WHEN I MEAN TO MARRY. When do I mean to marry? Well-

'Tis idle to dispute with fate ! Bat if you choose to hear me tell, Prey listen while I fix the date :-

When daughters basts, with eager feet, A mother's daily toil to share ; Can make the puddings which they eat,

And mend the stockings which they wear When maidens look upon a man

As in himself what they would marry, And not as many soldiers scan A suttler or a commissury ;

When gentle ladies who have got The offer of a lover's hand, Consent to share his " earthly lot," And do not mean his lot of land

When young mechanics are allowed To find and wed the farmer's girls, Who don't expect to be endowed With rubies, diamonds and pearls.

When wives, in short, shall freely give Their hearts and hands to aid their sponse And live as they were wont to live, Within their sires' one-story houses,

Then, Madam,-if I'm not too old-Rejoiced to quit this lonely life. I'll brush my boaver, cease to scold, And look about me for a wife !

DR. N. J. PECK. As to plain S-m-i-t-h Smith, why the pillars of fame are covered with that honored and revered name.— Who were the most rary, witty and popular authors of this century ?— Horace and Albert Smith. Who is it that attends all the balls, concerts, the ladies to be a " perfect darling p" Mr. Smith. Who was it that ac complished the great feat of walking wenty-one miles in two hours fifty five minutes and twelve seconds? Why it was a Smith. Who was it that palavered with Powhatton, and galivanted with Pocahontas, and Sabbath, when he will attend the day following; When he will be happy to wait on any re-quiring his services in any branch of his re-fession, or make good any work previously warranted. Tesh extracted for those not able to pay, free, became the ancestor of the first fanilies in Virginia 7 A Smith again. A certain young lady is about getting married. She makes a party, Aurora, June 20, 1862 and invites her cousins from a dislance. When her cousins arriveafter passing remarks on their health, "love of a bonnet," etc., the after first question they put to her "Who are you going to marry, Hai-tie ?" With a smile on her face, Hattie tells them that it is a Mr. A CKNOWLEDGED by 500 Farmers, Pro-fessional Gandwinen and others (who have them working in Wells, varying in depth from 10 to 133 feet) to be the EASIEST WORKED, MOST DURABLE and EFFI-CIENT ever offered to the Public and EFFI-Smith, from "town."
