

DUEL IN MONTREAL.

The Montreal Herald of Thursday the 16th tells the following story:—It is very seldom we have been called upon to notice duels fought in this city, but as we have been informed of one alleged to be fought yesterday, we felt ourselves constrained to lay before our readers the facts as we have heard them, desiring it to be borne in mind that the circumstances we are about to relate are gathered from the statements of one of the persons concerned—namely, Councillor Anclair. It would appear, then, that about half-past ten o'clock yesterday morning, Councillor Anclair, while walking in McGill street, was accosted by a stranger whose name he did not know, but who, at any rate, came from France. This stranger told the Councillor that his conduct on the night previous in supporting the Mayor was not becoming a gentleman. To this Councillor Anclair replied that he had a right to think and act as he pleased—that he was of opinion the Mayor should be sustained—and that, therefore, he supported him. The stranger, it is stated, then observed Councillor Anclair was a rascal, in answer to which assertion the Councillor said: "You may prove that, if you like; but not in the street." The stranger said he had pistols; and he, with a friend who accompanied him, as well as the Councillor, at once took a cab and drove in the direction of Sherbrooke-st. The three then repaired to a field in the rear of McGill College. The pistols were then loaded by the stranger's friend—Councillor Anclair and the stranger then separated ten paces. The word was given, and they both fired. The stranger fell wounded in the right foot; his opponent was unharmed. Councillor Anclair states he could not even make out the names of the stranger; but he says he was a tall, dark man, and resides in a certain hotel in the vicinity of McGill street. Councillor Anclair himself is a man upwards of fifty years of age, and the vision is not the strongest; in fact, it is stated that he had to use spectacles while engaged in the duel. So far this is all that is known of the matter. No doubt further details will be made known in a day or two. The above facts were, yesterday forenoon, stated in the ante-room of the City Council, and alleged by Councillor Anclair, in the presence of three Councillors and other gentlemen present, to be substantially correct.

DARING ATTEMPT TO REMOVE A CHURCHYARD.—London was unusually excited on Saturday morning, upon the fact being announced that an attempt had been made the previous night, to remove holly, the undertaking establishment of Mr. Jarman, from its location on Richmond street. The bombardment was commenced, we understand, about half-past eleven o'clock at night, and had it not been for the extraordinary presence of mind displayed by the dealer in coffins, the whole building would doubtless here this have been some distance from where it now stands. The reason for this movement, on the part of the midnight scamp, engaged in the disgraceful affair is explained as follows: Mr. Jarman, being desirous of extending his business, and wishing to place his establishment before the public in as prominent a light as possible, some time since erected immediately over his door a pyramid, or miniature churchyard; this, although it probably threw an extra job into the way of the undertaker, proved an eyesore to many of our citizens who daily passed that way, and on more than one occasion lately, Mr. Jarman received anonymous letters, to the effect that if he did not remove the obnoxious "signboard" it would mysteriously vanish some fine night, from its pedestal. The threat was therefore carried into effect on Friday night. The first intimation Mr. Jarman had of the assault upon his premises, was by feeling a slight sensation while in bed, as if the building had been struck by a thunderbolt. He immediately arose, opened the door, and appeared just in time to witness the heads of some five or six graceless fellows disappearing in the distance, besides the faint outline of a wagon, which had evidently been engaged in the attempted removal. The proceedings being thus suddenly put to stop, Mr. Jarman hastened to examine the damage to his premises, and found that the "chrchyard" in question, by means of a rope placed around it, had been drawn from its position, and hung dangerously over the building, and the coffin which it was surmounted, was found next morning on a fence on Talbot street. The destruction to the house is not so serious as was anticipated, and we find that the "chrchyard" is again in its old place, minus the coffin and urn which graced its top, Mr. Jarman having busied himself on Saturday in putting matters to rights.—Prototype.

THE FIRE ON SUNDAY MORNING.—On Sunday morning, about eight o'clock, a stable in Lennox-lane, was discovered to be on fire. The stable was situated immediately in rear of Lamplough's tavern, Colbourne-street. On the alarm being given the brigade turned out in the most prompt manner. When they got to the place they found the flames issuing through the roof of the stable, but in a few minutes, through their energetic conduct, and a supply of water, the fire was extinguished. Mr. Robt. Paul, who had a couple of horses in the stable, which fortunately were saved, states that he was in the place about an hour before the fire occurred, and that all was right at that time. Two men were apprehended on the spot at the instance of Coroner Cotter, on suspicion of having set the place on fire; their names are John Flock and Martin Mear. They were brought before the police magistrate yesterday morning, and remained to wait the result of the coroner's investigation. Coroner Cotter was busily making preliminary inquiries yesterday, and will hold an inquest during the course of to-day. The only damage done by the fire was the destruction of the roof of the stable and the burning of a quantity of hay. The owner of the place, which is said to be insured, is Mr. Thos. Armstrong, who resides on Yonge-street, about 10 miles from Toronto.—Globe.

THE COMPOSITION OF THE NEW HOUSE OF COMMONS.

From the London Morning Herald. The landed interest muster in average strength, and with one tenant farmer representing agriculture. Commercial interests are watched over by twenty bankers, (four of whom are Bank of England directors), five money dealers, twenty-seven merchants, five shipowners, four brewers, four iron masters, one copper master, two coal owners, one timber dealer, and one builder. Our manufacturers are represented by twelve cotton spinners, three manufacturers of linen, one of silk, one of alpaca, one of carpets, one of porcelain, one of glass, and one of paper. A score of directors protect the railways, and four of the members do the like for the city corporation. The turf has its friends in the members for London, Tiverton, Tamworth, Huntingdon, Stoke-upon-Trent, and the Falkirk Burghs. Science and art are meagrely represented by one architect and three civil engineers; while the army marches into parliament eight generals, one colonel, sixteen lieutenant colonels, six majors, ten captains, and one lieutenant, besides forty-eight officers of the regular and fifty-five of the militia, while the present volunteer force of the kingdom is represented by about fifty officers of the yeoman cavalry and the lieutenant of the honorable artillery company. By the side of this array the service cuts a poor figure, with its five admirals and four captains. The medical profession sends only Dr. Mitchell (Bodmin) and Dr. Brady (Leitrim County); but the brethren of the law muster strongly, presenting a terrible battalion of eight solicitors, forty-six practising barristers (of whom seventeen are Q.C.'s) one sergeant, one judge advocate, and one ex-litany judge.—The fourth estate has its representatives on the floor as well as in the gallery in the proprietors or editors of the Times Illustrated News, Weekly Dispatch, Leeds Mercury, and Cork Examiner. Poetry claims Lord John Russell, Lord Manners, Mr. Mouncton Milnes, and Mr. H. B. Sheridan. History has Mr. Massy.—Fiction and general literature boast the Colonial Secretary, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Haliburton, 'Eothens', Kingslake, Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Roebuck, Sir G. C. Lewis, and one-and-twenty authors of professional works, travels, political pamphlets, &c. To complete the list, Edinburgh sends a publisher and Northampton a retired bookseller.

SUICIDE.—Mrs. McCulloch, of Port Dalhousie, committed suicide on Monday night last under the following painful circumstances. It appears that between her and her husband some difference occasionally occurred. On Monday evening she appeared to be from some cause or other, more than usually excited, and she refused to sleep in the same bed with him, but insisted on going to bed with an unmarried daughter who abode with them in the house. During the night she got out of bed, entered her husband's bed-room, and said a few angry words to him. She then left his bed-room, as he supposed, to return to her daughter's apartment; but early in the morning she was found a corpse on the floor of another room, with a viol at her side, which apparently contained some poisonous substance. It is believed that she poisoned herself whilst in so excited a state. Mr. McCulloch was the unfortunate woman's second husband.—Colonist.

EXTENSIVE FIRE IN GALT.—On Sunday morning last, about half past three o'clock a fire broke out in the vacant premises belonging to Mr. J. H. Smith, and formerly occupied by Mr. D. Oliver as a boot and shoe store. The building as well as those adjoining being frame, the fire spread with astonishing rapidity, and before long the extensive range of structures intervening the drug store of Mr. Olier and the law office of John Miller, Esq., was a mass of flame. The heat was intense, and it was feared at one time that the buildings on the opposite side of the street would also be consumed, but owing to the praiseworthy exertions of some of the citizens, they escaped with a pretty severe scorching. Had the storehouse of Messrs. Hall and Warton and the buildings belonging to Mr. Craig caught fire, nothing could have prevented the largest fire that has ever occurred in Galt from taking place.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.—The name of this lady must be familiar to our readers, and her heroic devotion during the Crimean campaign must yet be fresh in their memories. They will rejoice therefore to learn that the Cork Examiner announces her conversion to the Catholic faith, and her reception into the Convent of the Sisters of Charity at Gorey, County Wexford, Ireland. This conversion occurred so soon after that of the Duke of Leeds, will inevitably create a great sensation in the non-Catholic ranks.—True Witness.

THE ORANGE SOCIETY.—We learn that the Hon. John Hillyard Cameron was yesterday elected at Hamilton, Grand Master of the Orange Society by a majority of twelve over his chief opponent, whom we presume to have been Mr. C. L. Allen, the late Grand Master, at which our intelligence is not very precise on that point.—Globe.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.—The Normal School will, we understand, not be disturbed in its occupation of the Chateau and the Castle Garden, the Executive having leased the splendid new edifice lately erected by the Jesuits, in rear of the Congregationalist church in Dauphin street, for the use of the Crown Lands and Public Works Departments. Quebec Gazette.

FIRE IN LONDON.

On Sunday afternoon, about five o'clock, a fire was discovered in the kitchen of a frame building occupied by Mr. Morley. The fire was first seen on the floor directly at the back of the kitchen stove, and was supposed to have originated from overheating. The flames quickly communicated to the walls and thence to the roof, but by the prompt assistance of the neighbors, aided by the engines, was subdued. The furniture was somewhat damaged by hasty removal. The building, which is situated on Talbot street, is the property of Mr. F. Corbish, and was uninsured.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—The Free Press of Tuesday says:—Yesterday morning, between the hours of nine and ten o'clock, a child belonging to a person named Scott, who resides on Talbot street, near the creek, fell head foremost into the rain water tub, and remained in it for some minutes. Providentially its mother discerned the accident before life had departed, and although it had turned quite black, Dr. Lee having been sent for, and arriving at the house immediately, had recourse to the usual remedies, and after fifteen minute's hard work succeeded in restoring animation.

PHONOGRAPHY, OR, WRITING BY SOUND.

PHONOGRAPHY was invented by ISAAC PITMAN, of Bath, England, in the year 1837. It is the most simple, most natural most rapid, and most easily-learned system of Writing which has ever been, or ever can be invented. During the past fifteen years, hundreds of thousands of persons, in England and America, in both public and private life, have learned to write Phonography, and thousands of social, and business letters annually pass through the post office. Nor is its great popularity to be wondered at. The present system of writing is exceedingly cumbersome, and totally unworthy these days of progress and invention. Phonography is equally as legible, can be learned in twenty-four hours, and can be written six times as fast! In other words, the labor of six days can be performed in one—no man can do the work of six! So simple is the system, too, that a person may learn to write it slowly, in a couple of hours. A learner's daily practice for a few weeks will enable any person to write Phonography with certainty, and with some degree of freedom. The same amount of practice continued for six months will enable a person to take reports of speeches, lectures, sermons, or conversations, and to read them with accuracy. Dr. J. W. Stone, of Boston, says: "I deem Phonography an invaluable adjunct to education, and one which, when acquired in youth, would not be parted with in manifold for thousands of dollars." The late Hon. Thos. H. Benton, upon being presented with a verbatim report of one of his masterly speeches, taken by a little boy only twelve years of age, said: "Had this art been known 40 years ago it would have saved me 20 years hard labor." The learned senator spoke but a portion of the truth. What long-hand requires six years to accomplish, Phonography will perform in one. To Clergymen, Editors, Physicians, Lawyers, Secretaries, Conveyancers, Law and Medical Students, Lecturers, Printers, School Teachers, Merchants, School Boys and Girls, a knowledge of Phonography is of vast utility.—In fact there is no profession or calling in which the subscriber is now prepared to supply all persons in Canada, of every pursuit in life, have acquired the Art, from many of whom phonographic letters, expressive of their delight with the attainment, and the extraordinary ease with which they have acquired it. For the purpose of aiding in the dissemination of so important a reform in his own country, the subscriber is now prepared to supply all who apply, with the MANUAL OF PHONOGRAPHY, and the PHONOGRAPHIC COPY BOOK, sent by mail to any part of the Province, postage pre-paid, for the small sum of ONE DOLLAR. Anybody and everybody, who can learn anything, can learn PHONOGRAPHY from the Manual, without other assistance. Those who wish to be able to put their thoughts to paper at the rate of from 100 to 250 words "per minute," should send for the above-mentioned works at once. The instruction given by the Manual is as plain as A. B. C., and ten times as easy to understand. The "CANADIAN PHONETIC PIONEER" is a Monthly Journal, devoted to the advocacy of the Reform. Price 25 cents per annum. Address, (post-paid) WILLIAM H. ORR, Ottawa, C. W.
