

The Christmas break is beginning

Merry Christmas from St. Theresa's staff and students. This article will have to carry everyone through the holidays because Paula and I are taking a few weeks off. St. Theresa's will be entering its one act play, Drama Festival in February. Rehearsals for Still Stands the House, in the Georgian College have begun and the characters will be played by Nancy Pottage, Stephanie Toole, Stephan Berand and Brad Latour. At the Christmas assembly there was a mass and talent show. Everyone showed up in their best "duds."

Port Library News

Library has set its winter hours

Holiday hours at the Port McNicoll Public Library will be: Dec. 26-27 and Jan. 2, closed. Otherwise regular hours are in effect. The staff and board wish all their patrons a very merry Christmas and happy New Year!

New books:
Fiction
Possession by Peter James; Wideacre, Phillips Gregory.
Non-Fiction
Gross Misconduct, the life of Spinner Spencer by Martin O'Malley; Orser, a skater's life, Brian Orser; Complete Course in Magic, Mark Wilson; Fulford, the Best Seat in the House, Robert Fulford.

On Dec. 14 St. Theresa's held its Christmas concert -- Crusader's Christmas, featuring the concert band directed by Miss Goodrow and the vocal group directed by Mr. Bahdanowicz. There were duets, trios and sectional pieces as well as a piece played by the Grade 9 music class. Grade 13 performed a Saturday Night Live performance. Everyone was invited to sign up and participate and all had a wonderful time. To end on a happy note, Christmas holidays have begun. We would like to wish everyone a safe and happy holiday.
