There is an evil habit sometimes indulged in by boys, in solitude, often growing up with them to manhood, and which, if not reformed by them in due time, not only begges serious obstacles to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to a series of protracted, insidious, and deventual affections. Few of those whe give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the nervous system shattered, feel strange and unacountable feebings, and vague fears in the mind.
