United States
New York, Dec. 12.—Much excitement has prevailed in the cotton market this afternoon in consequence of the failure of several houses and the rumoured insolvency of many others.

Great Britain
LONDON, Dec. 12.—The Lord Chief Justice, and Sir Alexander Cockburn, have gone to Geneva to attend the meeting of the Board of Arbitrators appointed under the Treaty of Washington.

Cuba
HAVANA, Dec. 12.—To day and henceforward, regular troops will garrison Morro Cubana and the principle forts.

Cholera is raging in Delhi. The formation of new troops of cavalry are gazetted for the town of Cornwall, Ontario, and the district of Headingly, Ma.

Ring frauds are announced from Chicago, where it is said the members of the City Council have been blackmailing those appointed to Corporation offices.

The expected denial of the truth of the New York Herald's story respecting the grand plan for the impeachment of President Grant has promptly followed the caud.

Apparently authentic accounts state that Mr. Fish actually placed his resignation in the hands of President Grant, but was induced to withdraw it by the urgent representations of a large number of leading American politicians.

Diseases such as Consumption, Bronchitis, Debility from Typhoid and other Low Fevers, from excessive grief, study, or close confinement, and prostration of the vital powers, yield to Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites sooner than any remedy ever before discovered.

The friendly sentiments towards Germany recently expressed by the Czar have caused a small stir in Waterland, where the utterances are considered as guarantees for a continuance of peace in Europe, and as an evidence that designs, attributed to France, of securing the aid of Russia in revenging Sadowa, have not been successful.

A harbour master's ring has been discovered in New York, and exposed by the shipowners. Some members of this ring are charged with extorting money from ship captains ranging in amounts from $50,000 to $200,000.

It is estimated that the great trunk lines of railways carried last year 3,000,000 tons of Western produce to the Atlantic markets, valued at $4,000,000.

The revolution in Mexico is becoming formidable. Saltillo, with all the Government troops, arms and ammunition, has surrendered without conditions.

President Grant's Message has stirred up the grave Spaniards to unwonted excitement. The references to Cuba and its difficulties have only confirmed the Government in its determination to retain this brightest gem of the Spanish crown.

Correspondence.

NOMINATION TO COME OF AT UNIONVILLE ON MONDAY NEXT.

Sir:—The following is said to be the programme of proceedings on Monday next. The Reeve to be nominated by the Hon. "Sandy" Reesor, who has long retired from where the "Woodbine twine," who will say as follows: I have had the honor to have proposed Mr. Robinson annually for some years, and I have only to repeat what was said on these several occasions: he is a person whom you all know; has a term of sixteen years more to serve—the allotted term of clever men. His financial abilities are of the first order—clear, grasping and correct. His social qualities are of a free and genial nature. His talents as a speaker are of the most brilliant order. His engineering faculties are unequalled—he no sooner sees any engineering skill displayed than he is able, with his touring mind, to be able at once; especially was such the case when he saw the model of a Bow-bridge, and when occasion required a bridge, it was built upon the Bow principle. He is like the young ladies, for you know, gentlemen, they are fond of "Bows." (At this tremendous joke the floor almost gave way, and some took "something" to revive them.)

The Lieut. "Kernel" went on to say that bridges were a great thing—there was De Burg corrupted into Brydges of the Grand Trunk R. R., London Bridge, Victoria Bridge, Suspension Bridge, bridges flat, bridges narrow, on Yonge Street, when Mr. Robinson was County Commissioner—Log Bridges, Tabular Bridges, Bridges on the curve, "Bridge of Sighs" of Lord Byron, and several other bridges notorious in history, but the Bridge that can knock all other bridges to where John A. ought to be, for not giving me an office in his government when I coaxed him, is the Bridge of Bows, on lot No. 4, 10th Con. Markham. It is bowed both ways like the ancient Bows. Gentlemen, I can say nothing more, only I think that Sagittarius Robinson, who is to represent us for sixteen years more, ought not to be opposed by anybody—I will go far, ther, I here throw down my gauntlet and dare any man to run against him. The Lieut. "Kernel" sat do quite exhausted.

He was seconded by Captain Bell Klappor, who said he dedent know anything about speaking, but he believed every word that fell from the mouner. Several gentlemen are to be nominated for Deputy Reeves and Councilmen, very likely the old lot with the exception of Padget, who, I believe, returns. H. C. Marr is to be one for Deputy Reeve, and Jesse Reesor for the Council, and it may be, Col. Button and half a dozen more. But by Deputy Reeves here, and Councilmen there, the whole interest of the nomination is centred in the Bow Bridge Reeve, who, on rising to his feet, was greeted with overwhelming applause—enough to fairly frighten any man who ever thought of opposing him, will say:

"Gentlemen—I am not going for to say much, but for to the point. I have been your Reeve for four years and sixteen more to run. I have served you faithfully in everything I undertook, and whatever failed to come up to public expectation, I always managed to shirk the responsibility on some one else's shoulders, which you all will allow is very convenient for me to do; and when I make a second mistake in doing that I get my honorable mover to help me, for you must understand we run in pairs. He is always very kind to nominate me, and once—only once—did he play truant to his trust, and that was last year, and then I thought it was all day with me; but, thanks to the Hay Sling, it came out all right; the victims were not able or had not courage enough to fasten the swindle on me. I was elected and the twenty years chain of Reevship was unbroken. This last year has been pregnant with some very momentous events. Elections came off last spring and I was not brought out by my friends on both sides, which you know I could have well represented. I thought I certainly should have been brought out as I had a great many friends on both sides of the fence, but I attribute it to an error of their heads and not of their hearts—but enough in this strain—Municipal matters are at a stand still, with the exception of Bow Bridge, so very kindly alluded to by "Kernel" Reesor. I was always considered clever on Bridges, in fact it was my fate. The Bow Bridge on Lot No. 4, 10th Concession, spoken of, is certainly a monument of my engineering skill. I employed the inventor of the Bow model which cost the Township $50,000, and another person to act as commissioner, and the job was splendidly done; it is so narrow that two teams cannot pass—a wise provision to prevent collisions in the dark—the Bow part of the bridge not being able to hold the weight of two teams. The dirt work approaches were finished as another specimen of engineering skill; it goes for to show that the contractor ain't going to get his money for doing the job. The mover and myself know exactly what it is worth, and not one cent more. The job is worth about what is charged, but ain't a going to allow the township to pay it without a suit at law. The suit is going on now, and I intend contesting it to the bitter end. The matter could be settled without much trouble, but as the township has had no law suit since my mover ceased to represent this ward, I determined to have a couple hundred dollars spent in law costs. I want something for the people to talk about, and to cost them something too; what is a luxury without expense? I answer, nothing. The lawyers must live and I don't see why some of your money should not go towards it. I am not much in the habit of making long speeches, but I may add that already the costs on the Bow Bridge amounts to fifty dollars, with two hundred more to follow. I hold it is better to spend this than settle in a fair and honorable way, supposing you should give five dollars too much for the job. I am quite satisfied you will believe this; I don't speak as a private individual, but as your Reeve; I have no doubt you will believe it. Markham Village talks about incorporation, but unless I can see it will not interfere with my twenty years reign I ain't going to allow it. I have got something to do with that little game. I run a tannery with one man and a bull dog in Markham Village. Laying all "goaks" aside, I tell you candidly that I am the only fit man to represent you in the county council; supposing I obstruct business occasionally, it saves a great deal of money altho' the cost will be heavier afterwards. Gentlemen, I am done. He was done. other speakers will follow—Messrs. Lane, Eakin, Marr, and fifteen others; Mr. L. in his usual happy way, said he does not know whether he voted against his conscience last year or not; however, he will promise to faithfully discharge his duty; Mr. E. does ditto; Mr. M. does ditto, and the fifteen others ditto. Upon the whole, everything is to pass off quietly, and a quarter of a mile to go for drinks and cigars. Before going to drinks and cigars, each candidate will sing a song or tell a story.

Reeve will sing, "Carry me gently over the Bow, Bow Bridge." 1st Deputy Reeve will tell a funny story interspersed with a song. 2nd Deputy Reeve, ditto ditto 3rd Deputy Reeve, song, "Oh, how I would like to sit at the Markham Council Board." 1st Councilman, song, "Oh, carry me back where once I was." 2nd Councilman, music on the fiddle. 3rd Councilman, candidates' jig in imitation of the Can-Can. The other fifteen, song, "Were jolly good fellows." Fetter will have nuts at five cents a glass.
