CONFEDERATION APPROACH

The signs of the times with respect to the projected union of the provinces. are most promising. The recent triumph of Confederation in Newfoundland, a colony which a short time since was found in determined opposition, has been followed within the last few days by the signal defeat of the Anti-Confederation Ministry, in New-Brunswick. For some time, in both provinces, the gradual change of feeling has been quite evident, and for the late legislative action, those who have watched the political atmosphere, have been fully prepared. The firm attitude of the Home Government, and its strong recommendation that the measure should be adopted has not been without legitimate effect, and we may safely conclude, that irrespective of all personal changes, no further opposition will be offered.

From the debate which took place with respect to Confederation, in the Nova Scotia Legislature, we may learn pretty accurately how the matter stands there. Until something is done in New Brunswick; although the teeling is evidently most favourable, no positive steps will be taken-in fact the Government have, and necessarily so, from their position, no policy except a conditional one of assent, if New Brunswick clears the way for them. For Nova Scotia to become a part of the Confederation, while New Brunswick, as hostile or neutral territory separated ti from the rest, would be plainly foolish and ridiculous but as soon as the barrier is removed. her consent is certain. That there will be some modifications of the Quebec scheme, before confederation is an accomplished fact, is most probable. The objections urged hitherto, have been rather to the details than the principle, and their being harmonized with conflicting interests, unanmity would result. At the same time it is perhaps unreasonable to suppose that the Provincial authorities would be any more successful in the next attempt than in the former one, in devising a measure that would be wholly acceptable. Concessions must be made; but we are of opinion that it is rather by the arbitration of the Home Government that they will be ultimately granted, than by mutual agreement.

The refusal of P. E. Island, if con tinued, will form no obstacle to the union of the three remaining Provinces with the Canadas; and after a short experience of her single blessedness, she will doubtless for the advancement of her dignity and interest seek admission of her own accord.

An Old Acquaintance.

Mr. Henry Newton, son of Mr. Jas. Newton, Elgia Mills, and formerly an energetic and pushing assistant with Mr. J. K. Falconbridge, who a few years ago carried on an extensive business on Richmond Hill, has returned to his native place and is about to open a general stock of goods.

A TERRIFLE CONFLAGRATION. - Buffalo. March 17th.—The fire this morning in the New York centrial freight depot was cansed by the upsetting of a can of kerosene oil near a stove. The flames spread rapidly and communicated to the splendid elevator belonging to the same company. Both buildings were entirely destroyed. A large number of loaded cars in the depot, and piles of freight awaiting shipment, were all destroyed. There was about 400.000 bush els of grain in the elevator, but little or mone of it was saved. The grain was insured The foss on the elevator, depot and freight ted at over one million dollars. The loss will fall on the company.

A HORRIBLE DISCOVERY .- Seven barrels of human remains were found at an early hour vesterday morning upon Eagan avenue. just south of the city limits. Two of the barrels were of full size, and the remainder small, and all contained the dismembered fragments of not less than half a dozen bodies. Legs' arms, and headless trunks were there packed in sawdust, and when exposed, presen-ed a horrible sight. Some were in an advanced state of decomposition, while others had apparently been taken from the grave but a few days. They were undoudtedly remains brought from the dissecting table'and were thus left without an attempt at burial. - Chicago paper.
