The present critical state of Ruropean affairs will tender these publications untereably interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hashift writen news items, crude speculations, and thing mores of the faily Journal, and the posterior forms of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.
