My lord rides through his palace gate, My lady sweeps along in state, The sage thinks long on many a thing, And the maiden muses on marrying; The minstrel harpeth merrily, The sailor ploughs the foaming sea, The huntsmen kills the good red deer; And the soldier wars withouten fear, But full to each, whate'er befall,

The farmer he must feed them all. Smith hammereth cherry red the sword, Priest preacheth pure the Holy Word, Dame Alice worketh broidery well, Clerk Richard tales of love can tell. The tap wife sells her foaming beer, Dan Fisher fisheth in the mere, And courtiers rulle, strut and shine, While pages bring the Gascon wine, But fall to each, whate er befall,

The farmer he must feed them all. Man builds his castles fair and high, Whereever river runneth by Great cities rise in every land, Great churches show the builder's hand, Great arches, monuments, and towers, Fair palaces and pleasing bowers; Great work is done, be 't here or there, And will man worketh everywhere;
