

MY STARS AND GARTERS.
I sometimes wish I were a King That honor's fountain I might be;
And oh, how fresh you'd find the spring If honor bubbled forth from me!
For rank and title I'd bestow, By an old rule, on subjects new;
Since I should by the maxim go, Honor to whom the same is due.
My coronets the heads should grace That held within the highest brain; Science I give at least a place As good as eminent chieftain; For I'd think useful knowledge ought To hold its head as high as law,
And to suppose that men of thought Deserve no less than men of jaw.
Brave soldiers I would still promote,
And sailors—for they keep the peace;
And for that cause, with equal note, Would I distinguish the police.
The knife encountered in the slums Should merit valor's cross to show; Death from a home-born savage comes As like as from a foreign foe.
What are domestic cut-throats less Than sepoys, or than sepoys more?
What else are slaves, with full excess Who burn to ravage England's shore?
From equal blackguards, guards alike, Police men act with soldier's heart;
And soldiers for Britanna strike, As constables for foreign parts.
Inspectors I would captains make, Superintendents all should be Colonels; commissioners should take A general officer's degree.
Our heroes, blue and red, should share An equal glory and renown.
For braving danger here and there,
In putting devils and ruffians down—Punch.

Miscellaneous.
Ignorance and conceit are two of the worst qualities to combat. It is easier to dispute with a statesman than a blockhead.
Mrs. Partington says that Louis Napoleon is succeeding beyond his most sanguinary expectations.
The oldest inhabitant is the link between the dead and the living. He remains here to check the vanity of the present by his testimony to the past.
Denying a fault doubles it. Envy shoots at others and wounds herself.
Foolish fear doubles danger. He has hard work who has nothing to do.
Small faults indulged; are little thieves that let in greater. Upright walking is the surest gait. Virtue and happiness are mother and daughter.
Somebody says that "morning is the spontaneous escape of those malignant fancies which the sleeper has not time to vent when awake.
The tradesman who does not advertise liberally has been very appropriately compared to a man who has a lantern, but is too stingy to buy a candle.
We once heard a man give his other orders as follows: "LARRY, take the harness boff the horse, slip the 'alter hovers' 's lead, hand give 'im some 'ay hand hoats'.
Only blacksots should belong to clubs, Hercules gave up the club when he married Dejanira, and all good husbands should follow his example.
"I didn't dare to tell you, wife, before we were married, that my teeth are false."
"I could get along well enough, husband, if your teeth were the only false thing you carry in your mouth!"
The very last curiously spoken of in the papers, is a wheel that came off a dog's tail when it was a waggin'. The man who discovered it has retired from public life to live on what he owes.
A spirited woman caught her husband in the act of breaking up her hoops.
"The exertion, or something else, had a singular effect upon him, for his hair flew out by handfuls.
Mrs. Partington asks, very indignantly, if the bills before Parliament are not counterfeit, why should there be such a difficulty in passing them?
"I never give alms to strangers," said Huix, to a poor Irishwoman. "Sure, then, your honor will never relieve an angel," was her quick reply.
One of the wise men said, years ago, if you want to learn human nature get married to a spunky girl, move into a house with another family, and slap one of the young 'uns, and it will not take many minutes to learn it to perfection.
A well known miser died recently in New Jersey, leaving a large sum of money which will go to his two nephews.
He was eighty years old and died with the firm belief that after some years of slumber, he should return to earth a young man, when he is to receive the money with interest. His heirs seem quite willing to take the money on those terms.
An acquaintance showed me a most portentous-looking bill that had been sent to him.
"God send it, it's a precious long one," "It is," said my acquaintance, "but he'll find the time a precious deal longer before he gets it, I reckon." He went abroad a day or two afterwards.
We were amused, not long since, at hearing the following question addressed to a landlady by an eccentric genius.
Stepping into the door, he observed:
"Will you, ma'am, give me a drink of water, for I am so hungry I don't know where to stay to night." We doubt whether more meaning could be embodied in so few words.

The Scottish American Journal DEVOTED TO THE Interests of Scotchmen in America, AND TO THE DISSEMINATION OF SCOTTISH LITERATURE AND ART!
CONSIDERING the multiplicity of newspapers in America, it has to be said, that the numerous body of Scotch residents should have been so long unrepresented.
To supply this desideratum, No. 1, of the Scottish American Journal was published on Saturday, January 1, 1857, and is now continued weekly.
The primary object of the JOURNAL is to furnish its readers regularly with the news of their native country. It presents a weekly record of all events of interest occurring in Scotland, and its subscribers are in this way fully informed of what is transpiring at home as if they were in regular receipt of an old-country paper. Scotch questions will be discussed with intelligence and impartiality in the editorial columns, and the sentiments of the leading parties on these subjects will be fairly represented and commented upon.
In the literary and miscellaneous department of the paper, while merit and talent will be appreciated from whatever country they emanate, the Scotch element will be preponderant. Tales, sketches, and poetry illustrative of the Scotch character, and of a nature fitted to call forth the sympathies of Scotchmen both at home and abroad, will occupy a conspicuous place. In this department, the co-operation of various distinguished authors, possessing original faculties for the task, has been secured.
In public, the JOURNAL will occupy a thoroughly independent position, alike free from party bias and national prejudice. In order to be a true and reliable guide, it will take a broad view of topics of the day, and will not be content with a merely local interest, except in so far as they may present points of importance to the general public. Questions involving the interests of British residents in the United States and in the British Colonies, will be frequently considered, and it is believed that the information and news of the JOURNAL on this important class of subjects will be such as shall command attention.
The Scottish American Journal, will in every respect be conducted in an efficient and business-like manner, with every requisite guarantee for its permanence. The proprietors, who are responsible parties, resident in New York and elsewhere, therefore look with confidence for the support of their numerous contributors in all parts of America, and they will be equally ready to receive contributions from any distance who may be disposed to cooperate with them for the establishment of the paper in their respective localities.
A publication established with these objects in view, and which will be conducted with the same conscientiousness, both of descent with the country whose current history it chronicles; but as the history of this journal necessarily includes, in addition, the treatment of all important questions affecting American interests, and as it is believed that the JOURNAL will thus be able to command the confidence of readers in a distance who may be disposed to co-operate with them for the establishment of the paper in their respective localities.

NEW
HISTORY OF CANADA
THE members of the Bookkeeping trade, and the Public of Canada in general, are respectfully informed that it is intended to publish, by Subscription, a New History of Canada, (founded on that of Mr. F. X. GARREAU), according to an encouraging number of Subscribers can be obtained.
The recent appearance of a third and much improved edition of "HISTORY OF CANADA" by Mr. GARREAU, has given rise to a wish, expressed to Mr. L. LOVELL, by several of his friends and commercial connections, that he would undertake to publish a counterpart, in English, of the above work—the best Canadian History extant—such modifications as would make it acceptable to the tastes of our people, whether of British or French origin. Accordingly, regarding the desire thus expressed, Mr. Lovell has engaged the services of Mr.
Andrew Bell, Member of the Glasgow Archæo-logical Society, also of the Canadian Institute, Montreal; author of "Men and Things in America," "Historical Sketches of Feudalism, British and Continental"; "Lives of the Illustrious"; "New Annals of Old Scotland"; and other works—a gentleman of great literary experience—as translator, compiler, and editor of what he purposed to edit "A New and Comprehensive History of CANADA," from the foundation of the Colony till the year 1841, —to be based on the third and latest edition of
"HISTORY OF CANADA" of Mr. Garreau.
Furthermore, Mr. Lovell having made application to the Hon. the Attorney General, in respect to his title, a draft of his work on subscribed publication has been obtained; so that the translation of his labors, now prepared (with modifications and additions, as aforesaid), becomes the only published reproduction of the French version of the work.
It is proposed that the "COMPREHENSIVE HISTORY OF CANADA" shall form three handsome volumes, in demy octavo, and be printed in a superior style, on paper of the best quality.
Each volume will comprise from 400 to 500 pages. Price $1.50 for the whole.
Parties taking an interest in the early history of the Colony, are now respectfully called on to "subscribe" for the Edition, as any unpublished or little-known historical, antiquarian, or other materials as they may have lying by them.
The donors of all such materials will be secured that special acknowledgment will be made in the work of every favor thus obtained.
It is hoped that the publisher may be enabled to bring out the work, complete, early in the Fall of 1859.
Subscription Lists will be found at the bookstores in Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, Kingston, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, &c., and at the Office of the Publisher, in St. Nicholas Street, Montreal; also at Ste. Anne Street, Quebec.

DR. MORSE'S
Indian Root Pills.
DR. MORSE, the inventor of Morse's Indian Root Pills, has spent the greater portion of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr.
Morse was the first to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depend upon this vital fluid.
When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every kind; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become thick and clogged, and thus our health will be forever blighted out.
How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open.
And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your hands, capable of removing the impurities from the blood, and thus restoring to you the purity of the blood.
The Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountain sides in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased men. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and causes Nature to throw off the impurities of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an expectorant, that opens and clears the passage to the lungs by capillary spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives the blood and urine the power to cleanse the system, by encouraging the flow of urine, thus encouraging the flow of blood; the fourth is a purgative of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and removed from the system.
From the above, it is shown that Dr.
Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the blood, but become mixed with the blood, and thus release the system from all impurities, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all diseases and pains arising from an impure blood, are removed from the system, for the reason that the impurities which remain within the body become so pure and clear.
The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass into the blood, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out;
therefore, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus, undigestible, disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until the life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves victory upon victory, by restoring the blood to its natural purity, and thus happiness, and health, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out;
therefore, a large quantity of food and other matter
is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are
literally overflowing with the corrupted mass;
