JOHN GRIEVE, CLERK THIRD DIVISION COURT. Office, Richmond Hill, g.1-wy.

JOSEPH KELLER, DAILIFF Second and Third DIVISION Ourt. Office, Richmond Hill.

G. A. BARNARD, MPORTER of British and American Dry Goods, Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Oils, Paints, &c., &c. Richmond Hill, June, 187, g.1-wy.

P. CROSBY, TARY GOODS, GROCERIES, Wines, Liquors, Hardware, &c Richmond Hill, June, 1857. g.1-wy.

THOMAS SEDMAN, Carriage, Waggon & Sleigh MAKER, Opposite the White Swan Inn.

Richmond Hill, June 10, 1857. g.1-wy. SMELSER & BOWMAN, Licensed Auctioneers!

FOR THE TOWNSHIPS OF Markham & Whitehurch RESIDENCES :-- Henry Smelser, Laskay, King : Thos. Bowman, Almira, Markham. October 15, 1857.

JAMES McCLURE, TNNKEEPER. Licensed Auctioneer for the Counties of York, Ontario and Simeoe. Corner of Youge and Bradford streets, Holland Landing. November, 26, 1857.

JOHN HARRINGTON, JR., MWO Miles North of Richmond Hill, dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Hardware, Glass, Earthenware, &c. Il Also, Licensed Auctioneer. September, 23, 1857.

CALEB LUDFORD, Saddle and Harness Maker, THORNHILL. Thornhill, Nov. 16, 1857.

A. GALLANOUGH, \EALER in Groceries, Wines and Liquors,

J Thronhill, C. W. Choice brands of Teas, Sugars and Coffees on hand, gennine as Imported. Thornaill, Sept. 25, 1857, WELLINGTON HOTEL, TEAR the Railroad Station, Aurora. Careful Hostlers always in attendance. C. CASE. Proprietor.

January 14, 1858.

MANSION HOUSE, CHARON. Attentive Hosders always J. KAVANAGII, January 14, 1858.

MESSRS. J. & W. BOYD, Barristers, &c.,

NO. 7. WELLINGTON BUILDINGS, KING ST., TORONTO. June 20, 1857. CLYDE HOTEL, KING STREET EAST, TO ONTO. (100D Stabling and Attentive Hostlers JOHN MILLS.

Bottled Ale Bepot. 65, YORK STREET. TORONTO, C. W. M. MORRISON, Agent, Torouto, June 12th, 1857.

ROBERT J. GRIFFITH, Elizabeth Street, Toronto,-Over W. Griffith's Grocery Store.

June, 1857,

J. VERNEY, Boot and Shoe Maker. there were two or three very pretty . The girl really looked pretty OPPOSITE A. LAW'S, Youge street, Richmade after the latest styles. August 6, 1857.

and American, Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, No. 80, City Buildings, King Street East, WILLIAM HARRISON, Saddle and Harness Maker, Next door to G. A. Barnard's, June, 1857.

JOHN COULTER, Tailor and Clothier, Yonge St., Richmond Hill,

GEORGE DODD, Veterinary Surgeon. Lot 26, 4th Con., Vnughan.

"HORSE & FARRIER" INN. HENRY SANDERSON

Veterinary Surgeon,

AUCTIONEER. Corner of Youge and Centre Streets, RICHMOND BILL. June, 1857.

J. N. REID, Corner of Yonge and Centre Streets, Thornhill.

August 14, 1857, ROACH'S HOTEL,

March 5, 1858.

JOHN ROACH, SW

OFFENCE TO FRIENDS OR FOES, I SKETCH YOUR WORLD EXACTLY AS IT

Vol. 1.

RICHMOND HILL, FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1858.

Original Boetcy.

ENGLAND, EUROPE'S GLORY

There is a land amidst the waves. Whose sons are fam'd in story. Who never were, or will be slaves, Nor shrink from death or glory, Then str.ke the harp and bid it swell, With flowing bowl before ye-Here's to the land in which we dwell, To England, Europe's glory.

Blest land, beyond all lands afar, Encircled in the waters ; With lion-hearted sons in war. And beauty's peerless daughters So ye, whose discontented hearts Disdain the joys before ve. Go seek a home in foreign parts-Like England, Europe's glory.

Whether in sultry climes ye rove. A solitary stranger, Or seek the foreign fair one's love Where lurk deceit and danger. Waere will you find domestic bless, With social sweets before ve : A land so great, so good as this-Like England, Europe's Glory. J. B.

MY RHEUMATIC FRIEND.

AN ALPINE ADVENTURE. BY SYLVANUS CORE JUN.

Barton had a great time among the Alps. He is of a romantic, ad-An assortment of Bread, Bisenit and Cakes, venturous turn, and the wild scenery of Switzerland just suited him. His her right foot to the ground, but fin- rection I saw the girl whom I had letters continued to come regularly. of his movements was religiously along the Rhone, to Sion. Then he came | trouble for you.' venture, which is worth transcrib- much as ever. ing. His letter, giving me an account of it, was dated at the Hos- to be better from the exercise. But pice of St. Bernard, and ran as fol- I don't live much further, sir.'

Paris, I think I told you I would steer nutes of silence. clear of all such dangers for the future; but a man who is travelling here, and means to examine as he forenoon, and, at the distance of ten as helpless as a sucking babe.' miles, came to the little village of St. Pierre, which stands at the confluence of the entremont and a brisk mountain stream from the eastward. TLAG, Banner and Ornamental Painter, the Hospice of St. Bernard was only seven miles, yet the climb was tedi-To Coats of Arms, and every description of ous; so we resolved to wait and said, in pity. Herald Painting, executed with despatch, and it get some dinner. After the meal 'Yes, sir. But it is a pleasure to muleteer, who informed me that him. ed at once to the house; but none in her. of the others would accompany me. There is our humble cot, sir, she taken his life? Of course not. g22-t | that flank the Val de Bagnes, and I no great distance.

left my horse to rest, choosing to You will come in and see my 'If you will allow my gun to remake the excursion on foot. "I found the valley wild and ro- Of course I will," I replied. into this I turned; and here I found caught his daughter's limp. wondered if I had one of them here. to me, papa."

ankle with both her hands.

French. though she replied in German:

My ankle is broken, I fear.'

Oh! oh! oh!

come out to pick some berries for had experienced, when the quick my poor father, and the foolish blos- cry of a bird fell upon my ear. I girl,' said I. But tell me-could you a row. I jumped up and hurried to thus speaking, I took her carefully by upon the ground, close under the Lake to Villenueva, and thence, by said, 'if it will not be too much took a second look as she was dis- man. He was already upon his leet, great rocks and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- man. He was already upon his leet, great rocks and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis- and the short call walk so, sit, she took a second look as she was dis-back to Martigny, and thence start- 'I assured her that it was no ed to the southward for the great St. trouble to me. On the contrary, I Bernard, intending to visit the should feel it as a pleasure, asi le such a lameness could not have de-Hospice of the Augustine monks in from a duty, to help her to her parted so quickly. There was a that celebrated mountain pass, and home. She seemed very grateful, mystery here, and as I stood there also to view the place where Char- and thanked the Virgin Mother by the window I went into it with lemagne, Frederick Barbarossa, and that I had come. She groaned deep- all my might. My adventure with Napoleon Bonaparte, and the old ly with pain, though I thought, as Romans before them, crossed with we progressed, that she moved along sent to my mind, and it led me at their mighty armies. But before more easily. As I noticed this, I tion That the girl had feigned all the girl stopped till she saw the dently been operated upon more by declare itself the origin of changes

'No, sir,' she replied, 'It seems . You say you live with your fa-

. When I got into that scrape in ther.' I remarked, after a few mi-

'Yes, sir. He and I live alone. 'What does he do for a living?' 'Alas ! nothing, kind sir. He is goes, runs the risk of strange en- unable to work, or even to walk counters. We left Martigny in the about. He can't even stand. He is . What is the matter with him? . Rheumatism, sir. He has been sick with it for years; so sick that most of the time I have to feed him. Though the distance from here to His hands and arms are utterly uselest. Alas! it is very hard, sir. 'And you are his only support,' 1 was over-and an abominable one it me. He cared for me when I was was, by the way-I strolled out for helpless, and I should be unkind, ina walk. In the court I met an old deed, did I refuse now to care for vine-yards on the little mountain now. Her devotion and truth shone stream, and also that I might find through the bronzed skin with a Ladies' and Gentlemens' Boots and Shoes, some game in the valley. I return- beautifying halo. I was interested but robbery ! And would they dare thousand shoes, some game in the valley. I return- beautifying halo. I was interested but robbery ! And would they dare thousand shoes, some game in the valley.

80] CHAS. POLLOCK, 08] made up my mind that I would go opening in a sort of mountain gorge. m's aken, though the entrance of the alone. Accordingly I took my gun It was a log but, built in wigwam gil, imping as painfully as ever, did and started off. The whole stream fashion, and plastered with mud and not help to shake my suspicions. I was not more than eight miles long, moss. A few vines were creeping determined, if possible, to watch the opposite St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, C. W dashing down from the mountains over it, and a cow was feeding at two together without their know-poor father,' she urged.

ragged mountain, while to the north an open window, sat a man, a little door, swept up a narrow strip of arable past the middle age, whose arms and | 'Certainly,' was the response .land, on which the vines grew luxu- legs were drawn up in an awkward 'You will not be gone long,' riantly. I had gone two miles or shape. His head was large and mas- | 'I cannot, for I must return to St. more, without seeing anything to fire sive, though exceedingly flat on the Pierre ere long, I responded.

and had just brought down a splen- turned. 'I fell and hurt my ankle,' the foliage thoroughly screening to Saint Pierre with me. So mind believed him capable of executing dinner without notice, remember another should enjoy what you did hare, when a strange sound but it is better now. I shall soon me. struck upon my ear. It was like the have it well. Still I don't know what I saw? way and pop goes a bullet through ter to his daughter, who was in fa- The wife's want is the have it well. Still I don't know what I saw? way and pop goes a bullet through ter to his daughter, who was in fa- The wife's want is the have it well. Still I don't know what I saw?

But upon listening more attentively, As this naturally turned the fa- his daughter was stepping briskly to no purpose. I had no heart for moon at the lady's house. He was ing all square. I became assured that some fellow ther's attent on upon myself, we ex- about. They were talking very her woe, and no sympathy for her introduced to her, and since then he Don't trust too much to good a mad dog. Contend earnestly for creature was really in suffering not changed salutations; but before I carnestly, and pretty soon we has every day dressed her magnifientered into any conversation with the man take from what seemed to were in motion. She wept and im- cent hair, into which he plunges his ment. The Indians produce fire by though it may not be worth a pin; 'I bagged the hare, and then hur- him I turned to the maiden, and ask- be a locker in the side of the way, but aristocratic hands with ecstacy. As the rubbing of the driest sticks. CORNER of Front and George's rects, ried forward. I was still in the for- ed her if I could be of any further short, heavy club, which he ran when she at length found that my to Middle. X. she appeared fescin- Sugar is the substance most uni- concerned as if it were a pound of the Market. Sugar is the substance most uni- concerned as if it were a pound of the Market. Sugar is the substance most uni- concerned as if it were a pound of the Market. Sugar is the substance most uni- concerned as if it were a pound of the Market. one block east of the Market, est path, which was here quite wide. assistance to her. I told her I was down within the bosom of his frock. heart was not to be touched a lated with her lordly hair-dresser. versally diffused through all natural gold. Never yield a point, be very thing that and in a few moments I came upon the owner of the distressed voice.— possibly help her. But she assured made with the scanty furniture, and savage, and walked along without ity, taste, and savage, and walked along without ity, taste, and skill. As soon as the It was a girl, not more than sixteen me there was no need. She said the after this the fellow sat down in further opposition.

his chair, or carried upon the back of feet off. My fowling-piece was in matic friend just as I had left him, 'I was climbing this tree after a mule. The man gazed at me the corner where I left it. blossoms, sir; and I slipped and fell. sharply as he spoke, and there was I thought, was the result of pain.

'Only a little distance from here, 'My host had just concluded an · Not very foolish either, for a feathered tribe had got into a bit of ed out. and her bare feet moved as readily

> 'What did this mean? Surely the body-snatchers at Paris was preher lameness was to me a simple place. fact, for I knew enough of the human frame to know that such a sprain as she had professed to have, or, for that matter, any sprain at onds, and I resolved to return to my many seconds. If you hesitate to seat and watch the movements of my move as I tell you, you shall have as before, though, I thought, more head Now down upon your belly, uneasily. I now kept a sharp eve flat on the floor !' and serviceable as my own. They ny istol. had not that peculiar nervous aplimb long in pain; and the painful shoot me as I go out.' twitches were too artful and spasmodic for continuous suffering. I ing me, and then I reflected upon she will. the purpose of it. What could it be main here awhile, I should like to take a view from the cliff above mantic enough. On the south the 'The interior of the hut was very your cot,' I said, rising from my seat, stream washed the very base of the comfortable, and upon one side, near and backing politely towards the at, when I came to a point where top; and he must have been a strong 'I went out, and hurried up the to free humself. I took my gun and I will give her a guinea. You shall Wives, be lenient to the martial the stream had cut its way through man in his day, for his shoulders cliff back of the hut, but instead of a solid mountain spur. Over this I were broad, and his chest deep and stoping there, I slipped down climbed, by a good mule-path, and full. His hair was very large and through the thick wood, until I had with all my speed, I put after her Do not answer me. Consult your battle. beyond I saw another plain, parti- heavy, and he sat upon four small reached a point opposite the open I caught her at the edge of the daughter, if you wish. Here is my The wife who would properl ally covered with wood, where wooden trucks, so that his child window of the dwelling, where I wood, and presented my pistol to address. I give you two days to discharge her duties, must never goats were feeding. A little fur- could wheel him about at pleasure. climbed up into a tree. I had cal- her head. ther on I saw a path which led to 'What is the matter with my dar- culated to a charm, for I soon gain- 'O, sir-don't! I wont set him nesday evening I do not receive an The liberties of England have the left, through a lovely wood, and ling? he asked, as his quick eye ed a perch from whence I could free till you are quietly away? look directly into the cot, without 'I don't think you will, my de- And Lord S. went out. He had Let the husband, who would acquire some game. I shot two large birds, 'Only a fall, papa,' she bravely re- the danger of being seen in return, voted girl, for I mean to take you spoken in so decided a tone, that X. the privilege of asking friends to see a smiling face, be jealous lest

ery of a person in distress, and I should have done if it hadn't been But I was not disappointed, nor yet your head! I am in no mood for vor of accepting this singular propo- opportunity. seemed to be a little distance ahead. for this kind gentleman. He found surprised. I saw my rheumatic triffing now. I am in a hurry, and sition. On Tuesday Lord. S. was Notwithstanding the assertions of speak slightly of them. Be con-I had heard of animals whose cries me by the roadside, and has helped friend upon his feet, as straight and you must move quickly. So now informed that it was not desired mathematicians, the marriage-ring stantly afraid lest some one should DHYSICIAN & SURGEON | were like the human voice, and I me home. 'He has been very good strong as a stag! His legs and jog along-come!' arms worked nimbly enough, and She begged and pleaded, but all From that time he has been every have the problem set them of mak- ful against it, and if any one comes vears of age, and belonging, appar- ankle was already better, and a lit- his chair, and the female-interest- . We reached St. Pierre just as the marble table, makes a respectently, to the poorer classes of goat- the swathing would be all that was ing creature !—limped and laughed, my companions, tired of waiting for ful bow to the ludy, and takes his Please to walk in sir, said the herds. Her face was brown from necessary. With this she limped 'I needed no prophet to tell me me, had mounted for St. Bernard; leave. His guinea is every day nurse. exposure, and though her features into a little bedroom in one corner, the rest of the plot. It was perfect- but when they heard my story they given to a poor family, and thus his were homely enough, yet there was which was partitioned off with up- ly plain, as was the course I would concluded to wait. We easily eccentricity is made the cause of a Induction he married the woman, nothing repulsive in them. Her right poles covered with birch-bark, pursue. I came down from the tree found some of the officers of police, good action. Of course it is behead and feet were bare, and a mass and I turned my attention to the and examined my revolver, and then and when I had told them of what lieved that this vaudeville of real put it where I could keep my hand I had seen and done, they were as- life will finish with a marriage. her full shoulders. She was groan- We spoke of his child, whom he upon it without exciting suspicion, tonished. Several travellers had Paris Paper, ing piteously, and holding her right professed to love very much; and I made my way back to the hut been lost in that same gorge, and no then he spoke of the romantic spot over the cliff, and when I entered clue to their fate had ever been What is the matter?' I asked, in in which he had chosen a home. At the man was curled up in his great found. The poor rheumatic had length I touched upon his sickness, chair, and Miss Devotion sat upon been visited, and asked for informa-'She seemed to understand me, and he informed me that he had been a low stool rubbing her skin. The tion, but no suspicion had rested > save that he had rolled about the The view is charming from that floor some.

I have enjoyed such scenes. Ah, ch? I said it must be.

Drop that, villain! I shouted, they were horrible enough. with the muzzle of my pistol in his 'On the following morning the istic and remarkable person, called very face. Drop it, or you die girl was taken out to the hut by the Miriam, who, willful and womanlike, upon the spot! I know you!

all, could not have been cured so 'I know it,' said I, 'and I am go- sure. through my mind in a very few sec- body, one after the other, in as in future.' rheumatic friend. His eyes burned the whole of them through your CAPILLARY ATTRACTION. many an unmarried woman since watched the fellow, keeping up a you lie to me. So down, as I bid tion, He then rented an apartment conversation the while, until I was you and when I am gone, your directly opposite the house of Mon- MINOR MORALS FOR MAR- which were encased in a very morally certain that he was deceiv- daughter can come and untie you if sieur X, and passed every day in to rob a man until they had first pretty soon he got down upon the and be called upon X., and asked Husband and wife should no more They were too tired. So I just cried, as we emerged into a narrow But, after all I might possibly be stout cord which I had seen hang- granted. 'Sir,' said he, 'I come to struggle for the possession of a as I could. He grouned, and swore, you will accept, for it has nothing ing-room, to read while waiting for the cord, if she cannot untie it. proposition is completely pure and The wife is the sun of the social but I don't believe in a feller confident that he had not the power her hair every day, and every day husbands, from flying off into space. left the hut. As I passed out, I saw be there, you, or any other person cigar. The smoke always hides the girl run around the corner, and, you may wish.' 'But, my lord-" the most disagreeable part of the you :- One movement out of the utterly helpless for over six years, chair, however, had been slightly upon so seemingly a helpless being. 'Oh, sir-I have hurt me so badly. His legs and arms were wholly par- moved, so that the man now sat " The girl was lodged in a place alyzed, and he could only move from with his face to the window, a little of safety, and then we rode back to · But how did you do it?' I re- place to place by being dragged in upon one side of it, and about four the hut, where we found my rheu-

Then I must help you, I said, - ish eyes almost painful. But this, 'It must be,' returned my host, the officers, 'this is the lame man! there was a woman in existence though it has been long years since Ah, old fellow, we've found you, qualified to write it-unmarried la-officers, and the bodies-or remains and unquestionably unmarried, was The rascal shrank back, and in --of four men were found in spots still so far from being disrespected a few seconds his club fell to the where Mongariz had buried them. or unimportant that a whole nation floor. He trembled from head to The village was all excitement waited for her until she was able to club fall, and then she fled from the fear of her master than by any de- declare itself the origin of changes, the Scotchman turned to go. sire for crime, is to be sent to an is not the inventor of feminine celi-'It was only a joke, good sir, asylum, or penitentiary, of some bacy. There were unmarried wothe man gasped, trying to look sort; but Master Robert Mongartz men before our time, and there will ing to carry the joke out. So now 'Down the mountain for Italy to- eighteeen hundred years ago, gave bye!' And as he left the room, he 'Now, if the daughter was de- lie down upon your belly. Mark morrow; and you may rest assur- anything but an inferior place to the ceiving me, might not the father be you-I have six bullets here, and I ed that I shall look out for all boy- unwedded maidens of his time :doing the same? All this passed could put them all through your messengers and lame wood-nymphs "She that is unmarried careth for

In a respectable street in Paris pily unwitting of all the philosophies upon his hands, and was not long in But for what? he asked, trying lives a bronze manufacturer, a cer- which should prove to her how from this city, in one of the coldest believing that they were as strong to avoid the ugly looking muzzle of tain Monsieur X., who has a daugh- lonely and comfortless she ought to ter. This girl s truly a 'Fair One find herself, and what a hard case being no stopping place to warm 'I'll tell you, I returned 'If I of the Golden Locks.' Her hair is hers was, and how, notwithstanding, up' at on the road, I was nearly pearance which always attends a leave y u free, I fear you may the finest ever seen on a woman's it behooved her to make some cerhead, silky, flowing and abundant, tain amount of sad and patient ex-'But I have no gen, sir.' Lord S. saw Middle, X., and was ertion to vindicate her womanly 'I won't trust you, for I know magnetised by her capillary attrac- credit with the world. - Blackwood. admiring the head of hair referred 'The fellow saw my determinate. Soon this delight of his eyes . The last word" is the most they became comfortable. floor like a calf. I seized a coil of for a private interview, which was fight to get it than they would ing by the window, and lashed the make you a proposition which con- lighted bomb-shell. villain's wrists behind him as firmly cerns your daughter. I hope that Keep an Epictetus in your dinmy fortune. I come to beg you to keep off them. Your interesting daughter can cut Lord S., 'to repeat to you that my since the flood.

reflect. This is Monday, if by Wed- have a soul "above buttons."

MAIDEN LADIES.

unmarried women long ago, before comformity therewith. They encivilization had made such fatal joyed each other's society, and livprogress. While all the heroines in cd happily. all the novels were still married at eighteen-before the life of Charsomething in the light of his green- cliff, I remarked, as I sat down. . Mein Gott! exclaimed one of lotte Bronte had even begun, or SAWNEY AND THE WIZARD. dies existed in this world, where very good wizard he was-met sir-right through the wood. I had account of some of the troubles he 'tis hard to be shut up like this!' The man protested 'twas all a nothing is ever new. Judging by with a Scotchman, who stole a joke, but no one would believe him; literature, indeed, Scotland herself. march on him after the following 'At this the affectionate daugh- and he was marched back to the our respected "mither," seems al- manner :knew by the sound that some of the ter limped to the window and look- village and locked up. That night ways to have had a fair average of Enter Scotchman. the girl, who gave her name as Julia unmarried daughters; and for the 'I say! You Professor Ander-'O!-My soul!' she cried, clasp- Metzen, made a full confession. instruction of woman kind in gene- son!" walk. think you, by leaning on my the little square window by the in- ing her hands, 'what a curious an- She was no relation of the man's ral, and novel writers in particular, 'Yes, sir, at your service.' valid's chair, and saw a hawk and imal! O, sir, do come and see! but he had found her in Sion, where we are bound to add that there 'Well, you're a smart man, and 'I can try, sir,' she answered, two smaller birds dodging around with a grateful look.

'Of course I went and looked; her mother had led a dissolute life. were three such personages as Miss over the trees. Butthis was not all over the trees. Then let me help you up.' And I saw. Something moving along movement meant. As I passed the gartz (such was the villian's name) Farrier, novelists of the old world, 'Ah! and what tricks are you big chair I gave a secret, sidelong five years, and during that time he and representatives of the three re- up to, sir?' inquired the professor, the arm, and helped her to her feet. window, attracted my attention, and glance that way, and saw the hand had murdered full twenty travellers; spective kingdoms, whom none of amused at the simple fellow. At first she did not venture to put upon bending my knees in that di- lifted to the bosom. I reached the and she had decoyed most of them their successors in the craft have 'Weel, I can take a shilling and window, and made a motion as to his hut. But he had not done yet been able to displace from the change it into a gold piece.' ally she let it down, and, leaning helped home gliding by like a squir- though I would look out, but I did all this at St. Pierre—he had oper- popular liking; so that we might 'O! that's a mere slight-of-hand and his promise to keep me informed heavily upon my arm, she limped rel. She was in a stooping posture, no such thing. With a quick, strong ated in various other places as well. suppose it rather late in the day to trick. I can do that, too. movement I hurled the girl from me, When he had rifled the bodies of begin de novo to teach unmarried 'No, you can't. I'd be much kept. From Geneva he crossed the 'I think I can walk so, sir, she and freely as ever feet moved! I and turned like lightning upon the his victims he buried them under women how, in spite of their unforpleased to see you try.' appearing, and I was not mistaken and the short oaken club, with a carefully that scarcely any trace sible for them to keep themselves your hand with a shifling in it." ponderous leaden head, was half was left. In short, she gave all the respected and respectable. Many The Scotchman stretched out particulars she could remember, and hundred, nay thousand years ago, his paw with a shilling on it.' there was even a certain character-> is the property of the hangman, be unmarried women after it. Nay, ling, and didn't you turn it into not only so-but Paul, the apostle, this yellow thing? Eh? Good-> > the things that belong to the Lord, how she may please the Lord," says the writer of the Epistles; and his day proved his statement, hap-

RIED PEOPLE.

and threatened, but my pistol kept in it not perfectly honorable. - the completion of your wife's toilet. 'Speak, sir.' Sir, my name is Married people should study each But why tie my legs!' he de- Lord S. You have, without doubt, other's weak points, as skaters look manded, as I went at work in that heard of my name, of my rank, of out for parts of the ice, in order to

'it is my pleasure,' I said. 'You accept me as the hair-dresser of Ladies who marry for love should the same time casting a malicious had better have your legs tied than your daughter.' X. showed signs remember that the union of angels ave a bullet through your head, of anger. 'Permit me sir,' added with women has been forbidden greased 'trunks.'

· I lashed his ankles as firmly as I honorable. I will not address a system. Unless she attracts, there had his wrists, and feeling quite word to Middle. X. I will dress is nothing to keep heavy bodies, like a peck of boots, by a darn'd sight!"

answer I will blow out my brains' been won by mutual concessio s. joying the satisfaction of seeing his menace. He spoke of the mat- this when his wife hints at a bonnet. have not. Envy one who is better that he should blow out his brains. is a circle which husband and wife eneroach on your rights; be watch-task is over, he places a guinea upon __Punch's Pocket Book.

A BELLE THAT ANSWERED THE KNOCKER.

A very decent-looking, respectable man, about thirty-five years of age, who carried on some small business, and was a widower and a Wesleyan, knocked at Mr. Brown's door. He was then a perfect stranger. The man servant opened the door, and bear comittee 'I want,' said the stranger, to speak with one of Mr. Brown's female servants. Which?

"Oh, it does not signify which." The announcement was made in the kitchen.

'I'm sure I won't go,' said one. ' Nor I,' said another.

. Then I will,' said the nurse, and straight she went to the door. · Do you wish to speak to me,

'Yes, I do, said the stranger, 'I am a widower, and I hear a very good character of Mr. Brown's ser-and neither of them had any reason to repent the choice thus singularly made. She fell into his ways, had a good voice, and joined him in many a hymn-thus manifesting their happiness and thanks-while he was busy about his work, and It is a fact worth remembering, she rocked the cradle. We have that the maiden lady is not an in- represented them as they were vention of these times. There were seen, and their whole life was in Anderson, the wizard—and a

'This is your shilling, is it sure?' 'It's nothing else.'

'Hold on to it tight, Presto! change! Now open your hand.' Scot opened his hand, and there was a sovereign. 'Weel, you did it decently, I declare; much obleeged to you: I dian't think you could do it.' And may leave my sovereign.' 'Yours? Wern't that my shil-

'I guess there ain't anything green about this child.'

YARN ABOUT LEATHER.

Having occasion to visit a country place, about eight miles distant days of the last winter, and there frozen on my arrival at the only bar-room the village afforded; and I assure you I was not very partieular as to how I got a place by the stove. My feet particularlypretty pair of Patent-leathers'required a deal of toasting before

An old farmer sitting near the stove, who had been eveing me for some time as though he had a great weight on his mind, at last burst

'I say, stranger, you would'nt have such cold feet if you'd wear boots big enough for your feet!" I allowed I was not one of those persons who wished to get a whole side of leather for five dollars, at glance at the old farmer's well-Nor I muther, said the old cock, crowdin' a half bushel of feet inter

How to be MISERABLE .- In the first place, if you want to be miserable, be selfish. Think all the time of yourself and of your own things. Don't care about anybody else. Have no feeling for any one but yourselves. Never think of enothers happy, but the rather, if you think unkindly towards them and near your things, snap at him like for your "rights" are just as much the most serious manner-

Was keek a supple bester.