THE PRINCE OF WALES.

BY W. F. CASE.

The Prince of Wales has hoisted sail To come across the Ocean!

So let the Fair, as we'll prepare, To unfurl their Loyal Sails,

When God defend our Royal Fleet When tossing on the billows—

Whist we in bed can rest the head Upon our downy pillows,

When he does land, go heart in hand With Honest pride to meet him!

And then convince our Noble Prince, We can like Brion's treat him.

The British Flag on high shall wave, For we will have no other;

Let voices raise, in songs of praise, For England's Queen, his mother,

JULY IN CANADA—A POETICAL PROCEEDING.

"Ole dot," after fanny with a sharp stick.

The hind-paddle strikes by the zig-zag fence, The hogs lay a grunting all round;

As I lit my pipe by a shady stump, With a sentiment worry profound.

A hurricane came, the thunder rolled, The lightning sizzled about;

In its sublime grandeur it split the stump, And hurried the bull-flags and lizards about.

The zig-zag fence reflects the sunny blaze On thistle and mullein in the corner—

A scene combined that will make raise The poetical sentiments of "Cock Robin,"

Billy Patterson or little Jack Horner. Tallford, July 9th, 1860.

Miscellaneous.

Christian, if you would keep humble, if you would lie low, draw forth your artillery,

An ingenious French philosopher is at present maintaining the hypothesis that the feeding of the negro races continuously on exclusively animal food would effect their conversion into white men.

A successful merchant in New Zealand, a Scotchman, commenced business with the following characteristic entry on the first page of his ledger:—"Commenced business this day—with no money—little credit—and £70 in debt. Point heart never won a fair lady. Set a stout bear to a steep braw. God save the Queen.

A young fellow having been charged with getting drunk the night before, and wishing to justify himself, declared that he never was drunk, nor never meant to be, for it always made him feel so bad the next morning.

A sailor, a giant of known bravery, who was in a boat at the siege of Copenhagen, kept down his head while a shot was flying over the boat.

"For shame; hold up your head," thundered the officer in the stern. "I will, sir, when there's room for it," was the laughing response.

A six-year older, going into the village without leave, was shouted after by one of the masters, who inquired where he was going.

"I am going to be a ha'porth of nails sir. What for?" "For a ha'penny, sir," was the reply.

The following curious advertisement lately appeared in the Bristol Mirror:—"If the gentleman who borrowed the 4th volume of Macaulay's History of England for a fortnight, some two years since, is determined not to return it, he had better apply to J. R. T. Mirror Office, for the three remaining volumes, which will render his set complete."

THE GREAT TEMPTATION.—An Irish mill, entering the fair at Ballinagone, saw the well-defined form of a large round head bulging out of the canvas of a tent. The temptation was irresistible; up went his shoulder—down went the man. Forth rushed from the tent a host of angry fellows to avenge the onslaught. Judge of their astonishment when they found the assailant to be one of their own faction.

"Och! Nicholas," said they, "and did ye not know it was Brandy O'Brien ye hit?" "Troth, did I not," says he; "bad luck to me for that same! but sure if my own father had been there, and his head looking so nice and convanient, I could not have helped myself."

THE TAYLOR THAT MADE THE BREECHES.—The Duke of Wellington was remarkable for the coolness with which he gave his directions. Even in the heat of an engagement he has been known to give vent to a humorous observation, especially when it seemed to raise the spirits of his men.

When the British were storming Badajoz, his Grace rode up while the balls were falling around, and observing an artillery-man particularly active, inquired the man's name. He was answered, "Taylor."

"A very good name, too," remarked Wellington. "Cheer up, my men; your Taylor will soon make a pair of breeches, in the walls!"

At this sally the men forgot the danger of the situation, a burst of laughter broke from them, and the next charge carried the fortress.

There is an evil habit sometimes indulged in by boys, in snoring, often growing up with them to manhood, and which, if not reformed either in infancy, or early in life, becomes a serious obstacle to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to a series of protracted, insidious, and devastating affections. Few of you who give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the nervous system shattered, feel strange and uncomfortable feelings, and feel fears in the mind.

A Most Scientific Invention. An instrument for the cure of General Debility, or more properly known as Senial Weakness, Nervous Doubt, &c., which are permanently cured in from 15 to 20 days by the use of this instrument, when used conjointly with medicines.

New Remedies and Quick Cures. Dr. AMOS & SON take pleasure in announcing that they have invented a most important instrument for the cure of the above diseases. It has been subjected to a test by the most eminent physicians in London, Paris, Philadelphia and New York. It has been declared by its useful instrument ever invented for the cure of Senial Weakness, or any disease of the genital organs, caused by the secret habits of youth.

Dr. Amos & Son, in order to satisfy the most skeptical as to the merits of these instruments, pledge themselves, that in any instance where they may prove unsatisfactory after a fair trial, the money will be refunded by returning the instrument in good order.

Persons wishing the above useful instrument will observe, that the price, with the accompanying directions, securely packed and sent by mail or express, is ten dollars.

Beware of empirics and itinerant self-styled professors, who attempt cures, but never succeed. Dr. Amos & Son have for a long series of years been engaged in an extensive practice in the treatment of these delicate complaints, and are the only legally qualified Physicians who now advertise to cure certain complaints, or from whom genuine European remedies can be obtained.

PERSONS IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD may be successfully treated by forwarding a correct detail of their cases, with a remittance for Medicines, &c., which will be returned with the utmost dispatch at a secure from observation. Address Dr. Amos & Son, corner Main and Quay Streets, Buffalo, N. Y. 46-1y
