OTTAWA RAILWAY STATION DE-STROYED.—Yesterday morning, shout 4 o'clock, another five occurred in Ottawa, by which the Railway Station, together with five cars of merchandize, were totally destroyed. The station was of small size and not worth much, but the contents are said to have been valuable. contents are said to have been valuable. Mr. Hargreaves, of Hamilton, we regret to learn, has lost a large quantity of hams; and Mr. W. M. Matthieson, a barister of this city, who, intending to commence practice in Ottawa, had sent his law books forward, is also a sufferer. The fire is thought to have been the work of an invendiary. The men employed in the erection of the new Parliament Buildings have struck for higher wages, and, as the outragters resist their demands, have, it is saids threatened to burn the city. To said, threatened to burn the city. To one of their number the destruction of the

The everlasting Burdell case is up again in the New York courts. The heirs are now quarreling among themselves as to the division of the murdered dentist's property.
