

In favor of a better mode of settling contested elections, and not allowing a person who had no right to a seat in the House, to sit and vote for three-fourths of the Parliament before the person legally entitled to the seat could dispossess him. He was in favor of a Prohibitory Liquor Law, and would vote for it when it came up.—The payment of criminal witnesses, and the abolition of newspaper postage would find, he said, in him a strong advocate; and he would also go for the abolition of the franking privilege. Mr. Perry, in conclusion, said that although some of the articles of his political faith might be said to be made up of small items, they were, nevertheless, those which were more immediately felt by the people. Mr. Perry spoke for about three quarters of an hour, and was greeted with loud cheers at the conclusion of his address, as he was repeatedly throughout the delivery of his remarks.

COL. THOMPSON next came forward, and in a speech of some length, declared that he had never changed politics, his attachment to British Institutions, &c. He denounced the "Constitutional change" sought by the Brown party who were Brown to-day and Black to-morrow, as absurdities, and declared that the time was at hand when the principle of representation by population would be conceded. He came forward, he said, ready to accept the nomination if he got it, and to enter on the canvass, and he felt confident that if the convention considered him the best man, he could easily beat Mr. Keefer.

MR. A. BARKER, who was next called upon came forward and announced his intention not to be a candidate. He advised the choice of the Convention to be the strongest man.

The candidates then retired, and the Convention adjourned for fifteen minutes. At half-past four o'clock, the roll was called over, all the delegates (with the exception of the two from Etobicoke) answering, and the balloting for candidates commenced. A two third vote was agreed upon as necessary to a nomination.

The following is the result of the several ballots:

Perry, Gamble, Col. Thompson.
1st ballot, 31 28 1
2nd " 35 25 0
3rd " 33 34 one absent.
4th " 39 20 0

On motion by Mr. Norris of Scarborough, seconded by Mr. Marsh of Markham, the vote was made unanimous in favour of Mr. Perry, amidst loud cheering. A committee was then appointed, consisting of the chairman of the delegates from the different Townships to wait upon Mr. Perry and make known to him the choice of the Convention.

Mr. Perry was accordingly called upon and entered the Convention accompanied by the Committee, and Mr. Gamble, and was loudly cheered. He briefly returned thanks for the honor as did also Mr. Gamble for the strong vote in his favor.

On motion the chairman then left the chair, and Captain Rowe having been called thereon votes of thanks were tendered the Chairman and Secretary. The meeting then broke up.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL EXAMINATION.

Communicated.

The examination of the Richmond Hill County Grammar School, the Rev. R. Rodgers, Head-master, took place on Thursday, the 28th ult., before the School Trustees and several other persons. The pupils acquitted themselves very creditably in all the classes.—The examination was direct and searching.—There was in all the classes every appearance of strict care and diligent attention. Some classes, as might be expected, were more marked in their progress and attainments than others, but all did well. The first class in Arithmetic and Geography were evidently well trained in the first principles of these branches of education, and they showed that they had made considerable progress. The pupils in the higher branches of Mathematics and Algebra would do credit to any Grammar School or College. There were several young men seemingly prepared to be examined on the first Six Books of Euclid; a state of proficiency in these branches to which many with a College education have not attained. Those in the Latin and Greek classes did very well, one especially, William Falconbridge is a very good Latin and Greek scholar considering his age. The classes in the Histories of England and Greece were in a good state of proficiency, showing how patiently and earnestly the pupils must have studied.

There was a meeting in the evening attended by many ladies and gentlemen—the parents and friends of the scholars. At this meeting there were Essays, on a variety of subjects, read by several scholars. These Essays were a sample of their efforts at English composition and were highly creditable to those who composed and read them. There were also several Pieces recited—these recitations were from the best writings of some of our standard authors. This part of the day's work was perhaps the most popular of the whole proceedings. The School is in an excellent state as respects discipline and order—a matter of very great importance. It is to be hoped that the community will encourage the teacher and support the school, and make it what it is capable of becoming—one of the first schools in the county.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEA PARTY.

THE TEA PARTY AT THE U. P. CHURCH THORNHILL.

Communicated.

This Party came off on Friday, the 29th inst., and was successful beyond the most sanguine expectations of the friends of the cause there, who got it up. The forenoon was exceedingly wet which had no doubt a tendency to damp the hopes and cloud the prospects of both ladies and gentlemen who seemed to have gone into the enterprise with very commendable zeal. The rain, however, after having beautifully refreshed the teeming, thirsty earth, was aid in time to permit a large and very respectable assembly of young men and maidens, old men and children, to convene on the ground behind the Church, where they had tea served to them and all the other good things, as common, and so good, to be found at our Canadian tea parties,—prepared by our Canadian Mothers and Daughters. Every one present seemed to enjoy the feast of good things, and each others society. There were there, Episcopals, Methodists, and Presbyterians, vying with each other in office of good will and kind acts. After tea was finished in the temporary grove, the people retired to the Church, when D. McDougall, Esq., was called to the chair and intimated the programme of the proceedings, which was that the assembly would be addressed by several Speakers, and the Choir would sing several pieces of Sacred Music. The Speakers were the Rev. Messrs. Willoughby and Dean, (Methodist,) and Stark, Stans, Rodgers and Dick, (Presbyterian,) who briefly addressed the meeting on the importance of Sabbath Schools in their bearing on the church and the world. The speaking was short and pointed, interspersed occasionally with anecdotes, and sallies of wit. The Music was good and beautifully sung. The assembly parted when near eight o'clock in the evening, each one seemingly pleased. Such meetings do much to make the Canadian people of one heart and soul.

Some days ago a man named John Hill was accidentally killed at Pinkerton's grist mill, Greenock, Co. of Bruce, by getting entangled in the machinery of the mills.

The mail train from Montreal to Portland on the Grand Trunk Railway, on Friday morning last, ran over and killed a female child sixteen months old who had strayed on the track, and who was not seen by the engineer in time to enable him to stop the engine.
