

Toyota product and warranty
Toyota offers more benefits

"Toyota's warranty, one of the best in the business, just gets better" comments Toyota Canada Inc. senior vice president Hector Dupuis.

Known for their built-in quality and durability, all 1989 Toyota cars and trucks are supported by a basic complete vehicle warranty which is three years/60,000 kilometres with power train coverage of five years/100,000 kilometres.

Emission control components are covered for five years/80,000 kilometres with corrosion perforation protection for five years/unlimited distance.

Other warranty features include no deductible charge and complete transferability without charge to all subsequent owners.

Already competitive, Toyota's new vehicle warranty provides additional customer benefits for 1989 including no charge for air conditioner recharge for one year/unlimited distance, battery replacement free for one year/unlimited distance and battery replacement pro rata for three years/unlimited distance.

"We believe that our 1989 Toyota vehicles are the best we've ever built and they're supported by the best possible warranty," says Dupuis.
