THE BATTLE OF SOLFERINO.

From the London Daily News. The second great battle against the Austrian power in Italy has been fought, and a second time the Austrians have been utterly defeated. At Magenta the victory was in some respect due to the incompetency of Gyula...

of Solferino. The Sardinians were repulsed; but at the same time it appears that the centre was forced, for the Austrian telegram says "that order in that quarter could not be restored."

THE "CANADA'S" NEWS.

From the Globe. The Canada brings no more accounts of battles. The Austrian army, still under the command of the Emperor, is quiescent, probably preparing for another gigantic effort against the allies who have crossed the Mincio...

right wing of the army occupied Poeso- lengo, Solferino and Carrario. The left wing marched on the 24th to Guidizzolo and Castlegoffredo...

The Imperial army continues its advance towards the Chiasso. The enemy who had also assumed the defensive with his whole force, pushed forward such large bodies of troops that there was a general engagement of the two armies at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 24th.

Towards three o'clock the enemy made a vehement attack on Solferino, and after several hours hard fighting obtained possession of the place which had been heroically defended by the 5th corps d'armee.

An attack was then made on Carraria, which place was courageously defended by the 1st and 6th corps d'armee. But was eventually left in possession of the enemy. While the struggle for Solferino and Carraria was going on the 8th corps d'armee which was on the outer flanks of the right wing, advanced and repulsed the Sardinian troops opposed to it...

Unusually heavy losses, and the fact that the left wing of the 1st army was unable to make progress on the right flank of the enemy who directed his main force in the encounter against a place called Volta, led to the retreat of the Imperial army.

NOTICE.

HAVING, on the 19th instant, disposed of my interest in the "York Herald," to ALEXANDER SCOTT, all parties interested in the concern are requested to pay their accounts to him or his order.

ORANGE PROCESSION.

To recall the past is in one sense we are aware an absolute impossibility. Once gone, gone forever, but not so the memory of the deeds done during the past. They live many of them, not only in poetry and song, but they also have a practical bearing upon the present and the future.

from the thralldom of a narrow-minded and bigoted king, and gave to us the liberty we now enjoy.

The Markham District Orange Lodges met on Tuesday last at Thornhill. The day was fine, but oppressively hot. About 11 A.M. the Victoria Square, No. 644, accompanied by the Richmond Hill Lodge, No. 778, and a splendid Brass Band, led by W. Trudgeon, Esq., arrived at the Swan Hotel.

The Rev. G. S. J. Hill was appointed chairman, and called upon W. Button, Esq., County Master, to move the first resolution, which was seconded by Dr. Dunham.

The next resolution was very ably moved by Mr. G. Feely, seconded by Col. Bridgford. It ran thus: "That the secret signs and passwords of the Loyal Orange Institution are merely used to test the good standing of members, and to prevent the intrusion of strangers into their lodges."

The above resolutions were all carried unanimously. A vote of thanks was then passed to the Rev. S. Johnson, for his able sermon. The Rev. gentleman on coming forward was enthusiastically applauded, and addressed the audience at some length.

ORANGE DEMONSTRATION AT AURORA.

Bright and early on Tuesday might be seen preparations making for spending a joyous day in this village, to commemorate the Battle of the Boyne, and we are bound to say that never on any previous occasion was there such a gala day—there being four splendid Brass Bands present.

SOIRÉE AT RINGWOOD.

Our temperance friends seem determined, despite the hard times, to have their soirees, and imposing demonstrations, thus agitating the public mind and increasing their numbers, power and influence.

MOWERS AND REAPERS.

We beg respectfully to call the attention of farmers to a communication from R. Marsh, Esq., as given elsewhere, speaking in high terms of the Mowing Machine, manufactured by the Messrs. Patterson & Brother of Richmond Hill.

MAGISTRATES' COURT.

Before R. MARSH, and Dr. DUNCAN, Esq's., J. P's. W. DUNCAN was brought up on a charge of causing the death of a pig belonging to Mr. Conley.

TO GOOD TEMPLARS AND SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

We beg to inform all Divisions of the above societies, that we are now prepared to print the Constitution and By-laws of the above societies at prices that will defy competition, and at the shortest possible notice.

Correspondence.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. No Communication of a purely personal character, and having no bearing on the general interests of the community, will be published in this paper.

To the Editor of the York Herald.

Str.—Allow me to disabuse the mind of "A Teacher," in reference to the objects of the "County of York Teachers' Association," for I conceive your correspondent in the following sentence charges the Association with that of which it is not guilty, namely: discussing subjects not in consonance with its object.

whether or no school supervision is embraced in the meaning of the clause,—the cause of education,— and whether it is of sufficient importance to repay attention to its working; also, whether School Teachers—men who are every day working under the system—ought to be able to give any information on the subject, and of what value that information is likely to be.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE YORK HERALD.

Str.—I consider it a duty that I owe to the farming community of this neighbourhood, to express in a public manner my entire satisfaction with a Mowing Machine that I purchased from Messrs. Patterson & Brother, Farming Implement Manufacturers of this place, it being far superior to any mowing machine that I have seen heretofore.

To the Editor of the York Herald.

Str.—You will permit me to offer a few remarks in reply to "Z's" communication, which appeared in your last number. It is not my intention to discuss further the controverted statements.

A SON OF TEMPERANCE, AND GOOD TEMPLAR. Markham, July 13, 1859.

A FEARFUL PERFORMANCE.

On Saturday night, at a little after eleven, subsequent to the play, the curtain rose at the Metropolitan and exhibited M. Blondin standing on the lower part of the rope which led from the back part of the stage of the Metropolitan up to the roof of the theatre in the third tier, an elevation of fifty feet, at an angle of forty-four degrees, with Col. Lon Smith, soundly and firmly perched on his shoulders.

MEMOR.

I may some time in the future occupy some of your valuable space, and the attention of your readers, in noting the superiority of County Superintendents over Township ones.

Whitechurch, July 6, 1859.

SUNSTROKE.—Two or three cases of sunstroke occurred yesterday. But none of them were very serious. Mr. McBirnie of Yorkville, who was walking in the procession, was among the sufferers, but being taken into Caer Howell and properly attended, he soon recovered.
