Death of Sir John Beverly Ro

(Abridged from the Globe.)

We are called upon to record the death of another ornament of the bench and ETT nonored citizen. On Saturday morning, a few minutes before nine o'clock, Sir John Beverty Robinson, Bart., Presiden-of the Court of Appeals, and late Chief of the Court of Appeals, and late Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench, due, at the ripe age of 72 years. He had been al-flicted by an attack of gont for two months, but no appealmentors of a fatal ce suit were entertained until the last three sult were entertained until the last three or four weeks. THE MARRIAGE OF THE PARCE OF WALES.—A Copenhagen letter of the 30th ult. says:— The Hon. A. B. Paget, the English Minister at this Court, and M. Hall, the Danish Minister of Foreign Affairs, who has received special powers from the King on the subject, have commenced the necessary negotiations relative to the marriage contract of the Princess Alexandra. A sum of 100,000 rix dollars (about 300,0001.), to be voted legeislatively will be allowed by Demnark to the Princess. A fady of honor is to accompany Her Royal Highness to London, but will only remain with her during the stay of the Prince and Princess of Demnark in England. Prince Frederic will probably stop to that country for some time after his sister's marriage, and he intends, it is said, to study to some months at Oxford. to the marriage contract of the Princes

THE WIFE OF A MORMON ELDER!

HE WIFE OF A MORMON ELDER!

HAT one half of the world cannet imagine how the other half live, "is no less true than trice; and the lesson the adage affords, our experience and observation daily tends to verify. Then, too, when we conside the ever-varying phases of lannan passion, and the discordant elements from which all movel and tanatical seets are moulded, it can scarcely seem supprising that a finishful record of a total events should exceed in singularity the widest dream of routner; or that crunes, hoth strange and annatural, should be permitted in a for off contain on the outskirts of evideation, which penule in another state of society would never integrite possible. Knowing, as I do know, the evids and horrors and abominations of the Mormon system, the degradation it imposes on ismades, and the consequent vices which extend through all the ramifications of the society, a reuse of duty to the world has induced me to propase the following narrative for the public eye. The romanic incidents connected with ray experience, many has which bordering on the marvelow. The following brief quotation is characteristic of the entire Circular:

"This Machine is better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in market to the frequit changes and almost on less variety of sewing required in a firmity; for it will sew from one, to twenty thicknesses of Marcolles without supping, and making every stitch perfect. Will sew from the finest gause to the heaviest cloth, and even to the stoutest lateness feather, without changing the fead, needle, or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever,"
