

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

By referring to the "York Herald" of the 19th April last, my Friends and Customers will note the following clause in my Advertisement of that date: "Accounts with the farming community will become due on the 1st of October next." Again, in the issue of the same journal, of the 26th September last, they were respectfully reminded of this arrangement.

I need not say that scarcely the slightest attention has been paid to the above notices; Nevertheless, I once more present myself before my friends and beg leave to say that BUSINESS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE requires my presence in England early in 1862. As I shall remain there for an indefinite period; and as several applications have been made for a lease of my shop here, I have come to the conclusion of winding up my business at Richmond Hill, in order to be able to leave Canada by the middle of March.

It will be seen from the above that all outstanding accounts became due on the 1st October last, and consequently are now more than two months overdue.

I would also state that I sincerely and cordially thank those who have hitherto supported and paid me so punctually. Those who have failed in doing so must be aware that there is something more than the will required; therefore persons who do not settle their Notes and Accounts by the 31st December inst., either by Cash payments or satisfactory security, must be dealt with in the way usual under such circumstances.

I have no alternative.
