The York Herald

IS PUBLISHED

EVERY FRIDAY MORNING, And dispatched to subscribers by the earliest mails, or other conveyance, when so desired.

The York HERALD will always be found to contain the latest and most important Foreign and Provincial News and Markets, and the greatest care will be taken to render it acceptable to the man of business, and a valuable Family Newspaper.

TERMS:—One Dollar per annum, in AD-VANCE; if not paid within Two Months, One Dollar and Fifty cents will be charged.

Allletters addressed to the Editor must be post-naid.

No paper discontinued until all arrearages are paid: and parties refusing papers without paying up, will be held accountable for the zubscription, RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Six lines and under, first insertion....$00 50 Each subsequent insertion, per line.... 00 02 One Column per twelve months..... 50 00 Half a column do do 30 00 Quarter of a column per twelve menths, 20 00

LP Advertisements without written directions nserted till forbid, and charged accordingly All advertisements published for a less period than one month, must be paid for in advance.

All transitory advertisements, from strangers or irregular customers, must be paid for when and d in for insertion.

Business Directory.

T)R. HOSTETTER'S numerous friends will please accept his sincere thanks for their liberal patronage and prompt payment, and would announce that he will continue to devote the whole of his attention to the practice of Medicine. Surgary and Midwifery, All calls, (night or day,) promptly attended to. Elgin Mills, October 5, 1866.

DR. JAS. LANGSTAFF. WILL generally be found at home before

All parties owing Dr. J. Langstaff are expected to call and pay promptly, as he has pay ments now that must be met. Mr. Geo, Burkitt is authorised to collect, and give receipts for him. Richmond Hill, June, 1865

Thornbill, June 9, 1865

JOHN M. REID, M. D., COR, OF YONGE AND COLBURNE STS., THORNHILL.

Consultations in the office on the mornings of Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, 8 to 10, a.m. WAll consultations in the office.

LAW CARDS.

J. N. BLAKE BARRISTER AT LAW,

CONVEYANCER &co OFFICE-over the Gas Company office Toronto Street, Toronto. Toronto, August 1, 1867.

RICHARD GRAHAME, Barrister and Attornen-at-Law, SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, &c

TORONTO.

Office-No 4, British America Insurance Buildings, corner of Church & Court Streets Toronto, Nov. 28, 1866.

READ & BOYD, Barristers. Attorneys at Law, Solicitors in Chancery, &c., 77, King Street East, 'over Thompson's East

India House)

Toronto. D.B. READ, Q.C. | J.A. BOYD BA May 7, 1866.

M. TEEFY, Esq., NOTARY PUBLIC,

COMMISSIONER IN THE QUEEN'S BENCH, CONVEYANCER, AND DIVISION COURT AGENT,

RICHMOND HILL POST OFFICE. A GREEMENTS, Bouds, Deeds, Mortgages

M Wills, &c , &c., drawn with attention and promptitude, Terms moderate. Richmond Hill, June 9, 1865. 1

GEO. B. NICOL, BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law,

Solicitor in Chancery, CONVEYANCER, &c, &c., &c Office-In the "York Herald" Buildings, Money to Lend. July, 5th, 1866.

M'NAB, MURRAY & JACKES, Barristers & Attorneys-at-Law

Solicitors in Chancery, CONVEYANCERS, &c. Office-In the Court House, . . TORONTO

August 1, 1866.

EAVE TROUGHS, WATER SPOUTS, CISTRENS AND PUMPS! Manufactured and for Sale

Flooring and other lumber dressed, Fellows sawn and sningles for sale by John Langstaff

Carriage and Waggon MAKER, UNDERTAKER &c. &c. &c.

Residence—Nearly opposite the Post

The Work Merald,

RICHMOND HILL AND YONGE ST. GENERAL ADVERTISER.

NEW SERIES.

"Let Sound Reason weigh more with us than Popular Opinion."

TERMS $1.00 in Advance

Callipers, said he, proceeding to Anything to pay you? said I.

Nothing, sir, replied the seedy

Well, said I, that can wait.

Indeed, I assure you sir, interposnever need one. Indeed it is not Constance, my love, said the elderly lady, what I am about to say, is so momentous, that I wish are pleased, aren't we, Constance.

who might have been my wife.

Why do you shiver? said Mrs.

Yet feeling desirous to oblige, I provisions of the Statute 1

ing her lovely white palms togethleel rather—rather—in fact—this mystery, thought I.

I have, said 1.

constitution, hasn't she doctor?

Vol. VIII. No. 27.

RICHMOND HILL, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1867.

Whole No. 490.

WILLIAM COX, Successor to James Holliday,

BUTCHER, 2nd door north of Barnard's store. RICHMOND HILL, KEPS always on hand the best of Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Veal, Pork, Sausages, ac, and sells at the lowest prices.

The highest market price given for Cattle,

Sheep, 1. mbs. &c. Richmond Hill, October 15, 1867.

MALLOY'S AXES FOR SALE BY

DANIEL HORNER, Jun, Lot 20, 2nd cuceossion Markham

Richmond Hill Bakery

P. BASINGTWAITE,

DEGS leave to notify the public that he has purchased the business and D purchased the business and good will of W. S. Pollock's establishment, and that he is prepared to furnish BREAD and FANCY CAKES to those who may honor him with their patrouage.

Pic Nic parties and Tea Meetings supplied at the lowest possible rates and on the shortest All orders strictly attended to. Richmond Hill, March 21, 1866.

GEO. McPHILLIPS & SON Provincial Land Surveyors, SEAFORTH, C. W.

Maple Hotel! upport. Good Stabling, &c. RICHARD VAILES.

Maple, Jan 1866.

DAVID EYER, Jun.,

Stave & Shingle Manufacturer my memory.) ESIDENCE-Lot 26, 2nd Con. Markham on the Elgin Mills Plank Road.

A large Stock of STAVES and SHINGLES. kept ig elsewhere.

Post Office Address—Richmond Hill.

June 1865

PHYSIOLOGY.

Ladies and Gentlemen, who require a either French Kid or Calf, by calling and da Moggs made it impossible for chair at the bidding of the elder entered the room, and looked very ordering it at T. DOLMAGE'S. Richmond Hill, April 4, 1867.

THE OLD HOTEL. THORNHILL,

HENRY HERON, Proprietor.

The best of Wines, Liquors and Cigars will tion for travellers. A careful Hostler always in attendance. Thornhill, July 4, 1857.

DOLMAGE'S HOTEL, LATE VAN NOSTRAND'S,

THE Subscriber begs to inform the Public that he has leased the above Hotel. where he willkeep constantly on hand a good supply of first-class Liquors, &c. As this house possesses every accommodation Travel er can desire, those who wish to stay where they can find every comfort are respectfully in-vited to give him a call. GIDEON DOLMAGE, Proprietor.

Richmond Hill, Dec. 1865.

LOOK AT THIS

JOHN BARRON. Women's and Children's

BOOTS & SHOES. 38 West Market Square, 2 doors south of King Street, TORONTO.

One of the oldest and cheapest houses in the Give John a call when in Town.

Toronto, Dec. 1865. LUMBERING

ABRAHAM EYER

In any quantity, and on short notice. Planed Lumber, Flooring, &c.

Kept on hand, SAWING cone promptly ; also Lumber Tongued & Groved At the lowest possible rates.

Richmond Hill, June 26, 1865.

JOHN CARTER, LICENSED AUCTIONEER

Markham, Post Office-Unionville. Sales attended on the shortest notice: and Orders left at the " Herald" office for Mr, Carter's services will be promptly attended to. along the gallery to a door on the poems. sir, that I have read in a duced an instrument, which had the tedium of your imprisonment object. The spot forms a beautiful object June 27, 1867.

Original Poetry.

For the Herald.

A MATRIMONIAL MISTAKE. Young Bijah Beanpole took a wife; But ere one week was through. They found there was a wee mistake That set them in a stew.

It seems when Bijah popped the word To take her to his cot. He spoke like this: "will you, my lov Come join my 'earthly lot?"

Then took him by the hand; Because she thought from what he said He'd gio a lot of land. But when she found how matters stood, Their love was turned to ice;

So there I'll leave them, and conclude

She answered not, but looked full "yes,

By giving this advice: Young lads and lasses, when you court, And grow so very warm, Speak plain before the wedding day, Or look for after storm.

Witerature.

MARRIED BY MAIN FORCE.

There is a house at Putney. The remainder of what I have to say is of so startling a character Parents and guardians would never lightly on my arm. that I think it is as well to begin with an undeniably safe statement. I repeat, then, there is a house at Puiney. I made its acquaintance room, and in a short time I heard tion. We regard you as a deus ex THE Subscriber begs to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has opened an HOTEL in the Village of Maple. the Cot. Vaughan, where he hopes, by attention to the coinforts of the travelling community, to merita share of their patronage and that it belonged in Oliver Cromwell's time, to one of his officers. The house of General Fairlax is not far off, and in its general char-

the house at Putney, I was in a from underneath broad thick bands page will be at your service excellent Church of England? situation of great difficulty. My of gittering har, the fifty arranged Everything will be done to make uncle had threatened to cut me off in masses over her lovely brows. your retirement agreeable. I am A large Slock of Staves and Staves and Staves and Staves and Slock before purchase uncle had threatened to cut me off constantly on hand, and examine Stock before purchase with a shilling, and leave me to lam, myself, peculiarly susception having two rooms prepared for Creed.

Lam, myself, peculiarly susception having two rooms prepared for Creed. my prospect at the bar, if I did not ble to the mesmeric influence, and your reception. Only a doubt or No doubt. marry the mean middle-aged, and now I felt that I was in the pres two remains to be settled. Oh, millionaire Matilda Moggs. An ence of a Medium My wits and here they come, I think! Con- Thirty-nine Articles? unconquerable dislike to public my will deserted me when I felt stance, dear, it it is Mr Smith and barrister rather dismal; and as they basifully measured me and you? me . as a man, of honour, to marry lady. tale was to see a Mr. Burgess scarcely in the least disguised. ticular large house, so many doors passing upon your-something rampant or regardant, or peared, saidrang the visitor's bell, and the maid tion. ness. It was between eight and card, is Witherington. morning, and I thought she looked wildered and helpless. Mr. Burgess, thought I, has forgot-celebrated Witherington ten to say I was coming to see him fought at Chevy Chase ? EGS respectfully to juform his customers ness in private speaking; but I ready to believe anything of mytold the girl I wanted to see Mr. self.

I found myself in a very large of my profession. nulles east of Richmond Hill by the Plank Road hall. In the middle, on the ground Probably; but I am desirous that gallery which took in three sides of mentous. OR the Counties of York, Pecland On- the place. Round this gallery were lam, said I, a barrister, and a smile, as if he thought I was in for this retreat agreeable to you. To of the sun has become much disturbed, and tario. Residence: Lot 8, 6th concession doors, more than I remember, with man of letters. other side, in making this little recently published volume?

son, he wanted me to write up in time? his Christmas Annual a domestic ed a Model Hareem at Putney to himself unmarried, so that his wife prisoner. could not be the keeper of a ladies' school; and it was not to be sup- mesmeric darling, in tones which sure. However, the maid asked on this occasion, resumed the elder mesmeric eyes, was re-introducme into a well appoin ed titte lady, is a Remarkable Interposi-ed.

ducing her as-Miss Burgess. acteristics it seemed to me to re- tween seventeen and eighteen- meanwhile, you are a captive: semble the house which I have in near eighteen; a beautiful, tall, here laying her hand on the plump matronly gravity, and laying her At the time when I first knew meric eyes, gleaming powerfully your jailer, sir. Under her, our you have been brought up in our speaking made my look-out as a the force of those wonderful eyes, Mr Jones, you will withdraw will inclined to add, as Theodore Hook her. In the meanwhile I was add- This, sir, said she, is Miss Buring to the income allowed me by gess, and whatever might be the fulfilment of the duty which de- say assent, because it was evident my uncle, by employing myself in meaning of it, she scrutinized me volves upon us, said the taller, that she really was pleased, though literature. My business at Putney with an intense overpowering, stouter and more respectable look- why she should blush I could not on the morning which opens my mothersy interest, which was ing gentleman of the two, in ful- for the life of me divine.

who, being about to originate a I beg your pardon, said I; it was both have occasion to trespass for a wife living? asked Mrs. Robin-Christmas Annual, had sought Mr. Burgess with whom I had an some minutes upon your kind- son with a penetrating glance. my co-operation. I was told that appointment! and I fear that, by bess. May we be permitted to No, indeed, said I, and I shud-I should find Mr, Burgess at a par- some mistake of ny own, I am tres take a few liberties with your Per- dered at the thought of the woman past the Railway station, and I did not conclude my sentence. standing back from the street; it for the behaviour of the two ladies they are. You are two to one, but Robinson; are you cold. does not matter on which side of startled me a little. They litted I can smash the windows and their hands in wonder; they ex alarm the passers by, it you pro- the thought of Matilda Moggs. I followed minutely my direct changed telegraphic glances; the ceed to any un-Englsh lengths with tions. There was a high wall, elder kissed the younger, who me. covered with 1vy, in front of the blushed, and seemed half disposed We do not propose to hurt you. ness of manner, that I could see house; and in the middle was an to cry. Then the elder lady pulf This lady's presence is surely a both the ladies believed me, and old fashioned iron gate with a ed the bell, and when the maid ap-sufficient voucher for the harmless-were satisfied I was a bachelor.

gules (I don't understand heraldry) Lock and bolt the front and back carved on a sculcheon at the top. doors, Jane, and bring me the keys, men have looked on coldly, while An oath would be profane as well The fine old red brick mansion, And then-in a minute it was men have been tottured....and I as extra-judicial. But perhaps you with its carved doorway, stood done, and the keys were brought believe an instrument of torture would like me to make a Solemn some distance back, beyond a well and then my hostess turned to me you are feeling for at this mo- and Sincere Declaration under the Manufacturer and Dealer in all kinds of Men's kept but formal front garden. I again and resumed the conversa ment.

who answered it asked my busi- Your name, sir, I see by your a stethoscope with which the gen-make this Solemn and Sincere De-by appointment. My distike to Yes, I am, said I, again feeling a benignant look, saidpublic speaking is not unconnected that an absurdity, more or less, was He'll do. I stake my profession- all ! with an occasional bashfolness, no great matter in such a wild at reputation on the soundness of Well done! said Constance, clappwhich leads to a little indistinct situation; and feeling, also, quite every organ.

PLANEING TO ORDER, Burgess, and told her, as I thought | And permit me to ask you, for pretty plainty. She looked at me time presses, and the peril is great with increased surprise, and sav- what is your profession? Pray exing, I'll see sir, let me into the cuse the liberty I take in asking put the question with a grim and no doubt, sir. And you will have thing but a sin and a shame. But you've house, took my card and went be- these questions.

floor, which was all stone, there you should make Miss Burgess and erly, he knows nothing about it when you take exercise in the if he could make his statement good, he was a great fire burning. Right me aware of it, if you will be so all and left ran staircases, which ex- good as to dispense with ceretended themselves into an oaken mony on an occasion truly mo several passages leading I did not I think, then, interposed the other know whither. The servant led timidly, and with a very sweet, it was now the turn of the seedy will cheerfully do her best. I dare 50,000 miles, and its width 30,000; and so me up the left hand staircase and voice. I think, then, it is your looking thin man. He also pro-

journey I had been, not merely sur- To this I bowed a delighted as- pearance. What do you call those prised, as the servant appeared to sent, finding myself more and more longs? I exclaimed. be, but utterly astonished. I had in the power of the mesmeric eyes heard the raging of half-a-dozen every instant. And now the two apply them to my head in various bells, the tinking of half a dozen ladies again telegraphed to each directions, while he dictated pianoes, and the rustling of more other. After a moment or two the figures to the lady, who took them than half-a-dozen female dressess, elder one said. Constance, dear, down on a blank form. And what had I seen? More girls come along with me! Will you When he had got as far as thirtythan I could, at the iroment, count. excuse us, sir, for a minute? And six, he stopped saying-Highly Girls of all ages, from seven or then I was left alone, and heard satisfactorily, ma'am, I assure eight to seventeen to eighteen, the key turn in the lock outside. you.

Brown-eved, grev-eyed plump and A whispering, and going to thin. Black-haired, light-haired and fro, in the gallery without, and short and tall. Some in curl-pap- an apparent delivery of messages, man, unless, indeed, you would ers, and some in bands. Some in did not add much to the bewilder-like me to furnish you with a copy a state of decided half-dress, dart- ment of my feelings. Youth likes of the phrenological analysis of ing out inquisitively from doors adventure. I had already threat- your character, which I shall hand and passages, and rustling back ened my father that I would go to Mrs. Robinson. again in affright as they caught a for a soldier, if he pressed Matilda glimpse of me. What was I to Moggs upon me, and felt very don't know that a character is of think of the household of this Bur- much inclined to let fate drift me much use. gess? Was it possible that, pre- wheresoever it pleased. But what suming on the charity of the sea was Mr. Burgess thinking all this ed Mrs. Robinson, we wouldn't

It was not long before the two and 1-without a character. institution which is at present, pe-ladies re-entered the room. The culiar to the Salt Lake Vailey, and elder one addressed me in a re- you'll give me one to my next to the hateful East? Had he start- specifully affectionate mannerberth.

I have to announce to you, sir, I sincerely hope, sir, you will begin with? I knew that he was that for the present you are my Yes our prisoner! echoed the posed that he kept one himself, would have made any chain lie the medical gentleman. And then tolerate such an innovation, I felt Your presence in this house, sir, ed out; and Constance, with the regard in so divine a light; but you to be present.

Sir, said my hostess, your curio- next. sity will be satisfied in due time-The other was, at a guess, be- before many days are over. In the well built girl, with bright mes- white wrist of Constance, here is hand upon a prayer-book. I trust true chart of the foot, can procure one in an unconquerable dislike to Matil- took stock of me. I sank into a And Mr. Smith and Mr. Jones if you please.

We shall both have occasion, in filling, I say, our duty, we shall You are not a married man, with son, sir 1 That depends, said I, upon what ness of our intentions. I don't know that, said I. Wo- added-

But I was in error. It was only am not a married man, 'And I tleman proceeded to sound me. claration, conscientiously believing nine o'clock on a cold November Yes, said I, feeling utterly be- He then punched my ribs, felt my the same to be true, and by virtue morning, and I thought she looked rather surprised to see anybody. Probably not a descendant of the Probably not a descendant of the with great assiduty. When he and passed...and all that...and who had done, he patted me on the entitled An Act to Repeal an Act back, and turning to the lady withand all that extra judicial

Thank you, doctor, replied the er. Perhaps after this Mr. Witherladv. I am glad to hear it. So am I, said I, is there anything sion of the mistress of the place.

No, said I. Ah! said the medical gentle- repeat, however, that infinite pains asked the student? The teacher gave it up.

know it. not, however a very surgical ap- by singing and playing to you. Our for telescopes of very moderate power, library is entirely at your service, and I must own to you I have such confidence in the resources of our beloved Constance, that I do not think it likely you will exhaust them before the time arrives at which it will be in our power to release you.

For which purpose, said my lovely turnkey, we can, I think, begin to take measures this very day.

Well, my love, I think so, said Mrs. Robinson, kissing her repe it is very odd, l observed, not without an all-overish sensation as I heard the little smack-smack of the kisses; it is very odd that upon the day on which my incarceration commences, my custodians should begin to concert plans for setting me free.

It certainly is, Mr. Whitherington, as you say, odd, but I believe we shall in the end make it even. All we shall expect of you is implicit obedience, said the elder lady with an air of maternal dignity. mingled with affection.

Say, rather, kind compliance. suggested my turnkey; lam sure, sir, you will not mind compliance with my wishes? And the bright soft mesmeric eyes seconding the soft mesmeric voice, I lost all my will, and said-

I promise! There is, I feel certain, no necessity to ask you for any pledge. The honor of a gentleman is suffi-

Well, said I, I don't know. I feel take you for the place-Constance as if I ought to take some sort of an oath again. Oh, said I, very good; I hope

Why, to be sure! said Mrs. Robinson; swear Mr. Witherington on the key of his sitting room. And the fair turnkey drew near and held me the key. Human likely. Our Constance has a strong stupidity is great; I know it. But I doubt if there is a single reader Certainly, fine, healthy girl, said of these lines stupid enough to suppose that I did anything but kisshe and the phrenologist were bowthe hand that held the key.

Oh! said the Carling, with a little fluttered cry, and fled, followed by the guardian, leaving a faint rustle of female attire in my ears, and a faint perfume in my nostrils. The door was again closed. I was again locked in, alone with my

Oh, certainly, says Constance; I houghts. believe I know what is coming Alone with my thoughts And what were they? The only in-An explanation, perhaps, of all convenience that I seemed likely to be put to was one which, unluckily. Sir, said Mrs. Robinson, with involved another person-Mr. Bucgess. But I was so fascinated with the situation in which I found myself, that I at last resolved not to trouble myself about him or about anything else in the world. And could say the Apostles' without. I was boarded and lodgfor nothing. I was to have a pretty girl, accomplished and mesmeric. And would not object to sign the to talk to. I might, for what I know be destined for some Great End. Not in the least, said I, feeling towards which those women had the power of directing events. At did when asked the question, forty, all events I was gaining time, and I was away from Matilda Moggs; and Then, cried Mrs. Robinson, we this was better than going for a soldier. I resigned myself, though And Constance blushed assent. I of course not without fits of chafing and wonder. Two rooms were placed at my entire disposal: my bedroom was furnished as the advertisement say, with every luxury. My sitting-room, I was told had been prepared extemporaneously for me, all but the hangings on thewall; which had been there for some time. I found in fact, that they had been put up for the purpose of concealing what was behind them. I was in a padded room! No, lanswered; l shivered at After much reflection, I came to the conclusion that I was in an estab-And then I poured forth my artlishment of a new kind. This house less tale with such simple truthfulsaid I to myself, is a madhouse for

> But what I am to do for her, goodness only knows. (Conclusion in our next).

Love-sick girls. Depend upon it,

Constance is love sick, and I am to be a deus ex machina to cure her.

The telegraph department in Calcuttae has been instructed to furnish the Abyssiman expedition with materials for creating and working 450 miles of telegraph. Mr. Alex. T. Stewart will soon erect a block of dwellings up town to cost $1,000,-000, and to be forever the home of the working women of New York.

The Board of School Trustees, of Mitchell, recently advertised for a teacher for their common school, to which, says the Advocate, they received 70 female applica-Oaths and Affidavits-and that's tions and 20 male. What will the 89 appli-

In France an army of ten thousand men was got ready for embarkation in fortyeight hours, and a second army of fifty ington would like a glass of wine? thousand had gathered outside Lyons in other forty-eight.

A Censorious tutor, in lecturing to his This made them all laugh; but I Puzzled? said Mrs. Robinson; class on the Vice of Betting, declared that under no circumstances could a bet be anyclass on the Vice of Betting, declared that bewildered resignation which real- to remain so for a little time. You always gone in for one kind of bet, ex-Mr Burgess, I replied, is aware Iv seemed to awake the compast need not hope to escape; you will claimed an irreverent pupil. The tutor was find your jailer here—turning to at first stupefied with amazement, at such You see, doctor, said she. tendConstance—very watchful; and effrontery, but recovering his self-possession he blandly informed the student that garden, which is of great extent, should have a holiday. Well haven't you you will be attended by a page. I always been in favour of the alpha bet?

> man, with an arch, patronizing will be taken to make your stay in Mr. T. P. Barkas states that the surface that there is at present upon his disc a spot a good thing, only that I didn't that end I am sure I can pledge my of remarkable magnitude and clearness. self that your young jailer here The approximate length of the spot is