The Court Circular says:—"Although the Queen will not open the Exhibition in person, yet everything short of actually opening the Exhibition in person will be done by Her Majesty on the occasion. Seven of the state carriages will be placed at the disposal of the Royal Commissioners who specially represent the Queen. A suitable escort of household troops will be in attendance.

This morning's papers are filled with accounts of the opening of the Exhibition in London was a perfect success. The Times says the ceremonial was emphatically the grandest, best managed, and most imposing public pageant seen in this country for years. The banding itself for extent, convenience, elevation, beauty of form and chain of colour, is described as far superior to that of Hyde Park. There are the same apparent labyrinth and spreading vistas of courts, each a complete exhibition in itself, and worth a day's study. Whatever there was in '51, will be found ten-fold in '62.
