

Wye Marsh

Jeremy Schneider, 10, stands quiet as a mouse last week at the Wye Marsh. Jeremy feeds a chickadee who landed on his hand for a bit of feed.

Study under way

"All aspects" of the recent Supreme Court of Canada decision on abortion are being studied, Minister of Justice Doug Lewis says.

Lewis, also Simcoe North's MP, said he has initiated studies with his cabinet colleagues.

"All aspects of that decision and of the situation" are being studied. Lewis will bring suggestions to the cabinet "when all of the appropriate studies are done."

An unrelated review of the Young Offenders Act is scheduled to be complete in time for a federal-provincial meeting in June in Prince Edward Island, Lewis said.

WE NOW HAVE OVER A MILLION REASONS TO SERVE!

Consumers Gas recently reached a milestone in its 141 year history. We now serve over one million customers. This accomplishment would have been impossible without the dedication and support of all our employees through the years. Such an achievement confirms our reputation for consistently high performance and, even more importantly, renews our commitment to excellent service.

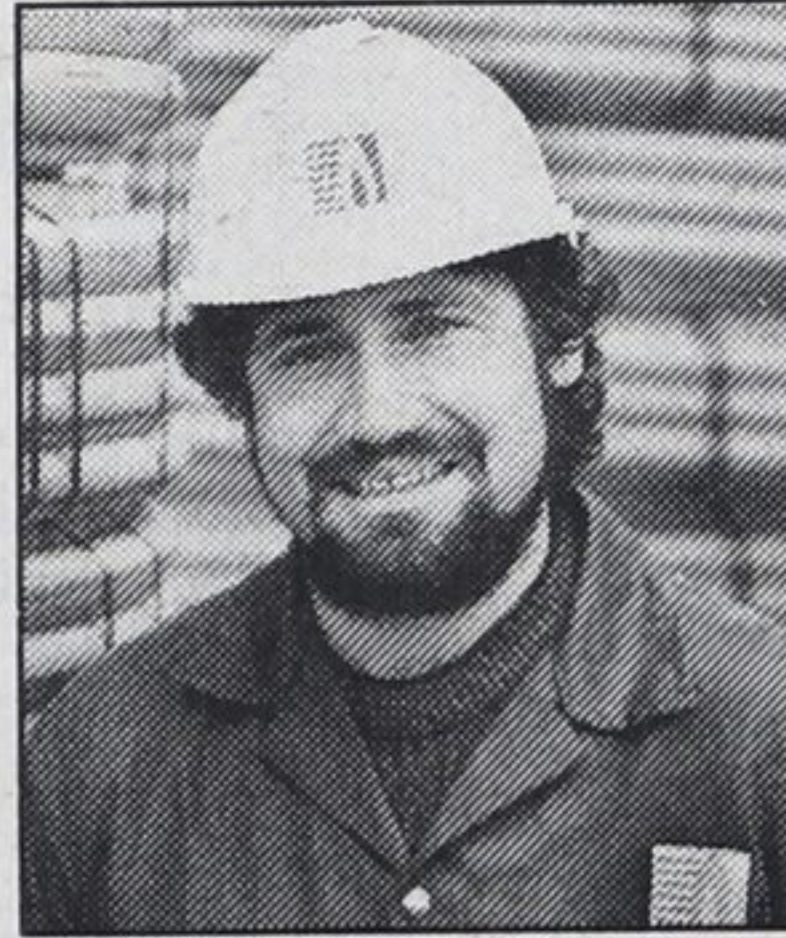

"Our growth has been tremendous, I'm proud to be a part of it."
