and by four o'clock all that remained of this splendid edifice was a heap of smouldering ruins. The origin of the fire has not been definitely ascertained, although the general opinion appears to be that it was caused by friction of the machinery, in consequence of neglect to properly oil it, or by some of the mill-stones becoming empty. The different fire companies were early on the spot, but their efforts were only directed to prevent the spreading of the flarnes to the miller's buildings and conner-shops—as all hopes of saving the mills attracted to join the volunteer corps by a the flates to the finiter's outdings and looy stay asset in the volunteer corps by a was abandoned the moment the extent and force of the fire had become known—which they succeeded in doing, although the heat was so intense as to blister and take off all pendance, but I am also very fond of was so intense as to blister and take off all pendance, the paint. The destruction of three mills is a serious loss to this community, and especially to those residing in and near the Hollow, Lock No. 2, some 30 or 40 of whom depended entirely upon employment in and around them. The loss cannot be less than $50,000. These mills were derived the serious control of t stroved by fire some 13 or 14 years ago, and those destroyed this morning were erected by Mr. J. L. Ranney, in 1844 or '45, and were frequently repaired and improved subsequently; but when Mr. C. INCIDENTS OF THE WAR.

A SURPRISE .- A good story is told in the Sport newspaper. A detachment of the Austrians was sent from Peschiera by the railway to reinforce General Urban. The engineer, by accident or design, brought the train to the quarters of the French army. The soldiers of the lutter opened the doors, cryingout, Gentlemen, change carriages here for France if you please.

ENTHUSIAM OF THE MILANESE LA-DIES.—After witnessing a grand representation at the Scala, Victor Emmanuel, on leaving the royal box, unexpectedly saw himself surrounded by a bevy of the lema'e gristogracy. All that Milan boasts of fair and noble were there, cager to profler to the gallant sodier king their tribute of grati-tude and admiration. The pent-up emo-tions of years found a vent, and the warmth of the Lombard character displayed itself of the Lomona character usphages the montroled. They bung weeping upon his hands, they poured forth vows of allegiance, the most timid strived to get sufficiently near at least to touch his coat, till at least one, entirely carried away by enthusians, flung her arms around Majesty's neck and kissed him on both cheeks. The rest required no bidding to follow this example, and thus successively tendered homage to their new monarch, tendered homage to their new monarch, Victor Emmanuel, nothing loth, returning as well as receiving his fair subject's salutation, while the Emperor, all etiquette forsetten, shood by laurhing heartiff at the connection between them and the house. gotten, stood by laughing heartily at the Jewish officers now serving in the French army in Italy have been published. This is an extraordinary number, but the catalogue is incomplete, and a supplementary list is promissed. As in France, promotion entirely depends upon individual merit, this bumber of officers is a most honorable testimony to Jewish bravery, skill, and morality, especially when it is borne in mind with the list of the control of the that the whole Jewish population of France does not exceed 100,000 souls.

EXECUTIONS OF ITALIAN SOLDIERS.

A banquet was given to Sir Allen Mc-Nab at Brighton last week, and every pre-paration was made to make the affair a success. Unfortunately, however, the he-ro of the banquet himself was not present and thereby set the fashion by and a note was red by the chairman to the dressing their families for a summe and a note was red by the charman to the disconsolate supporters of the honorable baronet, stating his inability, from illness, to attend. This announcement, cast a gloom over the party. The dinner was despatched almost in silence. A few set toasts and compliments were passed, and the meeting dispersed.—West Sussex expended between $15,000 and $20,000 to in refitting and improving the machinery and property generally, so that with all these improvements, it is no boast to say that it was the best mill in Canada. PITMAN. of Bath, England, in the vear 1837. It is the most simple, most natural most rapid, and most easily-learnest systom, of Writing which has ever bean, or ever can be invented.

During the past fiftien veers, bubdieds of thousands of persons, in England and America, in both public and private life, have jearned to write Phonography, and thousands of secind, and hasiness letters annually plast through and hasiness letters annually unworldy these days of prosperses and invention. Thomography is equally as legible, can be learned in one-twentiath the time, and can be written siz times as fast! In other words, the labor of six days can be performed in one-one man can do the work of six! So simple is the system, too, that a person may learn to write it slowly, in a coupie of hours. An hour's daily practice for a few wocks will enable any aprèson to write Phonography with certainty, and with some degree of freedom. The same amount of practice continued for six months will cuable a person to take reports of speeches, lectures, sermons, or conversation, and to read hem with accuracy.
