Or other foolish caper, I never get to hear of it, 1 do not take the paper.

Why, there's my neighbor, Jonathan Sa He always has his news, And having news to talk about, He never gets the blues.

While others yawn in ennui, His mind is light as vapour; The cause is plain to half an eye, He always takes the paper.

While neighbour Stout hears all the news. And knows each current price And always minds his P's and Q's. By taking good advice;

I cannot tell the price of calves, Or poultry, coffee, or Any kind of merchandise, Because I take no paper.

Though I have studies which require Yet I can spare a little time. As well as Stout, my neighbor, Though time be precious, 1 can use A longer midnight taper,

And thus take time to read the news,

Therefore I'll take the paper.

MECHANICS, INVENTORS MANUFACTURERS AND FARMERS,

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has now THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a evry extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstruce work on technical science; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientifie, mechanical and industrial worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the Mechanic or Artizan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed Artizan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the Honsowlie wishes to get a recipe for making a good color, &c.—if the Inventor whiles to know what is going on in the way of improvements—if the Macufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times—and to emptoy the best facilities in his business—if the Man of Leiverte and Study wishe, to keep hinself familiar with the progress made in the chemical aboratory, or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, rail-reads, respects, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderate on he found in the Scherffer American, and not described.
