Bray why do pretty girls, With figures straight and tall, Affect the wail "Grecian band?" (Not Grecian band at all.)

Odds and Ends

CAT music is done purr-pursey, isn't it? Excessive sensibility is the foppery of modern refinement.

DEATH is a commingling of eternity with time; in the death of a good man, eternity is seen looking through time.

LOVE is the soul, the life, and animating principle of truth; and so far only as there is good in truth, so far only as there is life in it.

WHAT sunshine is to flowers, amiability is to the family. Cross looks, and much the more harsh words, dwarf and starve the souls of those around us.

NEVER forsake a friend. When enemies gather around, who chooses falls on the heart, when the world is dark and cheerless, is the time to try true friendship.

TRUTH is the bond of union and the basis of human happiness. Without this virtue there is no reliance on language, no confidence in friendship, no security in promises and oaths.

CONSTITUTION does not fear drugs of a certain sort, but that which does harm pure nit, thick shoes, warm clothing, decent diet, good drainage and ventilation.

GIVE not thy tongue too great a liberty, lest it take thee prisoner. A word unspoken is the sword in the scabbard, thine; if thou desire to be held wise, be so wise as to hold thy tongue.

POLITENESS is the spontaneous movement of a good heart and an observing mind. Benevolence will teach temperance and the feelings of others, and habits of observation will enable us to judge promptly and easily what those feelings are.

CHOOSE ever the plainest road; it always answers best. For the same reason, choose ever to do and say what is the most just, and the most direct. This conduct will save a thousand blushes, and a thousand struggles, and will deliver you from secret torments which are the never-failing attendants of dissimulation.

A RARE GIFT—How few know when to speak and when to be silent! How beautiful the words "fifty spoken"! How golden the silence when words are unavailing! Some we have known who, with new tact, and broad philanthropy, and thorough misanthropy, can do all this. But your shallow person, your bustling, your egotist, rides roughshod over hearts and opportunities with a recklessness to make angels weep.

GOOD NATURE at home—No trait of character is more valuable in a wife than the possession of a sweet temper. Home can never be made happy without it. It is like the flowers that spring up in our pathway, reviving and cheering us. Let it never go home at night, wearied and worn out by the toils of the day, and how pleasant is the word dictated by a sweet disposition! It is sunshine falling on his heart. He is happy, and the cares of life are forgotten. A sweet temper has a soothing influence over the mind of the whole family. When it is found in the wife and mother, you observe kindness and love predominating over the natural feelings of a bad heart. Smiles, kind words and looks characterize the children, and peace and love have their dwelling there. Study, then, to acquire and retain a sweet temper. It is more valuable than gold. It captivates more than beauty, and to the close of life retains all its freshness and power.

"Thank God for Sunday." Now God be thanked! That he has given Best boon to snout and sinner— A day of rest—one day in seven, Where toil is not the winner; Rest for the tired and jaiced brain, The wearied hand on Sunday, That they might gather strength again For toil renewed on Monday.

The merchant in his counting room, The clerk or desk and ledger, The artisan at forge or loom, The ditcher and the hedger, The laborer who must toil and slave From early dawn of Monday Until the week sinks in its grave, All cry, "Thank God for Sunday!"

The day that lifts the weighty chain Which all the week hath bound us; That respites gives to heart and brain, From thousand cares around us; That in the toilsome march of life So bids us take for one day Rest from the battle and the strife— Oh! God be thanked for Sunday!

If thus by all one day of rest Be hailed as respite solely, How to the christian doubly blest Must be the Sabbath holy; As in faith's light he lifts his eyes To the bright world where, one day, He longs to spend beyond the skies One best eternal Sunday.

IMPORTANT TO PARTIES USING MACHINERY. STOCK'S EXTRA MACHINERY OIL.

This oil excels all others for Lubricating purposes, both animal and vegetable.

We are prepared to have the merits of this oil tested against all oils now being used on machinery—both light or heavy; from a clock or sewing machine, to the heaviest of Steamboat shafts.

The following are the points in which it excels all other oils: It will not gum, hence machinery can be kept clean with but little trouble, and it will clean machinery that has been gummed by other oils. It will not congeal or thicken in the coldest of weather—this is a quality of the highest importance, from the fact that an oil not having this quality will not lubricate a cold shaft, such as an oil may be applied in a heated state; but the moment it touches a cold shaft it is congealed, and it will not begin to lubricate until the journal, by friction, acquires that temperature necessary to reduce it to a liquid state.

In acquiring a higher temperature by friction, the journal expands, and the box is injured. It is impossible to use oil that will chill on a cold shaft without this result, as it is to mingle oil with water. Stock's oil will lubricate the coldest machinery the moment it is applied; it is now used in over two hundred establishments, and all unite in saying the preference to refined Spinn, or pure olive oil; it is free from all objections urged against all other oils; it neither gums, nor freezes.

Now, as the public are aware that many worthless things are passed into notoriety, in order to prove that this is no humbug, and at the same time to secure ourselves against the operations of unscrupulous oil agents, many of whom will not hesitate to palm off the more offal of oil refineries, as being identical with Stock's extra machinery oil; we propose to those who are largely interested in the truth of those statements, to send to them on application by express, or otherwise free of charge, a sample of the oil that it may speak for itself, we will with the sample furnish applicants free of charge, with a few simple tests as effective, as those test by which Gold is known from the base metals, and which will enable parties ordering to secure themselves against imposition, by enabling them to determine at once, whether the oil forwarded is as good as sample. All parties interested in the lubricating oil trade, before purchasing elsewhere will do well to communicate with
