

Ladies and Gentlemen--

I HAVE been asked to give, in a few lines, my views about the picture "Carry on, Sergeant!"

Let me say briefly that out of the last ten years' experience in the world of entertainment, never have I had a task which has filled me with a greater sense of enthusiasm or responsibility than the creation of this picture.

I feel honored to have been selected to be the maker of Canada's first big feature production. For over a year now a band of capable enthusiasts worked with myself, on the very difficult and strenuous task of producing this picture, and I know that I voice their opinion as well as my own when I say that if our work leads to the approbation and affection of Canadian audiences, for their own first great screen presentation, we will have been fully repaid.

Dwight D. Davis father

