HOME OF OUR BIRTH.

"There never was a happier home Than that which gave us birth; The fields in which we used to roam The brightest seemed on earth. The brook that ruffled by our door Served off our limbs to lave; And sweeter flowers grew on its shore Than ever kissed the wave. The school-house and the ground for play, The neat white church and spire, The reapers and the new-made hay, The pure and fragrant air; The path that lay across the lawn, Where we our playmates met, The vine, the hedge, the waving corn, Are present with us yet. The old elm tree and butter-nut, The hills and shady glens, The birds that sang around our cot Like old familiar friends, The autumn fruit which strewed the ground, And winter with its snow, Are memories that cluster round Our thoughts where e'er we go. Though years may creep upon us now, And cares with age arise, Time's traces gather on the brow, And dim our youthful eyes; Yet still the dream of childhood's days Is ours, where 'tis we roam, And thoughts will rise, though far away, Of our old cottage home."

A TRUE FRIEND.

Didst ever have in hour of need, A friend in whom to trust? Who would not for the world mislead, Nor judge the harsh, unjust? Who would give aid, in word and deed, When thou wert sorely tried? Who would for thee, for mercy plead, Though he himself had died? If ever such a friend possessed, 'Tis art a favoured man— For one in thousands is not blessed With such a paragon.

Miscellaneous.

When you attend the Episcopal church keep a look out for the main chants. The man lacks moral courage who treats when he should re-treat. Some Irishmen propose to have a wake over the 'dead of night.' Poverty is, in some countries, merely an inability to make one's mark. Prize fighters are unreliable workmen, being always on a strike. Tallow-chandlers is a sympathetic set, for they are frequently in the melting mood. There is a lady in New York so ignorant of all domestic work that she cannot even knit her brows. Profane men take a cursory view of things.—(N. Y. Evening Post.) Troubles are like babies—they grow bigger by nursing. 'Do you understand figures, boy? Oh, yes, I am always cutting a fine one.' Happiness is like a pig with a greased tail, which every one runs after, but few can hold it. An Irish sailor once visited a city, where he said, they copper-bottomed the tops of their houses with sheet-lead. 'Stop that abominable noise,' said a commanding officer to a horrid trumpeter in the midst of a battle; 'we can stand fire, but we cannot stand that air.' A countryman who saw for the first time a hooped skirt hanging at a shop door called to ask 'what bird they kept in that cage?' Some landlords are in the habit of laying an extra fork across the plates of their delinquent boarders as much as to say 'Fork over.' 'Will you have the kindness to hand me the butter before you?' said a gentleman politely to a cross old maid. 'I am no waiter, sir.' 'I think, Miss, you have been waiting a long time.'

Music is the only sensual gratification which mankind may indulge in without injury to their mortal or religious feelings. Why are young ladies at the breaking up of a party like arrows? Because they can't go off without a beau, and are in a quiver until they get one. A Western editor must be in a bad fix. Having dunned a subscriber for his subscription, he not only refused to pay, but threatened to flog the editor if he stopped the paper. The editor of the 'Buffalonia' says he would as soon try to go to sea on a shingle, make a ladder of a fog, chase a streak of lightning through a crab-apple orchard, swim the rapids of Niagara, or set a lake on fire with lucifer matches, as think of stopping two young people from getting married when they take it into their heads to do so. Hope is the last thing that dies in man, and though it be exceedingly deceitful, yet it is of this good use to us, that while we are travelling through life it conducts us in an easier and more pleasant way to our journey's end.—Rochevoucault. A confirmed old bachelor upon being interrogated as to "where all the pins and needles go," made answer as follows: That it was beyond the power of man to tell, but that if a woman could only be induced to make a clean breast of the matter, the halo of mystery which envelopes this oft-repeated inquiry would soon be dissipated.

THE NARRATIVES OF THE JESUIT FATHERS!

THE LAST year the French reading part of the Canadian people were edified and delighted by the publication of the original Narratives of the Jesuit Fathers, who were the pioneers of religion and its attendant civilization in Canada. This work is important as it is to the French Canadian, is not less so to the English-speaking part of the population of North America. All inhabitants of this great continent, especially all Canadians, will assign it an honorable place on the shelves which bear the stirring narratives of the first English and Dutch adventurers. It is fit, therefore, to make its revered authors speak with an English tongue.

The early history of Canada is at this moment attracting much attention. The French Government has made large and precious contributions of historical matter to our Provincial Library, both manuscript and printed, relating chiefly to Canada, its settlement and wars: the Government of the United States has been ever zealous in collecting documents relating to the acts and sufferings of their hardy and adventurous founders; and the encouragement which our own Government has afforded in aid of enterprises of the same character, has always been promptly and effectually granted. The publication of this work is an interesting historical record has been favored and prompted by all enlightened governments and literary bodies: because they supply the best evidence of the truth of history, or the best materials for its composition. It has even been asserted, that the chronicles and private manuscripts of contemporaries are of higher value than the polished periods of Hume and Mezeray.

The Narratives now sought to be presented to the public are of great value to all classes. To the religiousist, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic, they afford the precious evidence of the zeal of those servants of his Holy Religion who devoted themselves to its propagation among the heathen, and went forward through many a fiery trial, to find too often at last the crown of martyrdom. The ethnologist will find in them faithful descriptions of a race now much degenerated and rapidly approaching to extinction, written amongst them as they lived and moved, hunted and fought, married and died, received baptism or forcibly murdered the men who sought to convert them. Ordinary readers, from the intelligent scholar to the untaught peasant, will peruse with interest an account of men who trod the soil on which they now move,—who were the lords of the forest and the river, now swelling with the rich harvest or glutting with the vessels of commerce,—and still learn with some emotion that they live and sleep in security on the self-same spot which has been often drenched with the blood shed in warfare or massacre.

The publication of so voluminous a work will depend entirely upon the support received from the public. The first volume has been translated by one of the best translators in the Province; and it will be put to press as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers is obtained to defray the cost of translation and publishing. The work will make 3 Volumes, Royal 8vo., of about 750 pages each, in Long Primer type. Subscription lists will be found at the Bookstores in Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, Kingston, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, &c., and at the Offices of the Publishers, in St. Nicholas Street, Montreal; also at Ste. Anne Street, Quebec. Price in paper covers per volume, $274, of for the set $825. Price in half calf per volume, $350 or for the set $1050. JOHN LVELL, Publisher. Canada Directory Office, Montreal, Sept. 1859.

PHONOGRAPHY, OR, WRITING BY SOUND. PHONOGRAPHY was invented by ISAAC PITMAN, of Bath, England, in the year 1837. It is the most simple, most natural most rapid, and most easily-learned system of Writing which has ever been, or ever can be invented. During the past fifteen years, hundreds of thousands of persons, in England and America, in both public and private life, have learned to write Phonography, and thousands of social and business letters annually pass through the post office.

Nor is its great popularity to be wondered at. The present system of writing is exceedingly cumbersome, and totally unworthy these days of progress and invention. Phonography is equally as legible, can be learned in one-twentieth the time, and can be written as fast as fast! In other words, the labor of six days can be performed in one—one man can do the work of six! So simple is the system, too, that a person may learn to write it slowly, in a course of four hours, and in a few days practice for a few weeks will enable any person to write Phonography with certainty, and with some degree of freedom. The same amount of practice continued for six months will enable a person to take reports, speeches, lectures, sermons, or conversations, and to read them with accuracy. Dr. J. W. Snow, of Boston, says: "I deem Phonography an invaluable adjunct to education, and one which, when acquired in youth would not be parted with in manhood for thousands of dollars."

The late Hon. THOS. H. BAXTER, upon being presented with a variation report of one of his masterly speeches, taken by a little boy only twelve years of age, and "He has been known 40 years ago it would have saved me 20 years hard labor." The learned senator spoke but a portion of the truth. What long-handled requires six years to accomplish, Phonography will perform in one. To Clergymen, Editors, Physicians, Lawyers, Secretaries, Conventurers, Law and Medical Students, Lecturers, Priests, School Teachers, Merchants, School Boys and Girls, a knowledge of Phonography is of vast utility. In fact there is no profession or calling in which it is not useful, and no young man's education can be considered complete without it. During the past nine months hundreds of persons in Canada, of every pursuit in life, have acquired the Art, from many of whom the subscriber has received neatly-written phonographic letters, expressive of their delight with the attainment, and the extraordinary ease with which they have acquired it. For the purpose of aiding in the dissemination of so important a reform in his own country, the subscriber is now prepared to supply all who apply with the MANUAL OF PHONOGRAPHY, and the PHONOGRAPHIC COPY BOOK, sent by mail to any part of the Province, postage not paid, for the small sum of 17 ONE DOLLAR. Anybody and everybody, who can learn anything, can learn PHONOGRAPHY from the Manual, without other assistance. Those who wish to be able to put their thoughts to paper at the rate of from 100 to 250 words per minute, should send for the above-mentioned works at once. The instruction given by the Manual is as plain as A. B. C., and ten times as easy to understand.

The "CANADIAN PHONETIC PIONEER" is a Monthly Journal, devoted to the advocacy of the Reform. Price 25 cents per annum. Address, (post-paid) WILLIAM H. ORR, Oshawa, C. W.

W. U. SKENE MILLWRIGHT, ALTONA, BEGS to intimate that he is now prepared to execute MILLS of every description, by contract or otherwise, on reasonable terms. He is also agent for the best Foundries in Canada, and from his lengthened experience he hopes to give general satisfaction. Altona, Dec. 23, 1859. 55-1y

Bankers—The Bank of Toronto. The Provident Life Assurance Company is removed to the same office. Having granted against loss from fire by Insuring your property, consider if it would not be as well to make a little additional provision for your family in case of your own premature death—whether it would not be as well, through the assistance of a Life Assurance Company, to provide a legacy for your wife or daughter, or, if you have not the happiness to be blessed with them, think if the possession of a few hundred pounds additional might not be of advantage to yourself a few years hence. If you decide that it would, write to the Managing Director of the PROVIDENT LIFE ASSURANCE AND INVESTMENT COMPANY, 20 Toronto Street, Toronto, for a "Proposal" form, and a copy of the Rules. Or, possibly, the Agent of the "Beaver" may possess a copy of both documents, which he can accommodate you with, and give you a little information on the subject besides. Agent at Richmond Hill—J. R.
