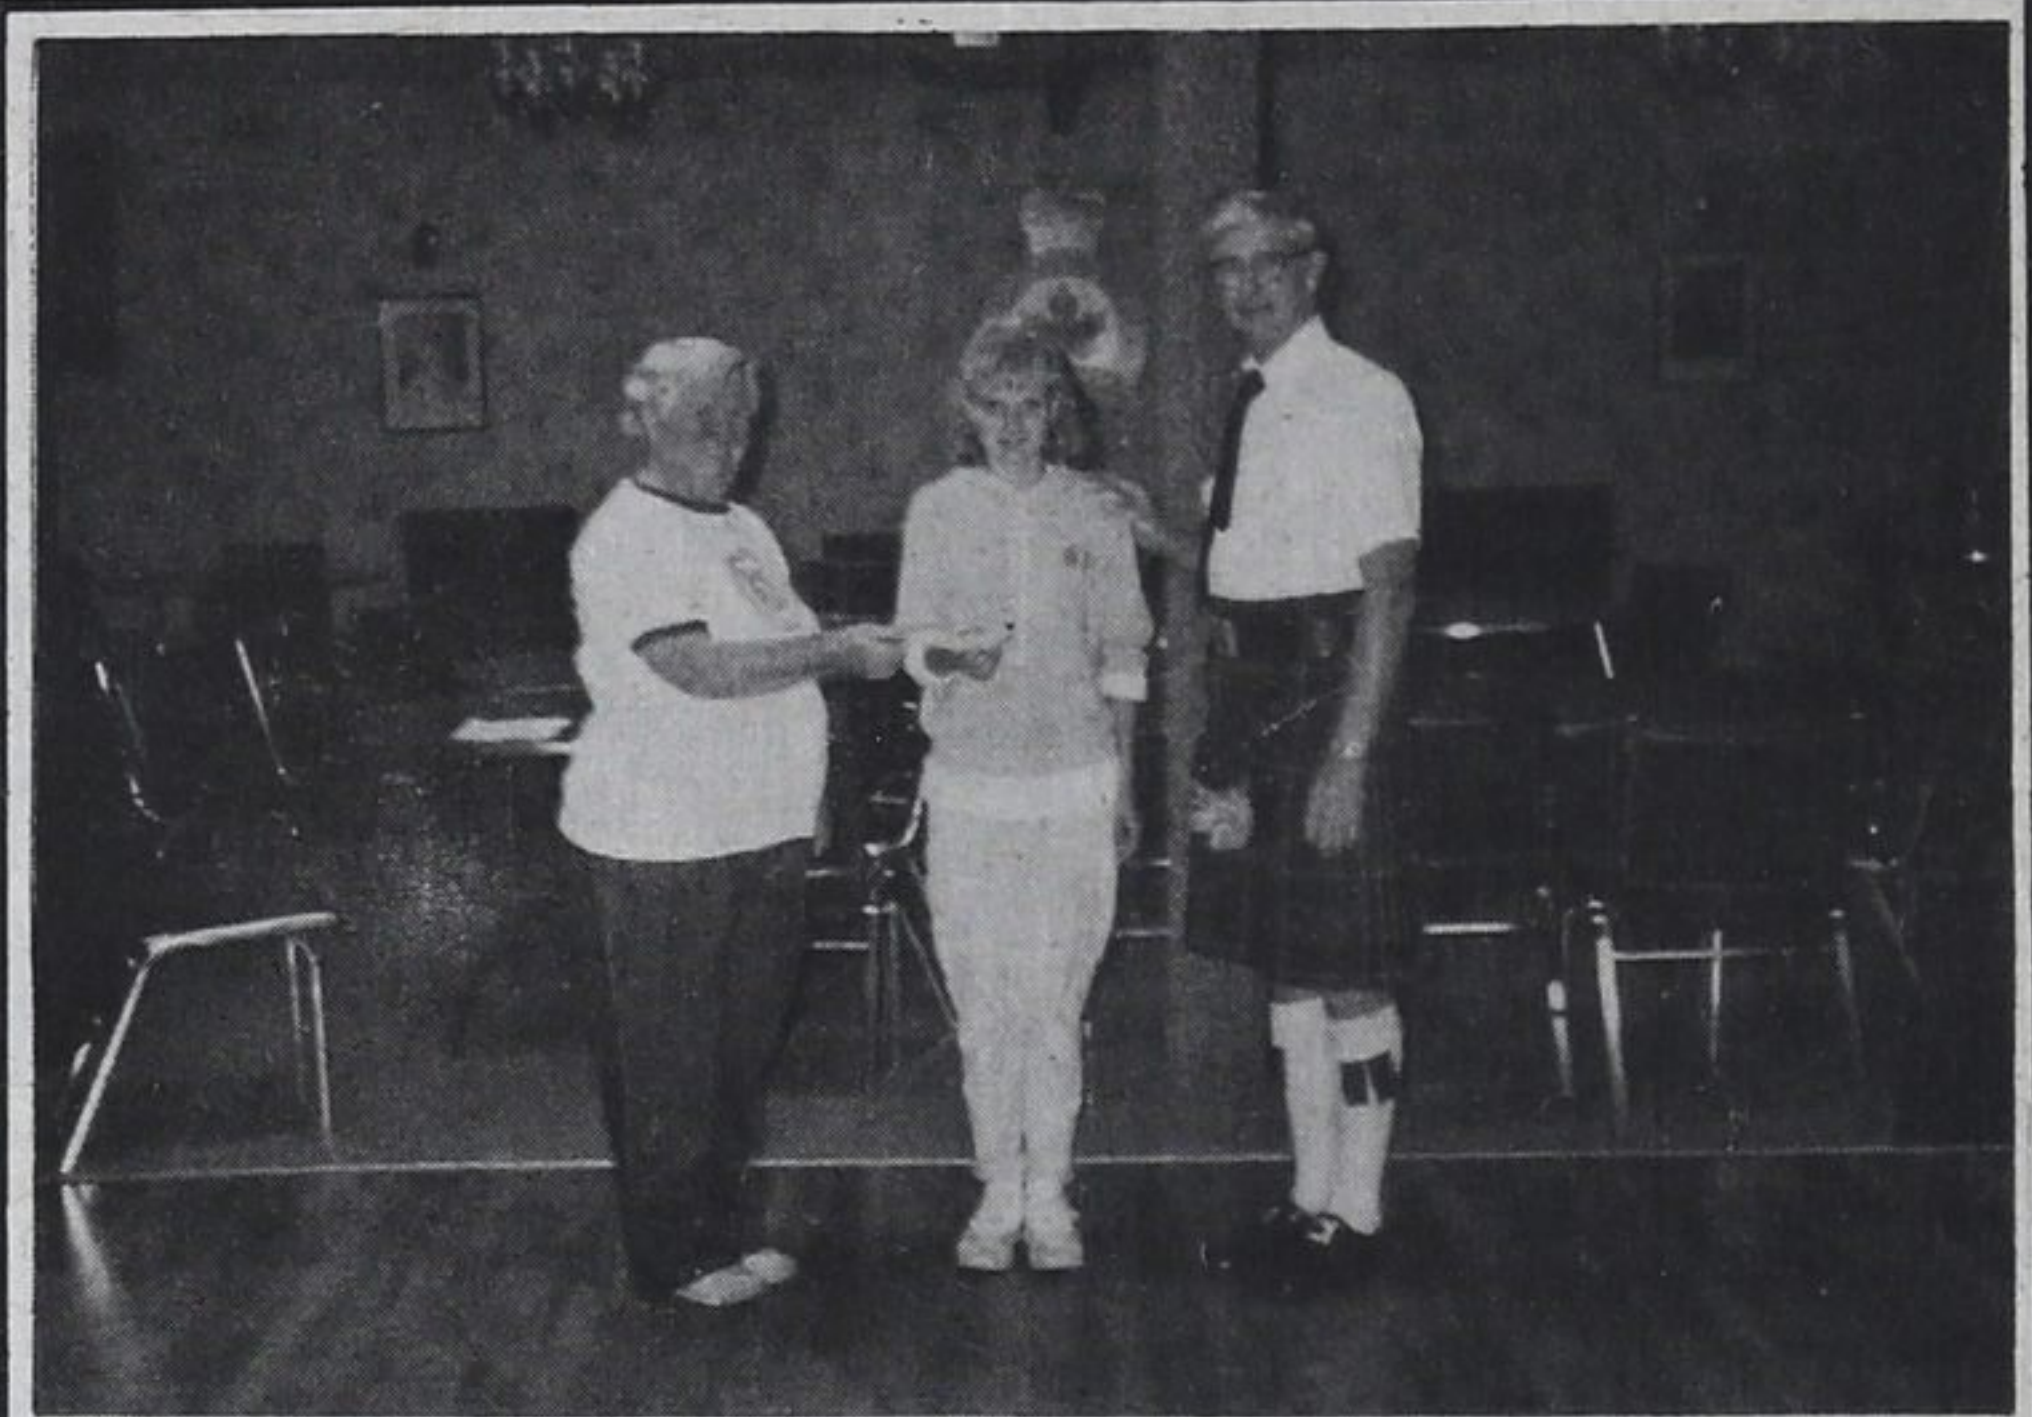

Dion claims he knew of the grant three months ago. He believes accepting the no member from the North Simcoe Waste Management Association attended either.

Councillor Bob Sullivan supported Dion's views, saying he was in favor of being notified of the mayor's decision instead of St. Amant acting on behalf of the council. Mayor St. Amant claims it was a "one shot deal" and therefore necessary to make a quick decision, adding she didn't have time to consult council.

"I felt we would be silly if we didn't apply to it," said Mayor St. Amant.
